Vol. XLIX. TUESDAY MORNING, MARCH 18, 1930. C DAILY, FIVE CENTS

LIFE TRACED BY DOHENY

Co-Male Skinner Chuckles as He Recalls His Past in Days of Wild West

He Also Testifies About $100,000 Loan Tendered to Oil Man's Old Friend

WASHINGTON, March 17. (AP)—Upon the jury which will be called to decide whether he is a briber, Edward L. Doheny looked back over a seventy-three years of life today as he recalled adventurous episodes and described as a loan that $100,000 transaction between him and Albert B. Fall in 1921 through which a government charges he corrupted the former Secretary of the Interior.

The wealthy oil man, whose hair is now whitened by the years, sat directly to the nine men and three women in the jury box. He was still on the stand when the session adjourned.

His appearance climaxed a day of direct testimony intended to show that the Navy Department wanted the Pearl Harbor (Hawaii) drydock plant which resulted in lease of the Elk Hills reserve to the Doheny company. The government contention that Doheny bribed Fall for the Elk Hills lease. Tomorrow government counsel will attack the story of the $100,000 "loan" in cross-examination.

EYES TWINKLE

Doheny was calm and self-possessed on the stand, answering questions in a low voice. Frequently he smiled broadly and his eyes twinkled as he told of his earlier experiences in life and of his friendship in the pioneer days in the West.

His examination proceeded rapidly and he would interrupt his counsel to explain more fully some of the incidents of his early life. He related how he had been book keeper, long waller and mule skinner in Kansas and New Mexico.

He chuckled when he told how he had been arrested in 1887. He explained that he was unable to obtain money on his property and that he had foreclosed on him "because of my aggressiveness to William Jennings Bryan."

He told of his belief Mr. Bryan's money and that the bank opposed Bryan and took over his business because of that. His eyes twinkled again as he told of winning another fortune from the oil fields of Mexico and California.

Having he had known Fall since the multimillionaire aided Fall became a member of the Harding Cabinet, the government counsel told him he intended to go into only one year and try to keep it during.

Doheny said Fall told him that his use of public service had de-

Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, March 17.—[To the Editor of The Times:] This is a great country at that. We used to think that "prosperity" was a "condition." Now we find that it is a "commodity." Mr. Hoover has ordered it to be delivered to us in sixty days same as you would order a sack of flour or a side of bacon. If "good times" is not laying on our doorstep May 15, 1930, we can sue the Republican party, get judgment against 'em, along with 123 previous judgments we held against the same corporation.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

TARIFF PLEA REJECTED

Leather Group Given Jolt

Senate Votes Second Time to Keep Hides and Shoes on Free List

Two Amendments Defeated; Fight Slated to Continue in Conference

WASHINGTON, March 17. (AP)—Advocates of tariff protection for the hide, leather and shoe industries were given another jolt today in the Senate, which voted for the second time to retain all three commodities on the free list, where they have been for seventeen years.

The decision was reached without a record vote after two amendments, providing for rates widely at variance with those in the House bill, were rejected.

One of the proposals offered as a compromise by Senator Oddie, Republican, Nevada, was turned down, 42 to 37. The other, proposed by Senator Walsh, Democrat, Massachusetts, was defeated, 40 to 30.

FIGHT TO CONTINUE

The fight for a tariff will be continued when the bill goes to conference between the two houses, but with the Senate twice on record for retention of all three commodities on the free list in preference to the House rates and all others thus far

SOLACE FOR SITE LOSER

Goodyear Wants Blimp Base

BY ROBERT B. ARMSTRONG
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 17. (Exclusive)—The House Naval Affairs Committee, charged with selecting a naval airship base at either Camp Kearny, near San Diego, or at Sunnyvale, near San Francisco, will make an exhaustive personal investigation of the sites offered early in June, Chairman Britten stated today.

As a possible solution to the airbase controversy now raging between Northern and Southern California, Chairman Britten said, he believed whichever site the committee rejected will be purchased by the Goodyear-Zeppelin Company as a base for its proposed passenger service Zeppelins operating between the Coast and the Hawaiian Islands.

CONSOLATION PRIZE

Such a purchase, the chairman said, will give the passenger line the benefits of the best advice of the navy experts on lighter-than-air craft bases, as the two sites are without doubt the best on the entire Pacific Coast. Moreover, hangars large enough to house the two navy dirigibles now under construction will be built at both sites and in time of national emergency the passenger ships will be turned over to the Navy, making the second site, in effect, an additional naval-air base.

"Recent fleet maneuvers at Guantanamo show conclusively the importance of aerial scouting such as would be carried on by the Zeppelins," Mr. Britten said. "It is imperative that these lighter-than-air craft work with the fleet, according to lessons learned in the recent mimic warfare in the Caribbean."

HEAR NEWS FIRST

Before the committee leaves for the Coast it will call before it Rear-Admiral Moffett, chief of navy aviation, who favors the northern site; Secretary of the Navy Adams, who has recommended the Camp Kearny site, and Assistant Secretary of the Navy Jahnecke, who has said that either site will be acceptable, to explain their divergent views.

Secretary Adams made his recommendation that the Camp Kearny site be selected on the basis of a report of the General Board of the Navy. These recommendations were founded on the superior position of San Diego from a strategic standpoint, according to the General Board's report.

Admiral Moffett believes the Sunnyvale site in the north is superior and adherents of the northern site consider his testimony as the head of a special investigating board which covered the west coast first hand in search of a site as carrying the greater weight.

"NAVAL POLITICS"

No action will be taken by the House committee until Secretary Adams and Admiral Moffett return from the naval conference at London. In the meantime, the Sunnyvale contingent has been somewhat alarmed by the resignation of Lieut. Al Williams, navy ace and pilot for Admiral Moffett. In many quarters in Washington Williams's resignation, forced from him when he was ordered to sea duty, is considered the opening gun of a campaign to "get" Admiral Moffett. If this asserted campaign is successful and the head of the navy air service is forced to retire or ordered to another post the Sunnyvale claim will be considered weakened.

Not only will the committee personally check the air base sites but it will "investigate everything investigatable" during its trip to the Coast, including San Pedro Harbor, San Diego naval base and Mare Island naval station. It is Chairman Britten's hope that the committee, including Representative Evans of Glendale, will be able to go into all of the naval needs and problems of the Pacific Coast.

Fines for Two in Film Studio Death Blaze

NEW YORK, March 17. (AP)—John C. Flinn, vice-president, and Henry F. Lally, manager, of the Pathe film studio in which ten persons were burned to death last December, were fined $500 each today for violating a city ordinance prohibiting the storing of more than 5000 feet of motion-picture film in the studio without a permit.

NATION'S SUPREME TRIBUNAL RECESSES

WASHINGTON, March 17. (AP)—The Supreme Court today took a recess until April 14, next. At that time it will continue for several weeks and for the final time this term resume the oral argument of cases. It will adjourn early in June. Most of May will be devoted to the preparation of opinions in cases awaiting decision.

DORAN ASKS PARALYTIC DRINK QUIZ

Dixie Agents Ordered to Obtain Jamaica Ginger Samples for Inquiry

WASHINGTON, March 17. (AP)—Prohibition administrators of several States today were asked by Prohibition Commissioner Doran to obtain samples of the Jamaica ginger which is reported to have caused paralysis to a number of drinkers in southern States.

An investigation of the paralysis cases also was ordered by Doran to determine whether the situation is cause for action by the Prohibition Bureau.

Jamaica ginger, Doran said, normally is made with pure alcohol containing no denaturants. The paralytic affliction could be caused easily by drinking an alcohol known as isropropyl. This product, somewhat resembling wood alcohol, is produced synthetically, he said, and while not a beverage, is used at times as a flavoring. Chemists of the Prohibition Bureau plan to examine samples of the ginger to determine if it contained the isopropyl.

He expects to make another attempt tomorrow.

Mrs. Back, 37 years of age, claims the record, with six children in eleven months.

Detroit River Liquor Dealers Expect Export Ban to be Passed

DETROIT, March 17. (AP)—The Detroit News today said that liquor exporters along the Detroit River are preparing to close their docks and abandon the business which has flourished for seven years.

Confident that the bill introduced at Ottawa by Premier King prohibiting export of alcoholic beverages to the United States and other countries with prohibition laws will become a law and make clearances impossible after May 24, they are getting an early start in order not to have stocks on hand which could not be disposed of, the paper said.

It is reported in Windsor and other border cities that an additional thirty days may be granted the exporters in which to close up their business.

STRIKE ON LINER PARIS ENDS AND SAILING SET

PARIS, March 17. (AP)—Announcement was made today that the steamship Paris, which has been tied up for several days because of a strike of her crew, will sail for New York on April 2. The strike was settled today.

EDISON HAS HIGH HOPES FOR RUBBER

He Doesn't Expect to Live 100 Years, But Thinks He Will Succeed in Plans

FORT MYERS (Fla.) March 17. (AP)—Thomas A. Edison does not expect to live to be 100 years of age, but does expect to stay in the harness of busy life until machinery has been completed for production of emergency rubber from golden rod. The golden rod soon will be planted on a large scale at the Henry Ford plantation near Savannah, Ga.

The 83-year-old inventor said today he expects to continue working an average of fourteen hours a day until his latest and "toughest" problem is solved.

"Give me five more years and the United States will have a rubber crop which can be utilized in less than twelve months' time," said Mr. Edison. He added that he guards his health by strict diet and protection from inclement weather. He will remain in Florida until about June 15.

Commenting further on his health, Mr. Edison said he is living on a milk diet and at present is sleeping about seven hours a day.

"When I was a baby," he said, "I lived on milk and didn't like it. Now, I have gone back to milk again. That's funny."

Although Mr. Edison does little of the actual labor in his laboratory now, he inspects his golden rod daily and can furnish his staff enough ideas in an hour to keep the assistants busy for a week.

DENVER, March 17. (AP)—White was fashionable color for St. Patrick's Day in Colorado and most all other Rocky Mountain States today. The weather man decreed it.

A wet early spring snowstorm that blew up after midnight continued sporadically today and took new interest in its work late in the afternoon. Tonight Colorado is generally covered with an inch or two of snow and the fall is continuing.

ARSON RING UNCOVERED

Arrest of Incendiary Said to Have Revealed Frauds in Insurance Totaling $1,000,000

NEW YORK, March 17. (AP)—Existence of an arson ring whose work has resulted in fraudulent insurance claims which may reach $1,000,000 was said by Charles H. Tuttle, United States Attorney, today to have been uncovered with the arrest of Joseph Eisenstein, confessed professional incendiary.

Thirteen persons definitely have been linked with the ring among whom are merchants who employed members of the ring to burn their establishments so they could collect fire insurance on goods which had been removed previous to the fire.

Tuttle said he had a number of confessions from merchants who employed the racketeers and he was checking up on information that the racket extended to several eastern cities.

Tuttle said the original estimate of $500,000 fraudulently collected from fire-insurance companies would have to be revised upward and that it may reach $1,000,000.

Eisenstein, arraigned today on two charges of second-degree arson, was said by Fire Marshal Thomas P. Brophy to have admitted setting fire to a loft in West Twenty-seventh street occupied by Louis Dachis, furrier, for which Dachis had paid him $750 and promised him $2250 more. Dachis is now under indictment on charges growing out of the burning of his establishment.

Hyman Lerner and Benjamin Greenberg, furriers, who, Eisenstein said, hired him to fire their shop, were held by United States Commissioner Garrett W. Cotter on $2000 bail each today on charges of using the mails to defraud. They will be tried in Federal Court on those charges, because there is no Federal law covering arson.

Restriction Put on Glider Tows

WASHINGTON, March 17. (AP)—Towing of aircraft by other planes was prohibited today by the Department of Commerce as a result of the deaths in recent months of two glider pilots.

Clarence M. Young, Secretary of Commerce for Aeronautics, said exception will be made only when proof is presented the glider is structurally sound and its pilot an experienced airman.

Salt River Bond Issue Held Valid

SAN FRANCISCO, March 17. (AP) Legality of a proposed $5,100,000 bond issue by the Salt River Valley Water Users' Association, Inc., to finance the building of Stewart Mountain Dam in Arizona was upheld here today by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals.

The appeal was brought by more than sixty Arizona landowners to enjoin the sale of bonds.

WICKERSHAM OPTIMISTIC ON DRY LAW ENFORCING

Tells Senate Committee Prohibition Has Made Steady Improvement; Belittles Light Beer Plan

WASHINGTON, March 17. (AP)—Speaking up after eight months' study of the dry law and its workings Chairman Wickersham of the Hoover Law Enforcement Commission, reported today a "steady improvement" in prohibition and belittled the proposal for 2.75 per cent beer as failing to meet "robust tastes."

The commission chairman halted his wearisome examination into the problems of enforcing America's laws to speak freely to the Senate Judiciary Committee in executive session and then to newspaper men.

His optimistic view of enforcement is believed to have darkened the prospects for a Senate investigation of the situation, as proposed by Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska. The Nebraskan said after the session with Mr. Wickersham, however, that he still sees "plenty of room for improvement." He announced he will call up his resolution next Monday for a vote.

OPINION ON BEER

Smiling broadly, Mr. Wickersham expressed his opinions in response to questioning by newspaper men. Asked what he thought about bills for 2.75 beer, he said simply, "I don't think that beer will satisfy the robust tastes." He made no amplification and declined to go into any discussion of the merits of this proposed legislation. It became known, however, that the Law Enforcement Commission has requested Representative Dyer, Republican, Missouri, to furnish additional data on the views of industrial employers relating to his proposal for 2.75 per cent beer.

Dyer said he was informed the commission is giving his suggestion serious consideration. He sent it a digest of reports he has received from various industrial leaders since his appearance before the commission last week to urge a study of the feasibility of 2.75 per cent beer.

REPORT PROMISED

Before the Judiciary Committee Mr. Wickersham promised to have another report from the commission and he believes it will give a comprehensive picture of prohibition conditions. He said it is outside the province of the commission to pass judgment on a Senate investigation but he advocated enactment of the prohibition transfer bill and proposed also legislation to tighten up the control over industrial alcohol. He advocated that users of this alcohol be required to submit reports on the ultimate consumption of the product.

Asked if the prohibition law is, or could be, enforced, Mr. Wickersham said it is not being enforced 100 per cent, but he quickly added that one of his "most competent investigators" had told him the law is being enforced "better than any other Federal law."

IMPROVEMENT EXPLAINED

He emphasized before the committee the improvement which he believes has occurred in prohibition conditions during the last year. This he attributed to the placing of dry agents under civil service, "to increasing vigilance on the part of officers, greater attention on the part of the administration and to a general perfection in methods growing out of experience."

The commission has a great deal of work ahead and he believes it will require another year to complete its task. There are now twenty-six volumes of reports from investigators on prohibition before it still to be digested.

Contrary to previous reports, Mr. Wickersham said it is entirely up to the commission whether it will pass judgment on the merits of the dry law. Asked if there are disagreements within the commission, he said only "the natural, healthful disagreements" which would exist in such an organization.

FINDS NO CORRUPTION

As for corruption in the prohibition service, the chairman said he was not able to prove any. He added:

"I hear a lot of reports about corruption, but when I go to put my hand on it I usually find out it is something that happened last year when someone else was on the job."

Wickersham told the committee the commission did not want to recommend either for or against a Senate investigation. He said afterward that "what has been done by us seems sufficient to develop the line of improvement in prohibition enforcement, and we have recommended the prohibition transfer bill to help carry that out."

"The pending legislation," he add-

ROAD PARTY AT BORDER

Rain Forces Halt at Nogales

Torrential Storms Reduce Historic Highways to Rivers of Mud

Scouts Travel Route Rich in Romance More Than Century Ago

BY HARRY CARR
"Times" Staff Representative

NOGALES (Ariz.) March 17. (Exclusive)—The expedition sent by the Automobile Club of Southern California to blaze a trail for the Vancouver-to-Buenos Aires highway has arrived at the gateway to Mexico. On one side of a chicken-wire fence is a little American border city with Rotary clubs, fan magazines and real estate subdivisions. On the other side of the chicken wire is inscrutable, mysterious, changeless Mexico, looking out from under its rebozos with melancholy eyes.

Each in its own way realizes that the opening of this projected highway will be the opening of a new era for the Western Hemisphere. Since early Saturday morning we have been fighting our way through torrential storms that seemed staged to emphasize the need of decent roads. We have been rained on in brisk new western desert cities, on age-old trails and along highways made of mud-stained soup.

It is an interesting phase of the trip that these scouts planning the newest trade route of the world should have traveled over the oldest roads on the American continent. All the way we have ridden with ghosts, the ghosts of old brown-robed Spanish padres, of Spanish soldiers, the ghosts of emigrant covered wagons and of old four-horse stages.

GUESTS OF GOV. TAPIA

We skidded over the mountains from San Diego through a blinding sleet blizzard to Mexicali, arriving at 11 p.m., to keep a 6 o'clock dinner engagement with Gov. Tapia. The officers of his staff would have given a shock to a public who, fed on Pancho Villa stories, expect to find Mexican army officers in sombreros, white-cotton pants and sandals. They were all smartly uniformed, cultured, socially adroit and charming.

Col. Limon, the chief of the Governor's staff, and Col. Leyea, commandant of the garrison, presided over a colorful and attractive, if much-delayed, dinner.

In the small hours we pushed on through the sand hills where a century and more ago the gallant and chivalrous Juan Bautista De Anza led his little exploring party who were to found Monterey and San Francisco, driving the eighteen head of cattle which were to grow into the great herds that were to feed on 1000 hills of California.

We went to bed at 4 a.m. in Yuma and met ourselves crawling sleepily out at 8 to take the trail again.

The road from Yuma runs out through Telegraph Canyon and was undoubtedly the trail over which the brave Father Garcias plodded his way to found the mission on the banks of the Colorado, there to be clubbed to death by Indians whom he had come to convert.

This is beginning of the cactus country, the tiger clay and the sahuaro and ocotillo standing against the desert hills which were turning to green under the drizzle of rain. The long, jagged fairyland

MANY PERISH IN SHIP FIRE

More Than Score of Passengers and All But Two of Crew Die in Colombia Catastrophe

BOGOTA (Colombia) March 17. (AP)—More than a score of passengers and most of the crew of the river steamer Bucaramanga lost their lives today when the boat's cargo of petroleum caught fire in dock at La Dorada on the Magdalena River. The ship was destroyed. Only ten of a passenger list thought to number more than thirty were rescued. Most of the crew, including Capt. Antonio Velez, perished.

Others steamers in La Dorada Harbor stood helplessly by, afraid to come to the rescue because of the explosive nature of the Bucaramanga's cargo. Everyone but the night watch and a few of the crew was asleep when flames suddenly burst out on the boat. Trapped in their beds, men and women became panic-stricken and trampled each other to reach the decks, those who succeeded leaped into the river, only to find themselves in the midst of another blaze, the flames having spread to oil flowing in the water.

Others tried to squeeze through portholes while the fire, fed by the bursting barrels of oil mounted higher.

Capt. Velez, one of the first to reach deck, tried to get the lifeboats lowered away. When he saw that it was impossible to save his boat, he courageously refused to leave it and was burned to death.

The ten who were saved received first aid for their burns at a near-by hospital.

The fire, at first believed to have been incendiary, now is thought to have resulted from the carelessness of a fireman.

La Dorada is a small port about 450 miles upstream from the mouth of the Magdalena.

ANGLO-SAXON ALLIANCE BASIS FOR WORLD PEACE

Let America and Britain Start Federation and Others Will Follow, Says Writer

(This is the third of four articles presenting a plan to end all war.)

BY H. G. WELLS

(Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance in the United States and Canada. Copyright in Great Britain by Daily Herald. Quotations forbidden.)

LONDON, March 17. (Exclusive)—In two previous articles I have pointed out that the peace of the world can for the present be secured quite effectively by a permanent unified alliance, that is to say a federation, of only four great states in the world, speaking in all three languages. Such a federation would secure the peace forthwith, and as I will now point out it would lead very rapidly to a practical and finally to a formal federation of all mankind.

I have already shown how entirely reasonable and practicable a suggestion the first step is. It would be unnecessary to drag in any other states to begin with, to make this federation effective. There would be nothing on earth outside it that could prevent it or withstand it.

OTHERS WILL FOLLOW

And from the very outset it would find a number of other high-civilised states, all the highly civilized North European states for example, prepared to welcome it and co-operate with it.

It was one of the fundamental errors in the planning of the League of Nations that it aspired to be a comprehensive league—and left out Russia. It was conceived by a legal, rather than a statesman-like mentality. It was presented to countries quite incapable of understanding its aims or entering into its spirit.

The superstitious reverence for a sovereign state, any sort of sovereign state, as something sovereign and divine, ruled its maker's mind. It might be called the League to Preserve the Separate Sovereignty of All Existing Nations Forever. It was a sort of constitution for a patchwork world.

TWO MIGHT BEGIN

The framers of its covenant were manifestly haunted by the idea that before any new step toward world synthesis was taken, Abyssinia ought to be asked. Brave little Abyssinia. I see no need to ask Abyssinia. I see no need to ask any sovereign power on earth except the great groups of people I have already named in a previous paper. They are the main mass of mankind. Let four or five of them begin.

Indeed, even two might begin, the two English-speaking systems. But before they had even begun mere realization that they were presently beginning would inevitably bring in the two or three other powers needed for a complete peace ascendancy.

At first there might be a great outcry—in France particularly—against a conspiracy to establish Anglo-Saxon world dominion. It would be represented as a proposed subjugation of the world to Anglo-Saxon ideas. We who have so few ideas!

ARMS BASIS RESTRICTED

Then, after that storm had blown itself out, the fundamental common sense of France would assert itself. There would probably be much less suspicion and resistance in Germany, and that would help the traditional realism of the French to face the new situation.

No doubt the first conferences would sit down to a problem with many tremendous side issues and innumerable intricate corners. The dodging and haggling traditions of the old diplomacy would be difficult to eradicate. Time after time these opening conferences would quarrel, despair, break up and reassemble. But they would be handling a problem leading to a comprehensible, real and final objective. They would be going somewhere.

It would no longer be one of the restricted conditional problems—of disarmament, of indebtedness and the like which rest on fictions and reservations, and have "ifs" and "ands" that recede in all directions toward a menacing darkness of disregarded possibilities.

WORK OUTLINED

And all the more reason is there in these inevitable complications and stresses for the restriction of the first attempt to federate to two or to a few powers.

By the time that Britain and the United States—if at first only these two could be brought together—had worried out the broad lines of a federation agreement, more than half the work needed to incorporate France or Germany or any other power considered to be a possible partner would have been done.

the pattern of the over-riding council would have been outlined, the amount of co-operation and fusion of the foreign offices, diplomatic and consular sources needed, the etxent to which the armed forces could be unified; the scheme for a common control of trade and traffic, the need of an interchangeable citizenship, the progressive diminution of tariff restrictions, the amount of unification of the monetary and credit systems that may be desirable.

These are immense tasks but they are neither innately impossible nor overwhelmingly monstrous. They will be vastly easier to do at first as between two powers than among three, and among three than four. Liberia and Abyssinia and Monaco and all that brave little band can very well wait until the finished work reaches and envelopes them.

START OVERDUE

I am arguing here not simply for federation but for progressive federation leading finally to a federal supergovernment for all the world as the only way to a real world peace. If you talk about world peace and will not face that way you are talking rubbish. And this process involves gradual suppression, bit by bit, throughout the earth, of independent sovereignty.

This is a road upon which we ought to be starting now. The start is overdue. The continual refusal of our leaders, statesmen and politicians to face the first uphill initiatives of this road is exposing the world not only to the gathering threat of another great war, but to an infinite waste of human resources in bickering tariffs and an entangled and wasteful economic life.

I know this much of cosmopolitanism is, as yet, a minority opinion among those who talk of peace and seek to secure it. I know I argue against the prepossessions of much progressive thought. There are a great number of people who still hold that there can be world peace in a league of perfectly independent sovereign states.

That is what they tell me at Geneva. They have told me that for ten years, but they say it now with less conviction than they did. It was all to be beautifully simple. The league was to gather together all the nations of the earth and they were to give their collective authorization to the development of a world secretariat and to a series of agreements for international co-operation in this matter, and in that matter, until at last every matter of world interest and every possible source of international conflict would be under these delegated world controls.

Then would come a day when it would be realised that there was no more need for armies and navies, except for ceremonial purposes. The International Court would assemble and white gloves would be presented to the presiding jurists. And amid universal rejoicings all the nations would salute the flags of all the nations and there would be processions of national costumes and parade of troops—carefully disposed in line to avoid as far as possible delicate questions of precedence.

FIELD MEET VISIONED

Somebody would compose a beautiful piece of music for massed bands, interweaving all the national anthems. Olympic sports with chivalrous cheers for the other nations all the time, and a pattern of white, black, yellow and brown Boy Scouts waving olive branches would crown the proceedings.

I am afraid I am too much of a realist for such dreams. I do not believe in internationalism; I believe in world federation, that is to say, in cosmopolitanism. The day of nationalism and its correlative internationalism is drawing to its end. We do not want to deal in nations any more. We want new forms. Nations are and always have been militant forms.

There will be no secure peace on earth until flags, military uniforms, boundary posts, customhouses and all the symbols of sovereign independence have followed bows and arrows, armor, chains, fetters, instruments of torture and such ancient methods of dealing between man and man into the museum of superseded things.

HUGHES-HOLMES RACE IN SIGHT

Justices Expected to Have Contest on Number of Opinions Prepared

WASHINGTON, March 17. (AP)—Chief Justice Hughes and Justice Holmes, who recently celebrated his eighty-ninth birthday, promise to present an interesting contest in the Supreme Court for the honor of preparing the most opinions.

Justice Holmes has long been considered good for at least one decision on each opinion day. Chief Justice Hughes, since he resumed a seat on the bench, has kept pace with his friend. Each handed down one decision today, the only opinions presented.

offered it is conceded the conferees have a difficult if not impossible task ahead of them.

Compared with the House rates, the Oddie amendment would have provided much higher duties on hides and lower tariffs on leathers and all shoes except women's of the McKay type of manufacture, which would have been a higher levy.

WALSH'S PROPOSAL

Walsh's proposal, contrasted with the House scale, would have left hides free, provided lower duties on leathers and shoes, and given a higher differential on women's shoes which were conceded to be the only types imported that are causing concern to domestic manufacturers.

Thirty Republicans and seven Democrats voted for the Oddie scale, while eighteen Republicans and twenty-four Democrats opposed it.

Walsh was the only Democrat to vote for his amendment, which gained nineteen Republican votes. Twenty-two Democrats and eighteen Republicans voted against it.

"White Cargo" Actress Sues

SAN FRANCISCO, March 17. (AP) Edith Ransom, former star of "White Cargo," in which she appeared as Tondeleyo five years ago, filed suit for $150,000 in Superior Court here today against the Actors' Equity Association and Attorney Theodore Hale.

The complaint asserts she was ousted from the play through the underhand methods of Hale, who, she says, conspired with Richard Tucker, actor, to "interfere with her." As a consequence, she says, Hale paid no attention to her complaint that she was being abused while working under contract in "White Cargo."

DOHENY TRACES HIS EARLY LIFE

Deal With Fall Described as Aid to Old Friend

pleted his fortune and he was planning to borrow $100,000 from Edward B. McLean, a Washington publisher, to purchase a ranch next to his New Mexico home to protect his water rights.

Questioned by his counsel, Frank J. Hogan, the oil man said that he told Fall he would be glad to let him have the money and that the Cabinet officer had declined it. He said Fall later telephoned him for the money and that he sent it to him in cash on November 30, 1921.

Prior to Doheny's appearance on the witness stand, his wife told of the "loan." She said her husband tore the signature from the note to prevent Fall being embarrassed through the unexpected call to pay the demand note, in case of his (Doheny's) death.

She told of taking the note to Los Angeles and putting it in a safe-deposit box and added it was misplaced and not found until after Doheny had testified before the Senate oil committee. She produced the signature, which was shown the jury. She also identified the remainder of the note.

Mrs. Doheny, attired in a lilac coat and hat, answered questions in a calm voice.

MINISTERS HEARD

Four ministers testified that Doheny had a high reputation as a "man of integrity and honor." They are Rev. George Davidson, Episcopal minister, Rev. J. Whitcomb Brougher, Baptist pastor; Bishop John J. Cantwell of the Catholic church and Rev. George F. Bovard, president emeritus of the University of Southern California.

In addition, Dr. Davidson and Mr. Brougher said that the defendant was known as a man of outstanding patriotism. A part of Doheny's defense has been that he bid on the oil leases through patriotic motives.

Edward J. Henning, former United States District Judge of Southern California, said he has known Doheny for many years and that his reputation for honesty and integrity was good.

At the opening of the defense, Doheny's counsel called witnesses and introduced documents intended to show that the late Edwin Denby, as Secretary of the Navy, had ordered the execution of the contract with the Pan American company for construction of naval oil storage facilities at Pearl Harbor.

SECRETARY APPEARS

Joseph A. Carey, who was secretary to Denby, identified an opinion from the advocate-general of the Navy holding that it was legal to exchange royalty oil for construction of storage facilities. Across it was written "do this," and Carey testified that it was in the handwriting of Denby.

Rear-Admiral Luther E. Gregory, retired, testified that the Pearl Harbor contract originated in the Navy and that all plans for it were handled there.

The defense also introduced documents intended to show that Fall, as Secretary of the Interior, had told naval officials that he would not sign any contract or lease until they fully approved it.

Other documents were introduced intended to show that the Navy urged that Doheny's Pan-American Company be permitted to carry out the preferential clauses of the Pearl Harbor contract which gave it the right of drilling the Elk Hills naval oil reserve. This was said to be necessary because the navy needed additional fuel oil.

The defense has contended that Doheny's company once refused to consider the Pearl Harbor project and that it finally did so after Rear-Admiral J. K. Robison had told Doheny that a navy of a foreign power was in a position to threaten the west coast of the United States, unless the government could provide a fuel base in the Hawaiian Islands which would enable the United States Navy to prevent the alien fleet from reaching the coast.

Gano Dunn, president of the John G. White Engineering Company, testified he drew up the two bids on the Pearl Harbor project submitted by the Pan-American Company, and that J. J. Cotter, counsel for the company, gave him the plan with the preferential clause in it which finally was accepted. He testified that Cotter urged the government to accept the other bid, which did not contain a preferential clause.

WIFE TESTIFIES

The Navy again refused to turn over to the court confidential files bearing on the reports made to it concerning the supposed threat from a foreign navy. These files have been called for in previous trials, and the courts have not insisted on their being presented.

Counsel for the defense expect to conclude tomorrow or early Wednesday with Doheny's story of the contract and lease. The case may go to the jury Friday or Saturday.

FALL CONSIDERS GOING TO WASHINGTON

EL PASO (Tex.) March 17. (AP)—Albert B. Fall, former Secretary of the Interior, whose illness has prevented him from attending the Washington trial of his friend, Edward L. Doheny, said today if his health improves he may go to Washington before the close of the defense case.

"I may go to Washington merely as a spectator at the trial," Fall said today. "I have not been well for the past several days but if my health improves I may go to give my moral support to Mr. Doheny, who is a friend of many years' standing."

PILOT LEAPS WHEN CRAFT TAKES FIRE

Blaze Halts Sergievsky's Efforts to Set New Speed Record With Seaplane

FAIRFIELD (Ct.) March 17. (AP) Fire, believed to have started from a broken gas line, forced Capt. Boris Sergievsky to make an emergency landing in Long Island Sound today while attempting to set a new seaplane speed record over a 500-kilometer course.

Capt. Sergievsky leaped from the blazing ship as it struck the water, 300 feet from shore, and paddled until rescued by a motor boat. He was uninjured.

On the first two laps of 200 kilometers the plane's speed had been estimated at 133 miles an hour, twenty-two miles per hour better than the record held in Germany.

Landing in the shallow water, the plane settled down to its propeller hubs. Officials of the Sikorsky Aircraft Corporation said its two motors could be salvaged.

Capt. Sergievsky used the craft recently in setting new altitude records for 2000 and 1000-kilogram loads and a new speed mark over a 100-kilometer course carrying a 2000-kilogram load.

BYRD SETS SUNDAY AS SAILING DAY

DUNEDIN (N. Z.) March 18. (AP) (Tuesday)—Having definitely decided that the bark City of New York will sail homeward Sunday, Rear-Admiral Richard E. Byrd today recalled the members of his Antarctic expedition to their base here. Most of the expedition members have been vacationing in the mountains since their arrival from Antarctica last week.

After being painted and overhauled the bark came from the dry docks today and was berthed at Dunedin. All cargo will be unloaded and only provisions will be taken aboard for the trip back to New York via Tahiti and the Panama Canal.

Admiral Byrd said that the steamer Eleanor Bolling probably will not leave Dunedin until a week after the City of New York has sailed. He is perusing mail-steamer time tables with the object of mapping out his personal route but is indefinite as to his progress.

STURGIS QUITS JOB IN OAKLAND

Commissioner's Retirement Marks Scandal Inquiry

Resignation Letter Defends Taking of Attorney Fees

Indictment Against Lesser and Others Under Fire

OAKLAND, March 17. (Exclusive) E. K. Sturgis, Oakland Commissioner of Finance and Revenue, resigned today, the resignation "to take effect immediately."

Reports have persisted for several days that Sturgis would feel the displeasure of the Alameda county grand jury because of disclosures made by witnesses in the paving, gambling and bootlegging graft investigation.

Sheriff Becker already is out of office by virtue of pleading guilty to one count of an accusation returned against him. William H. Parker, another City Commissioner, is under indictment.

Sturgis's retirement came shortly after the grand jury resumed investigation into Oakland paving. It was in connection with paving projects that Sturgis admitted in his testimony that, while commissioner, he had taken attorney's fees for passing on the legality of the proceedings.

PRACTICE DEFENDED

Sturgis defended this practice, declaring "thousands of other public officials throughout the country are doing the same thing" and it is "not prohibited by law or ethics."

"My employment in each case," Sturgis said in his letter of resignation, "was without previous arrangement or agreement, either expressed or implied."

The commissioner's resignation was accepted at once and Dr. Charles R. Fancher, public health officer and city physician, was appointed to succeed him.

The indictment naming Harry Lesser, San Francisco contractor; his superintendent of construction, A. A. Horwege, and James Austin, concrete foreman, was attacked in a demurrer filed with Superior Judge Spence.

REFUSE TO TESTIFY

Five more grand jury witnesses refused to testify on the ground it might incriminate them, Miss Alice Beard, Lesser's secretary; Frank Shallue, Anson Blake and Philip Johns, contractors, and Glenn O'Brien, manager of the Central Paving Bureau, the so-called "trust."

George G. Jamieson, building material man, said the "combine" sold him crushed rock on the tacit understanding he was not to resell it for street work. He testified he gave $100 to Mayor Davie's campaign fund in 1927.

STORMS BLOCK PATH OF SCOUTS

of the Castle Dome Mountains loomed to the north and west, flaming in color when the sun came from behind the clouds, rainbow ends thrown against wild spired peaks that threatened the horizon.

For 150 miles we traveled over an unspeakably vile road. It had been topped with clay and was a continuous wash board. It joggled until your backbone groaned and was so slippery that the cars waltzed. We passed scores of cars that had slid over into the ditch. Gloomy-looking women were watching from the windows, irate men folk standing out by the wheels glaring helplessly at the predicament.

This road is exceedingly important to the military defense of the Pacific Coast. It seems astonishing that the War Department does not insist that it be made passable.

FREE CAR WASHING

Nightfall found us at Gila Bend, still trying to wade through roads that were like chowder. We got as far as the old frontier town of Casa Grande in the effort to keep a banquet date at Chandler. There we came to a stop. The Santa Cruz Wash was a roaring river. The Arizona highway department had mobilized a truck which was plunging into a stream and pulling the touring cars through. In a wan lantern light they would hook on at the embankment, take a nose dive into the boiling, muddy water which foamed around the headlights. The towed cars all seemed to have a pathetic appearance of futile protest. Finally, the truck itself mired.

We had to turn south for Tucson over roads so grease-slippery that fifteen miles an hour was reckless speed.

Tucson woke with a shock to find our fleet of tawny-colored scout cars in their midst and began furiously to organize banquets. One of these was made notable by a brilliant speech by Phil Townsend Hanna, editor of Touring Topics, the club magazine. Mr. Hanna called attention to the fact that every road we had traveled had first been a wild animal trail, then an Indian trail, an emigrant wagon track, a stage road, then a paved highway, that each new stage of the road's progress had meant an advance of civilization and so the building of this new highway means more than a road, it means the rising of a curtain on a new era.

HALT CALLED !

We left Tucson in a driving rainstorm and arrived at Nogales in a flurry of hail and drifting snowflakes.

It has been decided to wait here until the weather clears, as the roads below the line are impassable.

The merchants and business men on both sides of the line are arranging celebrations. They know better than any one else what this road will mean. A long train of empty freight cars just now crossing the international line in the rain is a hint of the significance of roads. It is rolling down the west coast to pick up the tomato crop of the prodigally rich farms of Sinaloa.

When we start across the line it will again be over roads of history. Father Tizi who came north with the negro slave Estavan; Father Kino, that brave lone explorer of a wild country; Coronado, in the search of the seven golden cities of Cibola, all passed through here.

They brought progress and enlightenment. This expedition will open a way to return the gift.

POOLED INCOME DECISION GIVEN

Supreme Court Announces Earl-Case Ruling

Right to Make Separate Returns Denied

Decree Said to Have No Bearing on 1930 Tax

WASHINGTON, March 17. (AP)—The Supreme Court held today that an agreement between man and wife pooling their property and income and providing that they should have equal rights in the property and income so pooled does not permit each to make a separate Federal tax return for one-half of the total compensation received by them for personal services.

The decision was in a case from California, which had been regarded as a test proceeding involving a much-debated principle.

Guy C. Earl, an attorney, in 1901 entered into an agreement with his wife, Ella F. Earl, to pool their property and income from all sources, with each retaining title to one-half. They opened a joint bank account, and observed the terms of the agreement. Earl depositing in it approximately $25,000 received in 1920 as salary, fees, etc., including income received as an officer of the Great Western Power Company, and approximately $23,000 received in 1921.

POOLED INCOME DECISION GIVEN

Supreme Court Announces Earl Case Ruling

Income Said to Have No Bearing on 1930 Tax

WASHINGTON, March 17. (AP)—The Supreme Court held today that an agreement between man and wife pooling their property and income and providing that they should have equal rights in the property and income so pooled does not permit each to make a separate Federal tax return for one-half of the total compensation received by them for personal services.

The decision was in a case from California, which had been regarded as a test proceeding involving a much-debated principle.

Frederick C. Earl, an attorney, in 1901 entered into an agreement with his wife, Ella F. Earl, to pool their property and income from all sources, each retaining title to one-half. They opened a joint bank account, and observed the terms of the agreement. Earl depositing in it approximately $25,000 received from fees, salary, fees, etc., including $10,000 received as an officer of the Great Western Power Company, and approximately $23,000 received in 1921.

Under the personal earnings of the husband as a joint property of the husband and the wife each made separate income tax returns covering one-half of the income received by the husband for his personal services.

The government contended that should such agreements be sanctioned the purpose of Congress in imposing the income tax would be materially defeated. The Circuit Court of Appeals held against the contentions of the government, however, and sustained the agreement.

RULING HAS NO BEARING ON 1930 TAX RETURNS

Officials of the Los Angeles income tax bureau of the United States Internal Revenue Office yesterday declared that the ruling of the Supreme Court in Washington involving the validity of separate income tax returns by husband and wife based on a community property contract has no bearing on tax returns for 1930. The Earl decision, they said, was made on returns filed during 1920 and 1921.

Residents of California, the officials said, are now permitted to file separate returns under the provisions of an amendment to the California Civil Code, effective July 29, 1927. This amendment defines the status of community property and will govern the assessment of Federal income taxes from community property until a test case now pending in the courts has been decided.

RICHEST WOMAN "PAUPER"

Widow of Henry Flagler, With $16,000,000 in Bank, Suffers Delusions of Poverty

NEW YORK, March 17. (Exclusive)—Mrs. Ida M. Flagler, the 81-year-old widow of Henry M. Flagler, Standard Oil pioneer and Florida railroad builder, was revealed today as the richest woman in her own right in the world. The annual report of the committee in charge of her property filed in Supreme Court, disclosed that January 1, last, her gross estate was valued at $16,094,097.41, with the net fixed at $15,247,925.76.

Mrs. Flagler is an inmate of Dr. Charles W. Pilgrim's sanatorium at Central Valley, N. Y., where she suffers under the delusion that a few shares of Standard Oil stock her husband gave her in 1898 are worthless.

The accounting filed by the committee and approved by Supreme Court Justice Townley shows those same stocks, worth less than $1,000,000 in 1899, when she was declared incompetent, alone have made possible the amassing of her great wealth.

Mrs. Flagler's income for 1929 was $724,000, which, added to the capital of her estate, made the gross worth on the first of the year more than $16,000,000, of which $123,960.65 is in cash in banks and $15,123,965 in securities. The disbursements for the year were $846,171.68.

Mrs. Flagler, who was born poor on an up-State New York farm, receives an annual allowance of $35,000 from her estate. She lives luxuriously in a cottage built for her on the sanatorium grounds. In fair weather she rides about the countryside in a limousine with driver, footman and personal attendants.

HUGE NAVY CUT HELD POSSIBLE

Experts Assert Three-Power Pact Would Bring Slash

Total of 500,000 Tons Set as Reduction Figure

Italian-French Situation Still Confuses Parley

LONDON, March 17. (AP)—Naval conference experts tonight conservatively estimated that if a three-power agreement were to be signed here now with Japanese approval a reduction of 500,000 tons in naval armaments would be possible.

It is emphasized that such an agreement will be contingent upon Japanese acceptance of the plan already dopted by the American, British, and Japanese delegations here, and submitted to Tokio.

As the Americans have been conceded parity with Great Britain, an examination of British naval figures for 1936 shows that a reduction estimated at more than 260,000 tons could be achieved. Secretary of State Stimson, in a public statement two weeks ago, predicted an agreement in which the Americans would be able to reduce their figures by 200,000 tons. Added to the British reduction of 260,000, which the Americans would follow on the basis of parity, this would make a rough total of 460,000 tons reduction.

MAY CUT MORE

If Tokio approves last week's American proposal, the Japanese would further contribute to it. In their case the outstanding reduction would be in the class of submarines, which they would decrease between now and 1936 from 77,000 tons to 52,000 tons, and make a further saving of 35,000 tons by not replacing certain ships in other classes.

It became known tonight that these figures were placed before Foreign Minister Briand of France last week, when the British were urging the French to reduce their figure of 724,000 tons.

Whatever hopes had been held in conference circles last week for concessions by the Italians on their demands for parity with France, were without question definitely put aside tonight, when the Italian delegation stated officially that Italy still stands for the principle of parity with France, no matter what the French fleet figures are.

CONFUSION APPARENT

A state of complete confusion was apparent tonight in the attitude of all the delegations toward the Franco-Italian situation. The approach to a solution of the difficulty is vaguely outlined, but it seems to be certain that the possibility of a political pact to guarantee French security, in an effort to reduce the French fleet figures, has not yet been eliminated.

Negotiations between Paris and Rome have been going on for some time, and an agreement between these two would speed agreement among all five powers.

WAIT FOR TARDIEU

The British official spokesman announced tonight that the conference is not going to break down this week, nor is it going to succeed this week. He said the delegates still are determined to arrive at a treaty satisfactory to all, but no definite development is likely to occur until next week-end, when Premier Tardieu of France returns from Paris for another conference with Prime Minister MacDonald.

Meanwhile Foreign Minister Briand will continue to head the French exploration party scouting over new routes toward solution of the Franco-Italian parity problem.

AMERICANS GIVE AID

Secretary Stimson, Ambassador Morrow, Ambassador Dawes and Senator Reed and others of the American delegation have been enlisted in the band of scouts under MacDonald's direction trying to find a common ground upon which the French and Italians can agree. Informal meetings toward this end continued throughout the day.

Even the House of Commons was asked by A. V. Alexander, First Lord of the Admiralty, to withhold comment in the present critical days. He made the request when the naval estimates were introduced.

Winston Churchill, spokesman of Great Britain's big-navy group, withheld his expected onslaught, but declared emphatically that silence did not indicate consent to the Labor government's conduct of the present negotiations, particularly in fixing Britain's cruisers at fifty.

With the conference in a virtual state of suspension, little was done by any delegates to lift the veil of secrecy which surrounded the conversations between M. Tardieu and Mr. MacDonald at Chequers yesterday.

DIFFICULTIES GREATER

The British spokesman, in surveying the situation, said that negotiations are well advanced between the United States and Great Britain, between the United States and Japan and between Great Britain and Japan. The difficulties plainly lie in continental Europe between France and Italy.

BRITAIN PROMISED NAVY SLASH OF $20,000,000

LONDON, March 17. (AP)—In introducing the Labor government's estimate of naval expenditures for the coming year today, A. V. Alexander, First Lord of the Admiralty, told the House of Commons that on the basis of prewar figures no other naval power has made such large reductions in her navy as Great Britain has.

He promised a saving of [illegible] $20,000,000, as against last year's figures and the suspension "for the present, at any rate" of the 1929 submarine construction program. The Commons voted its approval of the estimates.

MAE WEST'S RAIDED SHOW TRIAL OPENS

Actress and Portion of Cast Appear in Court in "Pleasure Man" Case

NEW YORK, March 17. (AP)—Mae West, whose best-known contribution to the theater is "Diamond Lil," in which she starred here on Broadway and in Chicago, finally, after several delays, went on trial today for putting on "Pleasure Man," a play that the police raided and closed a year and a half ago.

With her are fifty-seven others, the producer, Carl Reed, and all the actors and actresses who appeared in the production—but only eleven of them showed up in court today.

Attorneys for the absent ones explained they were for the most part out on the road with traveling productions. Several had joined the Navy.

Four jurors had been selected by the time court adjourned for the day from a "blue ribbon" panel, to which Nathan Burkan, Miss West's attorney, objected on the ground that it was likely to consist of persons "narrow minded, undemocratic and recruited from the privileged class."

The four selected today are a building contractor, the secretary of a fraternal organization and two real estate operators.

If convicted of having placed before the public an obscene production, Miss West and the others may be fined $1000 each and imprisoned for one year.

Spence Named to Higher Court

SACRAMENTO, March 17. (AP)—Gov. Young announced today the appointment of Superior Judge Spence of Alameda county to the Appelate bench of Division No. 2. He is to fill the vacancy created in that court by the death of Justice Joseph S. Koford of Oakland.

The Governor named Superior Judge Engs of Sierra county to succeed Judge Spence.

SENATE DELVES INTO BAD BOOKS

Censorship Debate Rages for Nearly Six Hours

Borah Leaves Chamber to Peruse Large Volume

WASHINGTON, March 17. (AP)—Surrounded by about two score foreign books barred from circulation in this country under censorship provisions of the present tariff law, the Senate for almost six hours today and tonight debated a proposal by Senator Reed Smoot, Republican, of Utah, to tighten provisions for excluding such books.

The question they argued was whether the literature and other "immoral articles" should be "stopped at the port" on the judgment of a customs inspector, or "taken to the courts" for determination; and whether importation of such books should be made a substantive crime. Debaters on both sides deplored such books.

Senator Smoot called for the books early in the afternoon—and immediately the solemn dignity of the Senate chamber gave way to major and minor disturbances.

DRIVE MADE ON DESK

There was a surging of Senators from both sides of the aisle toward the desk of Senator Watson of Indiana, the Republican leader, as Senator Smoot's secretary laid the volumes down there. Some richly bound others in paper covers, the books had been pointed to by Senator Smoot as "too vulgar to be quoted in open session." Immediately they were taken over by the Senators and given general circulation in the chamber.

Senator Borah, the Idaho Republican, took a weighty tome and placing his feet on top of his desk, settled down to peruse it—until in the noise of titters from the galleries and talking on the floor, he realized he was the center of attention. He placed his feet on the floor, but continued reading grimly for a few moments.

BORAH WALKS OUT

Then he walked out, the volume under his arm, not to return with it until three hours later.

Through the hours of joking and of heated protest sotto voce on the floor, Senator Shortridge of California loftily ignored the contraband literature. He was one of a more than slender minority.

Excitement increased when among the books referred to as salacious a Bible was discovered. Senator Nye, of North Dakota, one of the Republicans opposing censorship by customs officers, placed the Bible in the collection, with passages marked and underlined.

Proponents of censorship declined to make public the names of the volumes, explaining that "even that" was "too vulgar."

Senator Fess, Republican, Ohio, examined volume after volume, sitting straight in his chair and making no comment to his colleagues. Senators Waterman of Colorado and Frazier of North Dakota, found adjacent chairs on the Republican side and turned the pages together.

By dinner time, when the debate had gone forward for several hours, there were less than a dozen volumes left on Senator Watson's desk.

TESTS FOR INTELLIGENT PEOPLE—A SERIES

Where are the most comfortable couches in the world?

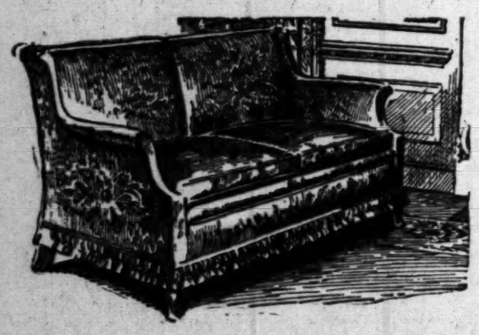
THE British country squire, returning home at evening weary from leaping his hunter over hedges and spiked gates, demands soft and comfortable resting places so that he may gather new energy for the strenuous events of the morrow. And so, in the country homes of England has been developed perhaps the most restful furniture which the world has ever known. Would you like to know what such comfortable sofas look like? The Danersk couch pictured below is a fine example of a typical British sofa.

Where is the upholsterer of Buckingham Gate?

A famous British upholsterer, the dean of his profession, formerly executed commissions for countless Lords and Duchesses and Princes at Buckingham Gate, just a niblick shot from Buckingham Palace. Now he lives in Stamford and is in charge of Danersk upholstering. The Danersk sofa below, was produced under his supervision.

How many days to upholster a sofa?

A master upholsterer, devoting all his time to this particular task, required seven days to upholster the Danersk sofa pictured below. Because Danersk upholsterers are not paid on a piece work basis, but devote to each furniture piece whatever time is necessary to make it perfect, is one of the reasons why Danersk furniture is so exceedingly comfortable and lasts for so many, many years.



The Danersk Essex couch shown above is quite reminiscent of those found in British country homes and in London clubs. It was handmade with the utmost care. Its craftsmanship includes such comfort-and-wear-increasing refinements as tempered steel springs closely spaced, and each tied eight to ten times; frame of second growth ash, mortised and tenoned in certain joints, cluster doweled in others; imported Scotch webbing; down cushions; hand stitching; etc.

Like all Danersk pieces the Essex couch typifies the finest in design, the finest in craftsmanship. It was made by our own colony of Scotch and English cabinetmakers and upholsterers. Come and see this interesting sofa, together with hundreds of friendly Danersk pieces of traditional design—pieces for every room in the house—an entire room can be furnished at anywhere from $450 to $3000.

CONSTRUCTION GAIN FORECAST

Lamont Cites Low Money Rate as Indication

High Interest of Past Year Slowed Operations

Unemployment Census to be Made Next Month

WASHINGTON, March 17. (AP)—Secretary Lamont said today that lower interest rates on money throughout the country should permit an important speeding up during the next few months in new construction which, he said, already had been stimulated by the "remarkable co-operation" from the various States.

The Commerce Secretary said the high interest rates during the past year had been one of the major factors in slowing down construction, and added that while the rate has dropped in New York, the easier money conditions have not yet reached throughout the country.

OHIO TAKES LEAD

This condition could not be worked out in twenty-four hours, Mr. Lamont said but the situation is gradually loosening and construction during the spring should be greatly aided by the easier money.

The Secretary pointed out that the States and governors have been pushing public construction and have been aided by the government wherever possible.

The State of Ohio was cited by Mr. Lamont as one of the States which has gone farthest in its efforts to offset the depression following the stock market crash. Ohio, he said, has let approximately $9,000,000 in road contracts since December, during a period when road construction ordinarily is at a standstill in that section.

CHECKING UNEMPLOYMENT

The Secretary added that eighty-six county committees composed of laborers, manufacturers, merchants, bankers and others have been formed in that State to stimulate private enterprise.

Secretary Lamont also said his department is working toward a constant check upon the number of unemployed. The unemployment census to be taken next month, he explained, will be used as a basis upon which figures can be kept up to date.

While it is impossible to gauge the number of men out of work, he said, the census is expected to give definite information.

NEW YORK SITUATION SHOWS IMPROVEMENT

NEW YORK, March 17. (AP)—A statement by the New York Board of Trade that the employment situation in the city has shown "decided improvement" was before Gov. Roosevelt today. The Governor had telegraphed the board a request to investigate.

Revival of seasonal occupation, a reduction in the number of army enlistments, fewer men seeking employment at sea and railroad executives' opinions that normal traffic will return shortly were cited by W. J. L. Banham, president of the board.

Po' Li'l Texas Granted Chunk of Oklahoma

WASHINGTON, March 17. (AP)—Texas gained approximately 28,500 acres, or 44.6 square miles of land from Oklahoma when the Supreme Court today approved the location of the boundary line between the two States, running north from Red River, as surveyed and marked by Samuel S. Gannett.

The eastern boundary of the Texas Panhandle, which the Supreme Court decided should be along the 100th meridian, was found by Commissioner Gannett to have been erroneously located by the Jones-Brown-Clark survey in 1859-60, 4040 feet on Texas territory at its southern end at the Red River and 880 feet at its northern end.

Oklahoma, since its admission into the Union as a State, has exercised jurisdiction over this strip of land, which now passes to Texas.

Grand Duke on Bay City Visit

SAN FRANCISCO, March 17. (Exclusive)—Grand Duke Alexander of Russia, who for several years has been fighting Communism as "an evil force which is trying to sever human relations from all that is good," arrived tonight on his second lecture tour of America.

The Grand Duke is a grandson of Czar Nicholas I and a cousin of the late Czar Nicholas II, as well as a cousin of King George of England. He is accompanied by Joseph Patterson of Pittsburgh.

Hatry Denied Appeal Leave

LONDON, March 17. (AP)—Clarence Hatry, stock promoter, has been denied leave to appeal from a sentence of fourteen years' imprisonment arising from his recent conviction on irregular financial operations.

Hatry, in his petition, contended that the sentence was too severe. But Lord Chief Justice Hewart, dismissing the appeal, said: "The true conclusion is that this sentence is not a day too long."

THREE RENAMED ON EDUCATIONAL BOARD

SACRAMENTO, March 17. (AP)—Three members of the State Board of Education whose terms expired on the 1st inst., were reappointed by Gov. Young today. They are Gordon Gray of San Diego, C. L. McLane of Fresno, and Amy S. Steinhart of San Francisco. Their terms of office are for four years.

HOPES ON TAX TOTAL RISE

Preliminary Returns Regarded as Encouraging, But Mellon Withholds Figures as Incomplete

WASHINGTON, March 17. (AP)—On the basis of preliminary telegraphic returns received today from the more important internal revenue offices, Treasury officials are somewhat more hopeful than they have been as to the chances of Saturday's income-tax installment measuring up to the government's requirements. Conclusive indication of collections to be expected, but this is not certain. The figures wired in today are believed to contain estimates as the extensive work of tabulating and adding the many returns could hardly have been completed in so short a time.

Secretary Mellon withheld the figures. It is said they run under receipts at the same offices last year, and are being withheld because of their incomplete character and because within three or four days definite totals will be available.

Last March personal and corporation incomes brought into the Treasury $601,000,000. In spite of a cut in the tax rate and fears for the effect on incomes of the stock market collapse of 1929, the budget calls for collections of $550,000,000 from the March installment this year.

For the first fourteen days of the month the actual receipts were not up to levels which would produce this sum and there have been calculations that the total might run to $100,000,000 below estimates.

Up to the close of business last Friday, the Treasury had collected $49,358,998, compared with $56,804,350 for the same period a year ago.

Secretary Mellon is of the opinion that the receipts totaled tomorrow and the next day may give a con-

Hoover to Visit Mountain Camp

WASHINGTON, March 17. (AP)—Even though the trout season will not be open, President Hoover has decided to make his first visit of the year to the Rapidan fishing camp in the Virginia Mountains this weekend.

Since he plans to leave Washington Saturday it is doubtful if he will have an opportunity to visit the school in Dark Hollow which he was instrumental in having established.

The trout season will not open until April 1, under Virginia law, and Mr. Hoover has made clear he will observe the statute.

Mahatma Pausing in March Gives Day to Silence

Grueling Ordeal Telling on Independence Leader

ANAND (Bombay, India) March 17. (AP)—Mahatma Gandhi, the Indian Nationalist leader, passed today in silence as he and his seventy-nine devotees rested from their gruelling four days' march from Ahmadabad to the sea in behalf of Indian independence.

The Mahatma has maintained silence one day each week for years, conveying his wishes by means of signs and the written word.

Tomorrow morning he and his procession of fellow-Swarajists will continue on their way to Jalalpur oh the Bay of Cambay.

The intense Indian sun has caused the 61-year-old leader considerable discomfort during the long marches.

A case of smallpox was discovered today in Gandhi's camp. Gandhi ordered that the stricken volunteers be kept here until he recovers.

Al Capone Release Brings Up Topic of Gang Terror

BY CHARLES FRANCIS COE

(Author of "Me, Gangster," "The River Pirate," "Swag," "Hooch," "Triumph," "Votes" and other popular novels and short stories.)

NEW YORK, March 17. (NANA) The liberation of "Scarface" Al Capone from a Philadelphia jail is a matter of moment. We take our gang leaders seriously. They are incessant news.

This writer has always believed that if the average citizen who labors honestly for a livelihood really knew a few gangsters they would cease to be news. Misconception of the make-up of these men leads to glamour that is quite unmerited.

Not long ago I sat at a table with a gangster whose name is about as well known as that of Capone. We were enjoying a lobster and some conversation which I thought would be helpful in the preparation of underworld novels. During our meal a young man entered the restaurant escorting a somewhat vivid blond of tender years but seemingly callous aspirations. She was a worldly little creature for whom the average citizen would have felt compassion. They were seated at a table near ours.

HE FALLS FOR HER

"There," said the gangster, "is an eyeful of twist that ain't hard to look it."

"You're wearing rose-colored glasses," I ventured. "An idea would knock her hat off."

The gangster mused to himself but lost interest in the lobster. I noted that his gaze lingered upon the damsel. Future conversation became monosyllabic between us. I could no longer retain his interest. A glance at the young lady convinced me that a secret set of signals had been established between herself and my host.

"She's cute onions, that moll," the gangster assured me later. "I got a yen for her. Wonder who that chump is?"

I glanced at the young lady's escort. A glance was enough to convince me that he had imbibed too deeply of what the boys know variously as barn paint, lion extract and giggle soup. Oblivion for the young man appeared in the offing.

TROUBLE AVOIDED

"Why," I asked the gangster, "should you care who he is? Obviously the girl is interested in meeting you and you want to meet her. What matters who the fellow is? You're the toughest man on earth, aren't you?"

He wet his lips and smiled at me. "No sense startin' trouble," he avowed.

The business interested me. Here was a man played up in the press as a killer for the joy of killing; a sort of Bengal tiger in human form who felt comfortable only in the acrid fumes of machine-gun fire and had never tasted the emotion of fear. What he wanted, they said, he took. He wanted the girl, however, and I was able to detect a magnificent hesitance in the way he went about taking her.

In due course the escort excused himself from the table and the girl was alone. Hardly had the young man left her when she turned to the gangster. Their smiles crossed like the foils of fencers.

"Excuse me, kid," said my host.

THINGS HAPPEN

In an instant he and the girl were dancing to the clamorous music of a typical $2 night club. I waited with high interest. In the first place I was afraid for the young man who returned to find his girl gone. In the second I was interested in just what a real tough man might do in the face of jealous ire.

The escort returned and discovered the events of his absence. His face flushed angrily and he strode across the floor. I followed within a pace of him. It was in my mind to prevent dangerous trouble. Things happened too fast for me.

"You big stiff," the escort snarled, "what do you think I spent my week's pay on this girl for? Let her alone, see?"

He seized the gangster by the arm and tore him away from his dancing partner. I caught my breath, but the look in the gangster's eye stayed any action. It was a strange look. There seemed little of killing courage there.

"Act your age," he warned the escort. "Be a gentleman for once."

BLOW GOES UNAVENGED

Without another word, the ill-advised escort drew back and struck the killer across the face. Then, in high disdain, he seized his frivolous companion and swung into the dance. The girl laughed and smiled up at her hero. I held my breath and waited for my host to reach for the proverbial pistol of gangland vengeance.

He glanced at me, rubbed his bruised cheek with his fingertips, and grinned.

"The Devil takes care of a sucker," he avowed. "Let's finish that chow."

That ended the incident. I will leave to the individual judgment the decision of the killer's motive. Either he is a rank coward or he is a first-class hero.

Bear in mind that this man's reputation is as imposing as Mr. Capone's. I was with him at the time and still admit that I have doubts about the emotions which impelled him.

The press will speak much of Capone's release. There will be endless words of wonderment as to the results of his newly gained liberty. His shadow will fall across the underworld no matter where he goes. Gangsters will wonder what his intentions are; they will fortify themselves against imaginary attacks Scarface may provoke. Quite likely there may be shootings which will predicate itself on general nervousness contingent on the reappearance of one whose presence has always been felt.

GANGS LIKE WOLVES

But more likely, I think, things will be quiet for a day or two, at least. It may easily take that length of time for the gang to congregate. By that I mean any gang which might try to settle, in gangland's roaring terms, with Scarface Al for grievances of the past.

And while gangs are gathering little of violence accrues. They are, in other words, like wolves. A pack of ravenous wolves constitutes one of the greatest menaces of the animal kingdom. They know no fear; they charge in upon the most imposing of enemies and rip and rend and tear with the ferocity of the wolverine.

But that is in packs. A lone wolf will starve while mustering the courage to tackle a barking puppy.

It makes a perfectly good comparison of the gangs of our land. They are courageous as lions when that which they attack is defenseless. Get them alone and they will starve rather than whimper.

CAPONE SLIPS FROM PRISON

PHILADELPHIA, March 17. (AP) Alphonse (Scarface Al) Capone and his bodyguard, Frank Cline, walked to freedom today from the new prison at Gratersford, Pa., while hundreds of morbidly curious men, women and children, newspaper men and photographers, awaited their release in front of the Eastern State penitentiary in this city, thirty miles away.

Announcement that the Chicago gang chieftain and his pal had been released at 4 p.m. was made four hours later by Herbert Smith, warden of the Eastern penitentiary.

With the exception of prison officials, no one saw Capone and Cline emerge from the penitentiary. None of these officials would state by what means they had left Gratersford and all professed ignorance of their destination.

As curiosity seekers and newspaper men continued to hang about the Eastern penitentiary gates, Warden Smith stepped outside and said:

"What's the use in you people standing around here? We certainly stuck one in your eye that time.

"The big guy went out from here at 6 o'clock this morning. We shot him away in an automobile, direct to the new Eastern penitentiary at Graterasford.

"We had a perfect right to do that. It's a part of our institution and we didn't need any court papers.

SERVED TEN MONTHS

"I went to Harrisburg and got the Governor's signature to the release papers and they were brought back by Frank Hay, secretary of the Board of Pardons. The papers reached the prison about 4 o'clock and Capone and Cline were released at once.

"Try to find out where they have gone."

The notorious Chicago racketeer and his bodyguard had served ten months of a year's sentence for carrying loaded pistols. Two months were cut from their terms on account of good behavior, making them eligible for release last midnight.

Delay in their release was due to the absence on a winter vacation of Gov. Fisher, whose signed approval was necessary. The Governor returned to Harrisburg from the West Indies last night, and signed the papers today.

PLANE REPORTED ORDERED

A few minutes before 6 o'clock tonight a trimotored fourteen-passenger airplane landed at Central Airport, Camden, N. J., across the Delaware River from Philadelphia. Persons who pretended to know declared it was to be used to take Capone and Cline away to an unannounced destination. Police believed they would go either to Chicago or Miami, Fla., where the gang chieftain has an estate, and where Mrs. Capone and their 10-year-old son have been spending the winter.

Reports have persisted that rival gangsters had gathered here in the last day or two and that they and Capone henchmen would be on hand when "Scarface" and his body guard left the prison.

Scores of police and plain clothes men mingled with the crowds that remained near the penitentiary gates throughout the day, on the lookout for known racketeers.

BILL ON FOREST FIRES FAVORED

Englebright Measure Urges Prevention Fund

Proposal Outlines Program For Twenty-One Years

Republican House Leaders Plan Consideration

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 17. (Exclusive)—The twenty-one-year $100,000,000 forest-fire protection program sponsored by Representative Englebright of Nevada City, Cal., and approved by President Hoover has been definitely slated for consideration at this session by House Republican leaders.

The measure has been considered by the House Committee on Agriculture where it was favorably received. It embodies the recommendations of the President incorporated in his budget message to Congress and is indorsed by the Bureau of the Budget and the Department of Agriculture.

Representative Englebright's bill proposes a new method of financing forest-fire protection. At present the Federal government spends $3,000,000 a year to put out forest fires but only $1,000,000 a year for fire prevention. He proposes to reverse these expenditures by increasing the annual protection allowance to $4,500,000 a year for the next three years and $4,000,000 thereafter for twenty-one years.

Witnesses before the committee stated that 62 per cent of the national forests do not have adequate fire protection at the present time.

Nobleman Kills Woman and Self

CAMBRIDGE (O.) March 17. (AP) A man who police said is Sir Charles Gilman-Adair, 37 years of age, an English nobleman, died today of bullet wounds self-inflicted, after he shot his foster mother, Mrs. Mary Troette, 53, to death last night.

Authorities said they are convinced that the shooting followed a refusal of Mrs. Troette to a request of Gilman-Adair for money.

Authorities said that Gilman-Adair was the son of an English noblewoman of London and had been taken into the Troette home when a small child. They said he had inherited a large sum from the estate of his English ancestors.

MONUMENT TO BE BUILT AT SAN JUAN

Scene of Rough Riders' Charge Will be Marked by Memorial Shaft

BY WILLIAM ALLEN WHITE

U.S.S. ROCHESTER, March 17. (AP)—A monument recalling the work of Col. Wood, Theodore Roosevelt and the Rough Riders will be placed either on San Juan Hill or on Kettle Hill, a short distance away, as a result of the visit of the President's Haitian commission to the historic battleground today.

In the action around San Juan Hill thirty-two years ago fought Buck Private Henry P. Fletcher of Greencastle, Pa., of the Rough Riders, who has been for twenty-seven years since in the service of his country in the State Department and who came back as a member of President Hoover's Haitian commission to the historic field today and found nothing to mark the scene of the Rough Riders' famous charge.

Immediately a purse of nearly $3000 was made up in the party. Plans were made to multiply that sum several times to erect a statue to the Rough Riders on the field that brought them fame and made their lieutenant-colonel a President.

Private Fletcher was toasted today at a luncheon in Santiago, Cuba, where the Haitian commission and Admiral Louis M. Nulton, commander-in-chief of the battle fleet, and several officers of the fleet were guests.

The Rochester finished her coaling today and is on her way to Miami.

State May Pay as It Pleases

SAN FRANCISCO, March 17. (AP) The State of California today was authorized by the United States District Court here to proceed "in any manner it may deem advisable" with the retirement of warrants of the Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district.

The court after a session lasting little more than an hour, dismissed an action brought by numerous warrant holders to enjoin the State Controller, the State Treasurer and the State Department of Finance from retiring the warrants in any manner other than the direct order of their registration. District Judges Louderback and Kerrigan and Circuit Judge Wilbur concurred in the dismissal.

HOTEL CURFEW ORDER TO STAND

High Court Refuses Review of Famed Seattle Case

Federal Action Taken Over Drinking of Patrons

WASHINGTON, March 17. (Exclusive)—The United States Supreme Court today refused to review the appeal of the Butler Hotel Company of Seattle, whose dining-room was closed for one year as a common nuisance, but allowed to operate until 9 p.m. under a $1000 bond. Last October the United States Circuit Court of Appeals upheld the lower court, whereupon the hotel company appealed to the Supreme Court. The formal action of the latter court today was to deny the petition for a writ of certiorari.

The closing was ordered because it was shown that patrons brought liquor into the place and drank it there, although owners of the hotel were exonerated of having anything to do with the sale of liquor.

FAMED CASE DEFINITELY CLOSED

SEATTLE, March 17. (AP)—Indorsement of the view that hotels can be padlocked if liquor is sold by employees even without knowledge of the management was seen by Federal attorneys here in the United States Supreme Court's refusal today to review the Butler Hotel abatement case.

The "curfew" decision of District Judge Neterer, ordering the closing of the hotel's Rose Room after 9 o'clock as a public nuisance, attracted national attention a year ago.

"It was the place itself which was the offender," explained Dist.-Atty. Savage today. "When liquor is sold without the knowledge of the owner of the hotel, obviously we can't proceed against him. But the room in which the liquor is consumed becomes a nuisance regardless of what the owner does or doesn't know."

The Supreme Court's decision definitely closed the case.

TRAIN WRECK HURTS SEVEN

COLD SPELL BRINGS SNOW IN ARIZONA

Southern and Eastern Ports of State Receive Heavy Blanketing

PHOENIX, March 17. (AP)—Winter, which slipped into Arizona after a lengthy warm period, settled in the southern and eastern parts of the State tonight, disrupting highways and paralyzing traffic.

Nogales was covered with a three-inch blanket of snow and reports there from Mexico said that the storm extended hundreds of miles south of the border.

Stage offices reported here tonight that road conditions in Southern Arizona are "deplorable." The storm which threatened to paralyze Northern Arizona over the week end had subsided tonight.

Tucson was overcast today with precipitation for the day measuring .56 inches. Up to early today Mesa had reported 1.26 inches and Tempe 1.5 inches. It was still raining late tonight at Douglas.

In the central portion of the State Payson reported considerable snow in the near-by mountains. Yuma reported the heaviest March rain since 1905, .79 inches being registered.

Eight thousand second feet of water was running at the intake dam on the Salt River above Roosevelt early this evening.

DEATH CELL LEGACY TO BE REALITY

Mother of Executed Man to Share in Royalties on Play Written in Prison

NEW YORK, March 17. (Exclusive)—A legacy, willed to a white-haired mother by her son as he waited for death in a Texas prison cell, became a reality here today when John Wexley, author of "The Last Mile" and Eric Pinker, his agent, agreed to give Mrs. Ella Blake of Amarillo, Tex., 20 per cent of the playwright's royalties on the prison play.

The play was suggested by a magazine sketch written in the death house by her son, Robert F. Blake, who was electrocuted last April in Texas State penitentiary. Robert's only legacy to his mother was whatever proceeds might come from the playlet.

Mrs. Blake signed the agreement this afternoon in the office of W. Herbert Adams, attorney for the playwright. The agreement is retroactive and Mrs. Blake's share of the royalties will be paid from the first night of the play's production, and will entitle her to a share of any royalties accruing from picture, radio and television rights which may come in the future.

Union Head Goes to Mine Session

INDIANAPOLIS, March 17. (AP)—All doubt was removed today regarding the attitude of the American Federation of Labor toward the United Mine Workers of America and its dissenting unit by the appearance of William Green, president of the Federation, at the convention of the Mine Workers.

Green told the convention that he was "glad to come here in my official capacity and by my presence show you and the world that the American Federation of Labor recognizes one Miners' Union as having jurisdiction. Please interpret my presence here as evidence of that solemn fact."

Democrats Told G.O.P. Slipping

CHICAGO, March 17. (AP)—Asserting that dissatisfaction with the present governmental administration is rampant throughout the country, Mrs. Nellie Taylor Ross, former Governor of Wyoming and present vice-chairman of the Democratic National Committee, today exhorted a regional conference of Democratic women from Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin to concentrate on organizing the strength of the Democratic party.

"Never since 1918 has the Democratic party had such a chance to get control of the major government offices," she said.

Chicago Records Another Killing

CHICAGO, March 17. (AP)—Chicago police, busy for the past six weeks in an intensive campaign against crime, are confronted with the mystery of another killing tonight—the third in the past twenty-four hours.

Peter Rica, 35 years of age, was the victim. He was shot to death in a speeding automobile and his body pushed into the street on the northwest side. His slayers drove away, unidentified.

SLAYING LINKED TO EXTORTIONS

Officers Say Hush Money Given to "Society"

"Secret Service Detectives" Held Mere Myths

Murder Victim Decapitated; Suspects Give Bail

TAOS (N. M.) March 17. (AP)—The A. R. Manby death mystery investigation being made by State and special officers, today uncovered an amazing trail of extortion and intimidation through the "United States Secret Civil Service Society," declared to be a mythical organization with which Manby and others were connected.

"Severeino Gutirrez," reputed head of a branch of the organization and a "great detective" known in the society's circles as "Craig Kenneth," were fictitious characters, investigators declared.

EXTORTION INDICATED

This information was dug out by Herbert Cheetham, deputy sheriff at Taos and former secret service operative, who said he had received proof from members of the society that one certain family was bunkoed out of $14,000 over a period of three years.

The spell of fear which has closed the lips of certain persons in Taos, Cheetham said, has been broken and the local leaders of this purported society have been revealed as the late A. R. Manby, Terecita Ferguson, now at liberty under $1800 bond in connection with local robberies; her common-law husband, Carmel Duran, in jail on similar charges in default of $5100 bond, and George Ferguson, in jail at Raton on those charges and also for highway robbery.

DETECTIVE MYTHS

The fictitious Gutierrez was represented to be the head of the "self-supporting branch" of the society which comprised Wyoming, Colorado, New Mexico and Arizona. No one has ever seen either the asserted Severino Gutierrez or Detective Craig Kenneth, members of the society have told Cheetham.

"We believe beyond doubt," Cheetham said, "that the handwriting of Severino Gutierrez, Craig Kenneth and one of the members of the Manby-Ferguson circle are the same."

There are two other sources of investigation in the case whose findings are the same as those of Cheetham.

NOTE RECEIVED

A communication delivered to a member of the society reported the death of Craig Kenneth. It read:

"Transmitter No. 20653. Hon —— Distress Signal 808. We lost two officers, one our wonderful detective Craig Kenneth and V. Fermento, killed by the La Mar Colorado bandits at the head of Poniel Creek, date 17, 1 a.m. We might bring the body over that way. His last word was to bring him to Terecita dead or alive, so it is hard for us to keep Terecita from knowing and bring him to be buried under our emblem of honor. Keep Terecita from knowing. He died on full duty under the stripes of our country. Yours for services. S. G.—U.S.S.C.S.S."

WOODS MAY TOSS HAT IN STATE RING

Athletic Commissioner Likely to Enter Race for Lieutenant-Governor

SAN FRANCISCO, March 17. (AP) Close friends of James Woods, State Athletic Commissioner, said here tonight they believe he will be a candidate for the Republican nomination of Lieutenant-Governor.

Woods confirmed the report that he has had such a proposition under consideration. For some time, he said, friends have urged him to make the race. Woods is president of a company which operates two hotels here and also has hotel connections in Los Angeles.

Nationally known as a sportsman, Woods recently returned to San Francisco after residing in Los Angeles for many years. Twice in the earlier days of San Francisco he served as Police Commissioner. In Los Angeles he was a member of the Health and Safety Commission.

New Invention for Reproducing Sound Exhibited

GLOUCESTER (Mass.) March 17. (AP)—John Hays Hammond, Jr., inventor, today announced the invention of a new system of electrical reproduction of sound, described as a "striking advance" over present systems employed in the radio, phonograph and motion-picture fields.

The announcement came after a selected group of experts on sound reproduction had attended a private demonstration given by the inventor here yesterday.

POSTMASTER FOUND DEAD

SANTA ROSA, March 17. (AP)—The body of Marshall Johnson, 61 years of age, rancher and postmaster of Windsor, ten miles north of here, was found today in his car in front of his ranch, with a bullet wound in the head. Authorities said he committed suicide, presumably because of ill health.

Even the Glove Expert Guessed Wrong!

Gloves, gloves, GLOVES! We'd all rushed to the Publicity Director's office. Gloves all over the place! The copywriters were overwhelmed. "Shades of Paris!" exclaimed the stylist. "Look at this pair!" "But see THESE!" "Oh, what beautiful shades!" said the Glove Expert. "Look at the VARIETY!" shouted the Glove Artist, getting excited. "Where'd ya ever get all the gloves?" asked the Office Boy, awestruck.

"What am I going to sell them for?" asked the Glove Buyer. "Hum, hmm, hmmmmm . . ." we all went into a huddle. Particularly the Old Timer and the Glove Expert. (And when THOSE two put their heads together, pride might just as well fold up their wings and go on the rocks!)

"$3.95!" they challenged, breathlessly, at last, "being as how you said this was a BIG sale!" The rest of us gasped. (We'd guessed from "$4.25" to "$5.95.")

But, "YOU'RE ALL WRONG!" triumphed the Glove Buyer. "I knew I'd startle you, this time! The price is only . . ."

ATHEIST ORGAN ASSAILS POPE

Official Soviet Publication Orders Demonstrations

Attempt Will be Made to Counteract Prayers

Pontiff Accused of Leading Crusade of Capital

MOSCOW, March 17. (AP)—In an effort to counteract the Pope's prayers on behalf of Christian Russians Wednesday, "the godless one," official soviet atheist organ, today ordered all atheists to mobilize their strength on that day for massed demonstrations against religion and foreign intervention.

Declaring that Pope Pius had taken advantage of religious fanaticism for the purpose of inciting "the backward masses against the Soviet Union" this antireligious publication, which has nation-wide circulation, used particularly abusive and violent language in criticising the Pope.

CRUSADE CHARGED

The paper declared that hooligan bands were being organized in Italy, Poland, Bulgaria and other countries for an attack upon the Soviet Union and that the Pope is standing at the head of a crusade of capital against the soviet proletarian republic. "He is assisted by Jewish rabbis, Orthodox priests, Baptists and Evangelists," says the paper, adding these are being joined by bands of lawless persons whose object is to destroy the Soviet Union.

Antireligious groups are continuing actively.

In the Pdolsk district, near Moscow, 18,000 signatures were obtained for closing Pdolsk Cathedral. Twenty thousand persons participated in a huge antireligious demonstration, demanding the closing of all churches. After publicly burning several thousand icons, the demonstrators voted this resolution:

"In answer to the Pope's denunciation we proclaim our town atheistic."

MEMBERSHIP DRIVES ON

Church bells in twenty-four villages of the Vinnitza district were torn down and given to the industrialization fund.

The Atheistic Society of the Tartar Republic, numbering 27,000 members, concluded an agreement for a "Socialistic competition" with the Daghestan Atheistic Society under which the former is obliged to increase its membership by 150,000.

One Red army group near Moscow demanded the closing of all churches and shrines throughout the whole of Moscow Province, including the capital, and decided to establish Socialistic competitions with other army units for the spread of antireligious propaganda.

LABOR GOVERNMENT NOT TO APPEAL TO LEAGUE

LONDON, March 17. (AP)—Arthur Henderson, Foreign Secretary, told the House of Commons today the government had decided it can not properly take action under Art. XI of the League of Nations covenant to bring before the League the question of conditions affecting religious liberty in Russia.

His statement was made in answering an inquiry whether a decision had been reached by the government.

Paragraph No. 2 of the covenant article mentioned reads:

"It also is declared to be the friendly right of each member of the League to bring to the attention of the Assembly or of the Council any circumstance whatever affecting international relations which threaten to disturb international peace or the good understanding between nations upon which peace depends."

RED PERSECUTION OF JUDAISM PROTESTED

LONDON, March 17. (AP)—The Jewish telegraph agency reports that protests against asserted persecution of Judaism in soviet Russia were voiced today in a resolution adopted by the Anglo-Jewish Association and in the report of the joint foreign committee of the board of deputies and the Anglo-Jewish Association.

The Anglo-Jewish Association deplored the antireligious policy of the soviet government, "which by the wholesale closing and confiscation of synagogues, the restrictions of the activities of congregations, the persecution of rabbis and religious teachers, the suppression of religious instruction to children and the corruption of the state schools by atheistical teaching is causing intense spiritual suffering to millions of law abiding Jews and threatens Russian Judaism with extinction."

The report of the joint foreign committee explained that efforts to get the British foreign office to make friendly representations to the soviet foreign commissar, had resulted in an expression of regret that under the circumstances it was impossible to accede to any request for intervention.

REDS REPLACE "HOLY DAYS"

Church Anniversaries Give Way to Revolutionary Holidays of Rest

KHARKOV (U. S. S. R.) March 17. (AP)—On the petition of thousands of workers throughout the Ukraine the government decided today to replace six religious holidays of the year with six "revolutionary days of rest."

"Constitution day" on July 6, "industrialization day" on August 1, and "harvest day" on October 2, are among the six newly named holidays.

CHINO-RUSSIAN ROW UNHEALED

Peace Commission Delegate Still in Harbin

Soviet Soldiers in Manchuli Called Rail Guard

Reds Insist Chinese Must Sign Pact in Moscow

TOKIO, March 17. (AP)—A dispatch from Harbin, Manchuria, to the Rengo News Agency today indicates the caldron of Chinese Eastern Railway trouble, which caused a warlike condition in Manchuria between Russia and China, continues to simmer.

A Chinese official report reached Harbin that twenty-nine soviet soldiers who crossed the border into Manchuli, Northwestern Manchuria, the 13th inst., have remained there, asserting they were assigned as a railway guard. The Manchurian Governor at Harbin vigorously protested to the soviet consul-general there and ordered the Chinese garrison of Manchuli to drive out the intruders.

The Sino-Soviet conference, originally scheduled to meet in Moscow January 25 to ratify the preliminary agreement of negotiators of Russia and China for settlement of the controversy over control of the Chinese Eastern Railway in Manchuria, apparently is a matter for the indefinite future. After lengthy consultations between Nanking and Moscow officials, Mo Teh-Hui, China's chief delegate, arrived in Harbin yesterday, but there are no signs of his early departure for Russia.

The soviet authorities, asserting that the Chinese are entirely to blame for the failure to negotiate a settlement of the railway controversy, peremptorily refused to accede to Chinese informal proposals for a change of venue to the conference. The Chinese Eastern Railway, however, is being operated in Manchuria under joint superintendence of Russian and Chinese officials as a result of a protocol which ended a punitive expedition of soviet forces into Manchuria in November.

NEW CIVIL WAR MENACES CHINA

NANKING (China) March 17. (AP) China is facing a new threat of civil war.

President Chiang Kai-shek said today Yen Hsi-shan, war lord of Shansi Province, and Feng Yu-siang, commander of the Kuominchun or People's army, are preparing to launch a joint drive against the government along the Peiping-Hankow and Tien-tsin-Pukow railways.

Chiang denied the government is concentrating troops at Techow preparatory to attacking Tien-tsin and Panping.

First Honor Medals Won by Blooms Christened for President and Wife

NEW YORK, March 17. (AP)—The "President Hoover Rose" and the "Mrs. Herbert Hoover Rose" were medal winners at the International Flower Show which opened in Grand Central Palace today with a display that transformed the palace into a perfumed, rainbow-tinted garden.

The Mrs. Herbert Hoover rose, a crimson flower, also exhibited by L. B. Coddington, received the International Flower Show silver medal offered for a novelty rose not yet disseminated, scoring not less than 85 points.

A new prize of the season, a large gold shield offered by the Holland Bulb Exporters' Association for the finest display of tulip plants exhibited in a garden was awarded this year to Mrs. Marshall Field, whose display of tulips shading from lemon yellow to crimson and brown was built around a fountain and miniature goldfish pool. The prize must be won three times by one exhibitor before it becomes permanent property.

Jericho's Old Walls Revealed by Excavators

JERUSALEM, March 17. (AP)—Sir Charles Marston's expedition, excavating the site of the biblical city of Jericho, has uncovered the parapet walk on the Canaanite rampart, showing the raised platform on which the Canaanite archers defended themselves against the Israelites.

Towers of several periods, superimposed on the general line of fortifications, have been disclosed on the west side above the spring gate—near the spring whose poisonous waters were made good by Elisha.

"THE SHADOW which pursues us all"
(John Greenleaf Whittier, 1807-1892)

"Coming events cast their shadows before"

AVOID THAT FUTURE SHADOW*

By refraining from over-indulgence, if you would maintain the modern figure of fashion

Women who prize the modern figure with its subtle, seductive curves—men who would keep that trim, proper form, eat healthfully but not immoderately. Banish excessiveness—eliminate abuses. Be moderate—be moderate in all things, even in smoking. When tempted to excess, when your eyes are bigger than your stomach, reach for a Lucky instead. Coming events cast their shadows before. Avoid that future shadow by avoiding over-indulgence if you would maintain the lithe, youthful, modern figure.

Lucky Strike, the finest Cigarette a man ever smoked, made of the finest tobacco—The Cream of the Crop—"IT'S TOASTED." Everyone knows that heat purifies and so "TOASTING" not only removes impurities but adds to the flavor and improves the taste.

"It's toasted"

Your Throat Protection—against irritation—against cough.

*Be Moderate! ... Don't jeopardize the modern form by drastic diets, harmful reducing girdles, fake reducing tablets or other quack "anti-fat" remedies condemned by the Medical profession! Millions of dollars each year are wasted on these ridiculous and dangerous nostrums. Be Sensible! Be Moderate! We do not represent that smoking Lucky Strike Cigarettes will bring modern figures or cause the reduction of flesh. We do declare that when tempted to do yourself too well, if you will "Reach for a Lucky" instead, you will thus avoid over-indulgence in things that cause excess weight and, by avoiding over-indulgence, maintain a modern, graceful form.

ATHEIST ORGAN ASSAILS POPE

Attempt Will be Made to Counteract Prayers

Pontiff Accused of Leading Crusade of Capital

MOSCOW, March 17. (AP)—In an effort to counteract the Pope's prayers on behalf of Christian Russians Wednesday, "the godless one," official soviet atheist organ, today ordered all atheists to mobilize their strength on that day for massed demonstrations against religion and foreign intervention.

Declaring that Pope Pius had taken advantage of religious fanaticism for the purpose of inciting "the backward masses against the Soviet Union" this antireligious publication, which has nation-wide circulation, used particularly abusive and violent language in criticizing the Pope.

CRUSADE CHARGED

The paper declared that hooligan bands were being organized in Italy, Poland, Bulgaria and other countries for an attack upon the Soviet Union and that the Pope is standing at the head of a crusade of capital against the soviet proletarian republic. "He is assisted by Jewish rabbis, Orthodox priests, Baptists and Evangelists," says the paper, adding these are being joined by bands of lawless persons whose object is to destroy the Soviet Union.

Antireligious groups are continuing actively.

In the Pdolsk district, near Moscow, 18,000 signatures were obtained for closing Pdolsk Cathedral. Twenty thousand persons participated in a huge antireligious demonstration, demanding the closing of all churches. After publicly burning several thousand icons, the demonstrators voted this resolution:

"In answer to the Pope's denunciation we proclaim our town atheistic."

MEMBERSHIP DRIVES ON

Church bells in twenty-four villages of the Vinnitza district were torn down and given to the industrialization fund.

The Athetistic Society of the Tartar Republic, numbering 27,000 members, concluded an agreement for a "Socialistic competition" with the Daghestan Atheistic Society under which the former is obliged to increase its membership by 150,000.

One Red army group near Moscow demanded the closing of all churches and shrines throughout the whole of Moscow Province, including the capital, and decided to establish Socialistic competitions with other army units for the spread of antireligious propaganda.

LABOR GOVERNMENT NOT TO APPEAL TO LEAGUE

LONDON, March 17. (AP)—Arthur Henderson, Foreign Secretary, told the House of Commons today the government had decided it can not properly take action under Art. XI of the League of Nations covenant to bring before the League the question of conditions affecting religious liberty in Russia.

His statement was made in answering an inquiry whether a decision had been reached by the government.

Paragraph No. 2 of the covenant article mentioned reads:

"It also is declared to be the friendly right of each member of the League to bring to the attention of the Assembly or of the Council any circumstance whatever affecting international relations which threaten to disturb international peace or the good understanding between nations upon which peace depends."

RED PERSECUTION OF JUDAISM PROTESTED

LONDON, March 17. (AP)—The Jewish telegraph agency reports that protests against asserted persecution of Judaism in soviet Russia were voiced today in a resolution adopted by the Anglo-Jewish Association and in the report of the joint foreign committee of the board of deputies and the Anglo-Jewish Association.

The Anglo-Jewish Association deplored the antireligious policy of the soviet government, "which by the wholesale closing and confiscation of synagogues, the restrictions of the activities of congregations, the persecution of rabbis and religious teachers, the suppression of religious instruction to children and the corruption of the state schools by atheistical teaching is causing intense spiritual suffering to millions of law abiding Jews and threatens Russian Judaism with extinction."

The report of the joint foreign committee explained that efforts to get the British foreign office to make friendly representations to the soviet foreign commissar, had resulted in an expression of regret that under the circumstances it was impossible to accede to any request for intervention.

REDS REPLACE "HOLY DAYS"

Church Anniversaries Give Way to Revolutionary Holidays of Rest

KHARKOV (U. S. S. R.) March 17. (AP)—On the petition of thousands of workers throughout the Ukraine the government decided today to replace six religious holidays of the year with six "revolutionary days of rest."

"Constitution day" on July 6, "industrialization day" on August 1, and "harvest day" on October 2, are among the six newly named holidays.

CHINO-RUSSIAN ROW UNHEALED

Reds Insist Chinese Must Sign Pact in Moscow

TOKIO, March 17. (AP)—A dispatch from Harbin, Manchuria, to the Rengo News Agency today indicates the caldron of Chinese Eastern Railway trouble, which caused a warlike condition in Manchuria between Russia and China, continues to simmer.

A Chinese official report reached Harbin that twenty-nine soviet soldiers who crossed the border into Manchuli, Northwestern Manchuria, the 13th inst., have remained there, asserting they were assigned as a railway guard. The Manchurian Governor at Harbin vigorously protested to the soviet consul-general there and ordered the Chinese garrison of Manchuli to drive out the intruders.

The Sino-Soviet conference, originally scheduled to meet in Moscow January 25 to ratify the preliminary agreement of negotiators of Russia and China for settlement of the controversy over control of the Chinese Eastern Railway in Manchuria, apparently is a matter for the indefinite future. After lengthy consultations between Nanking and Moscow officials, Mo Teh-Hui, China's chief delegate, arrived in Harbin yesterday, but there are no signs of his early departure for Russia.

The soviet authorities, asserting that the Chinese are entirely to blame for the failure to negotiate a settlement of the railway controversy, peremptorily refused to accede to Chinese informal proposals for a change of venue to the conference. The Chinese Eastern Railway, however, is being operated in Manchuria under joint superintendence of Russian and Chinese officials as a result of a protocol which ended a punitive expedition of soviet forces into Manchuria in November.

NEW CIVIL WAR MENACES CHINA

NANKING (China) March 17. (AP) China is facing a new threat of civil war.

President Chiang Kai-shek said today Yen Hsi-shan, war lord of Shansi Province, and Feng Yu-siang, commander of the Kuominchun or People's army, are preparing to launch a joint drive against the government along the Pelping-Hankow and Tien-tsin-Pukow railways.

Chiang denied the government is concentrating troops at Techow preparatory to attacking Tien-tsin and Panping.

FISHER...the World's Largest Builder of BODIES, brings added value to the CHEVROLET SIX

The Fisher Body Corporation is the world's largest builder of automobile bodies and has occupied this position of leadership since the early days of the industry. Its products enjoy a reputation for quality that is taken for granted wherever motor cars run. Its operations are carried out on a tremendous scale, making possible many economies that assure better bodies at lower cost.

Fisher logs its own lumber from Fisher-owned forests and finishes it in Fisher-owned mills. Fisher makes its own plate glass in one of the world's largest plate glass factories, and is, by far, the largest manufacturer of motor car body hardware and fittings.

Fisher ranks among the largest fabricators of sheet steel and uses steel faced dies which are built entirely by Fisher craftsmen. All together, Fisher activities require more than 349 acres of covered floor space—and the total number of employees engaged exclusively in the design and manufacture of Fisher Bodies ranges as high as 65,000.

Yet Fisher leadership is based on more than control of basic materials and the elimination of middlemen's profits. It was Fisher pioneering that brought the closed car to its present perfection. It was Fisher vision that originated the idea of volume production on fine motor car bodies. And it was Fisher progressiveness that introduced the many new processes which make Fisher Bodies, beyond question, the best built motor car bodies in America or Europe today.

As a leading division of General Motors, Fisher is closely allied with Chevrolet; and it is only natural that Fisher, as the world's largest builder of bodies, can bring to the new Chevrolet Six an added measure of value unequalled in the industry.

Therefore, it is important that you pay particular attention to the body in comparing the value of the Chevrolet Six with that of any other automobile—because the quality of the body is a factor of great importance in determining both the degree of satisfaction to be obtained from a car and its ultimate resale value.

Chevrolet-Fisher Bodies are long, low and properly proportioned. They are of composite hardwood and steel—the type of construction employed exclusively on the world's highest priced cars on account of its superior strength, safety, durability and freedom from unpleasant noises.

The roof of every Chevrolet-Fisher Body is a separate assembly, resting as securely upon the body pillars as does the roof of a house upon its framework. The roof itself is formed of bows and slats and is scientifically constructed to eliminate drumming or rumble.

Furthermore, there are provided such modern features as the non-glare VV windshield which provides added safety for night driving; adjustable driver's seat; substantial hardware and fittings of pleasing pattern and finish; and long-wearing velour and mohair upholstery over cushions whose permanent comfort is assured by closely nested springs. Finishes are of genuine Duco in a choice of pleasing colors. And throughout there is evidence of an attention to detail not ordinarily expected in a low-priced car.

In addition to the fundamental advantages of Bodies by Fisher, the new Chevrolet Six offers many superiorities in performance. The six-cylinder valve-in-head engine has been increased in capacity to 50 horsepower. Four Lovejoy hydraulic shock absorbers are standard equipment.

The four-wheel brakes are fully enclosed and protected from the effects of dirt and water. The rear axle, transmission and drive shaft have been improved to provide greater strength and dependability.

Yet this better car sells at greatly reduced prices. And comparison with any low-priced automobile will reveal a difference in value far greater than the difference in price!

Funeral Surpassed Only by Kings' to be Conducted

Notables Will Meet Body of Former Dictator

Troops Will Render Honors as Cortege Goes By

MADRID, March 17. (AP)—Funeral honors surpassed only by those rendered a Spanish sovereign will be accorded former Premier Primo de Rivera, who dominated Spain for seven years but died an exile in Paris. The Cabinet decided today that he should be buried with the same ceremonies he would have had if he had been Premier when he died, or as a captain-general dying in active command of forces. Premier Berenguer and his ministers officially resolved that their predecessor deserved this honor and full tribute to his patriotic services, overlooking particularly his ending the Moroccan trouble.

When the train bearing the body from France crosses the border it will be met by the ministers of the King's Cabinet, high officials of the Patriotic Union, relatives and representatives of the King and the Premier Cabinet. They will accompany it to Madrid.

Honors will be paid at special altars in the station. Then, with the coffin draped in the national colors and with a Spanish flag over Primo's breast, an artillery caisson will begin the slow march to San Ysidro cemetery. Troops from all branches of military service will line the route of march, rendering military honors. The King's representative, probably one of his sons, Don Jaime, will follow. The King is not expected to march in the funeral because of tradition, but probably will attend special mass at the time of burial.

High Catholic dignitaries are expected to participate in the funeral, as Primo was a devout Catholic.

NOTAS TELEGRAFICAS

Imponentes Honras para Primo de Rivera

MADRID, Marzo 17.—Van a tributársele al ex-primer ministro Primo de Rivera., que dictó la ley en España durante seis años, y murió desterrado en Paris, honores póstumos casi tan imponentes como los de un monarca, pues el consejo ha decidido hoy que sea sepultado el referido personaje con las ceremonias que le hubieran correspondido si hubiese muerto siendo primer ministro, o con las que se rinden a un capitán general que muere en servicio activo.

El primer ministro Berenguer y sus colegas acordaron oficialmente que su predecesor merecía este honor, y rindieron tributo a sus patrióticos servicios, haciendo especial hincapié en el hecho de que puso fin a la enojosa situación en Marruecos.

Cuando el tren que desde Francia conduce el cuerpo del ex-dictador llegue a la frontera española, será recibido por los ministros del consejo de Primo de Rivera, los altos funcionarios de la Unión Patriótica, parientes y representantes del Rey, y el consejo de ministros de Berenguer. Toda esta comitiva acompañará el cadáver hasta Madrid.

El Organo Ateo Ruso Ataca al Papa

MOSCU, Marzo 17.—Para contrarrestar las plegarias del Papa en favor de los cristianos rusos, "el periódico sin Dios", o sea, el órgano oficial ateo soviético, ha ordenado hoy a todos los ateos que mobilicen sus fuerzas el miércoles, día señalado para las plegarias, y hagan demostraciones en masa contra la religión y la intervención extranjera.

Dice que Pío XI se ha valido del fanatismo religioso para incitar "a las masas atrasadas contra la Unión Soviética". La citada publicación irreligiosa, que circula en toda la nación, critica al Papa en lenguaje violento y ofensivo, diciendo que se están organizando en Italia, Polonia, Bulgaria y otros paises bandas de forajidos para atacar a la Unión Soviética, y que el Papa encabeza una cruzada del capital contra la república proletaria soviet. "Le ayudan", dice el periódico, "rabinos judíos, sacerdotes ortodoxos y ministros bautistas y evangelistas". Añade el citado órgano que a ellos se han unido bandas de personas fuera de la ley, cuyo objeto es destruir la Unión Soviética.

Como quiera que se ha propuesto salir de Washington el sábado, es de dudarse que tenga ocasión de visitar la escuela de Dark Hollow, cuyo establecimiento se debe a él muy principalmente.

Rich New Yorker Reaches Home Near Collapse

Barn at Princeton Believed to Have Been Prison

NEW YORK, March 17. (Exclusive)—Bruised and half starved, Samuel Barron, wealthy partner in the Barsam Realty Corporation with offices on lower Broadway, who was kidnaped near his home in Interlaken, N. J., four and a half days ago, returned to his family there today. He was near collapse.

Barron later told Prosecutor Quinn of Monmouth county that early this morning his captors, who had kept him tied and blindfolded, aroused him, pushed him into a car and after a short drive threw him into the road. He removed the bandage from his eyes, he said, and found himself on a road between Princeton and Trenton.

Only after being treated by his physician was Barron able to give a coherent story of his misadventure. Barron said he believed the place where he was kept a prisoner was a barn somewhere near Princeton.

Examination showed that Barron had a deep cut in the forehead, apparently inflicted with a blackjack; one of his eyes was discolored, his body was bruised and his clothes were muddy and caked with blood.

Whether any demand was made on Barron for money during his captivity Prosecutor Quinn would not say.

...GOES... 200 EXTRA MILES

New oil represents science's latest advancement in the realm of lubrication

NOW, all over the west, countless thousands of motorists are obtaining 200 Extra Miles of Lubrication by merely filling their crankcases with MOTORITE, the Union Motor Oil for high compression cars.

MOTORITE enjoys a superoiliness that assures an ever-present slippery film between piston rings and cylinder walls when your motor is hot.

Another advantage is that MOTORITE resists dilution by "giving up" any stray gasoline quickly in the form of vapor... without sacrificing the efficiency, or "life" of the oil. Too, it forms a perfect piston seal which itself prevents gasoline from reaching the crankcase.

The small amount of carbon deposited by MOTORITE is soft and fluffy, much unlike the hard, gritty carbon common to many oils. This means no clogged or sticky valves due to carbon...less wear on your high compression motor.

A fourth advantage is MOTORITE'S great capacity for giving up and carrying away heat. This feature assures cool bearings and is noticed particularly when traveling long distances at sustained high speeds.

And MOTORITE is equally efficient at all temperatures. At starting, when piston clearances are greatest, it is more viscous, or thick. Then as the engine warms and the metal parts expand MOTORITE reduces its viscosity in just the proper ratio to assure 100% efficient lubrication.

25¢ a Quart

MOTORITE, though second to none in quality costs only 25c a quart. It's available at all Union Oil Company service stations and wherever you see the MOTORITE sign.

Use it exclusively and drain your crankcase 200 miles farther than you have been in the habit of doing.

The High Compression Twins

For ideal results in high compression motoring do this:

1. Lubricate with MOTORITE the only motor oil built specifically for high compression cars.
2. Fuel with UNION ETHYL, the pioneer anti-knock gasoline.

Foremost authorities agree that this combination guarantees you maximum efficiency from your high compression car.

White Lion Born at Gay's Farm

EL MONTE, March 17.—A white lion, said to be the first born in captivity, was born at Gay's Lion Farm here last Saturday. The mother lioness was sired by Numa, famous movie lion, while her cubs were sired by Black Prince, imported African lion and prize beauty of the farm.

There were four cubs in the litter. Three of them were nearly white and the fourth entirely white, with the exception of faint tan color on top of his head. Charles Gay, owner of the farm, has named him "A.T." for A. T. Collison, president of the First National Bank of El Monte, who will soon officially christen the cub with ceremony.

Mrs. Gay fed the new-born babe from a nursing bottle of goat's milk before the hundreds of visitors to the farm on Sunday.

HOLD-UP VICTIM DROPS DEAD

Angeleno in San Diego Reports Robbery by Two Youths and Dies Within Half an Hour

SAN DIEGO, March 17.—Belief that Ben Schubert, 44 years of age, of Los Angeles, may have been murdered by two men who robbed him Saturday night after taking him for a ride, spurred police and Coroner's officers into a searching investigation of the case. Schubert, visiting here, fell dead in the lobby of a downtown hotel less than half an hour after he had been taken to police headquarters and reported the theft from his person of $50.

An autopsy performed in the body failed to reveal any cause of death and Coroner Schuyler Kelly had the contents of the stomach analyzed.

Schubert told police in his report that he met two young men early Saturday night in front of his hotel. The three went riding and stopped at several houses in the city where drinks were procured, he said.

Shortly before midnight, Schubert said, the men he was with stopped the car near the high school and robbed him. The victim cried for help and attracted two passers-by who frightened off the hold-up men and took Schubert to central police headquarters.

While making his report there, Schubert appeared unsteady and dazed and dropped dead less than a half-hour later.

The car in which he was taken for a ride by the two youthful companions was recovered by police and was found to have been stolen a week ago. The license plates had been changed, thus making discovery of the car difficult, Detective Sergeant George Cooley, investigating the case, said. Cooley arrested one suspect in the case today, although he said he did not believe he was involved in the robbery.

Former Member of State Senate Host at Dinner

POMONA, March 17.—Cadet Taylor, former member of the State Legislature, was host Saturday evening to Senators who took over his duties at the State capital three years ago when he suffered serious injuries from being struck down by an automobile while at his duties in Sacramento. Included as guests at dinner were State Senators Harry A. Chamberlin, Newton M. Allen, Herbert J. Ebsan, J. M. McKinley and Frank C. Weller.

These men, Senator Taylor stated, volunteered their services and together carried on the numerous activities in which he had been engaged for the benefit of his constituency. During the evening, many citizens prominent in city, State and county affairs, called at the Taylor home to pay their respects to the venerable legislator.

Prisoner Escapes From Road Camp

SAN DIEGO, March 17.—Taking advantage of the inclement weather, Ramon Lopez, 27 years of age, escaped from the county road camp in Borego Valley, twenty-two miles east of Julian, down San Felipe Wash, Sheriff Ed Cooper learned today. All trace of the fugitive was washed away by the rain squalls, the camp superintendent, R. B. Taylor, reported. Several parties of deputies and camp trusties are keeping up the search.

Lopez, described as short and swarthy, was understood to be wearing two suits of clothing, covered by overalls, to protect him from the cold of desert and mountain nights. He was thought to have headed in the general direction of Mexico.

He had been committed to the camp for three months for battery from San Diego.

While search was going on, Robert M. Payne, assertedly illegally committed to the road camp for ninety days, also for asserted battery and from police court, instituted habeas corpus proceedings in Superior Court to gain release from confinement. Judge Andrews granted the petition, making it returnable for hearing tomorrow morning.

San Diego Takes Steps Relieving Unemployment

SAN DIEGO, March 17.—Steps toward quick relief of the unemployment situation were taken today when several improvement projects were approved and provision made to furnish the money. Most important was the plan to enlarge Morena reservoir and spillway, to cost around $70,000. Another step was to authorize the expenditure of $18,000 for replacing water mains.

For the Morena job four bids were received and referred to the purchasing agent for a report this afternoon. The bids received were approximately as follows: Monarch-Breen Company, $67,000; Gist & Bell, $70,000; Miracle Construction Company, $72,000; Butterfield Construction Company, $80,000. It is probable that the Council will accept one of these bids this afternoon and within the next few days the contract will be signed.

At the request of City Manager Lockwood, the purchasing agent was authorized to buy pipe in the open market with which to re-lay worn out mains. For this work an appropriation of $18,000 was made to be distributed as follows: Replacing mains in Santa Barbara street, $11,700; replacing mains in Market street, $3750; mains in Commonwealth avenue, $300; new mains in a part of Palm street, $1000; mains in Dodson street, $300.

Ortega Highway Cost Estimate Set at Meeting

RIVERSIDE, March 17.—Cost of the proposed Ortega Highway over the mountains from Elsinore to San Juan Capistrano was set at $675,000 at a conference conducted here today between members of the joint county road district and Riverside County Supervisors.

According to the report presented the Riverside board and which is to be placed before the Orange County Supervisors tomorrow, it is expected the State will furnish $225,000 of the amount needed.

Orange county, which has already expended about $100,000 on the portion of the road completed from San Juan Capistrano inland, will be expected to put up another $300,000, and Riverside county to furnish the remaining $150,000.

When these plans are approved by both supervisorial boards, Chairman Jameson said that he would go to San Francisco with Mayor Frank Champion of Laguna Beach and Supervisor George Jeffrey of Orange county, the other members of the district board, and A.C. Fulmer, Riverside county surveyor, who is official engineer for the district, to present the completed plan to B. B. Meek, State Highway Commissioner, and the State Highway Commission. The men from the two counties expect to go north Wednesday night.

Supervisor Jeffrey, Nat H. Neff, Orange county highway superintendent; Mayor Champion and Dep. Dist.-Atty. Blodgett of Orange county were present at the conference today with the Riverside Supervisors.

The latter, with Dist.-Atty. Albert Ford, prepared the final draft of the proposition for approval by the two counties prior to its presentation to the State.

ASSISTANT GIVEN TO CHAMBER SECRETARY

SAN FERNANDO, March 17.—Members of the local Chamber of Commerce have voted to employ an assistant for Secretary C. C. Arrowsmith while the latter is busy outside signing up new members. When Arrowsmith came here last summer to take up the work of the chamber there was only a small roll of paid-up members. The chamber now has 168, with the prospects of the roll reaching 200 before Arrowsmith finishes his outside contacts.

STABBING ENIGMA REVIVED

Mystery of Attack With Knife on Eduardo Ruiz, Who Died from Wounds in 1928, Revived

SANTA ANA, March 17.—The mystery of who stabbed Eduardo Ruiz, 38-year-old Yorba Mexican, who died with his lips clamped tightly on the secret, was revived today after lying dormant for a year and a half, with the arrest of four men who are being held for investigation by the authorities.

Ellsworth R. (Pete) Fuller, 34, Placentia pruner; Martine Valencia, 46; Avilino Cruz, 51, and Enriquez McGee, 72, all Yorba laborers, are the men who were rounded up over the week-end in a sudden thrust by the authorities, following several weeks of work upon newly discovered clews. Fuller and Valencia are in the County Jail, the others being held in the Anaheim City Jail.

Despite grilling of the men under arrest, little of a definite nature has been learned to throw light upon the stabbing of Ruiz, according to Dep. Dist.-Atty. Leo Friis, who is in charge of the investigation. Friis announced, however, that the knife believed to have been used upon Ruiz has been found, having been located in a hiding place near McGee's house.

Ruiz, who was stabbed September 26, 1928, and died September 29 at the County Hospital, after refusing to disclose details of the attack, had said with almost his last breath that if he died he did not want anything done about it, and, if he recovered, he would handle the matter himself. His story that he had been stabbed by two strangers whom he met while walking along a road was discounted by the authorities, who have information, they say, which leads them to believe that Ruiz was stabbed during a drunken quarrel in a house at Yorba.

RADIO LAW IN EFFECT WEDNESDAY

Redland's New Ordinance Designed for Protection of Reception There

REDLANDS, March 17.—The new radio ordinance, which is designed to assure better radio reception by eliminating noises that plague the radio fans, becomes effective Wednesday. Radio dealers and Building Inspector M. E. Armstrong will confer this week on plans for enforcement of the statute.

The law regulates the use of electrical equipment and other appliances, which might interfere with the reception of radio programs. Penalties are provided for persons who refuse to co-operate with the campaign to make radio reception more perfect. It is unlawful for anyone to operate any apparatus generating high-frequency oscillations or radiations, which interfere with radio-receiving apparatus.

The dentists, osteopaths, chiropractors and physicians are allowed to operate such machines only after they have used all reasonable means to prevent interference.

The building inspector, by the act, is made "radio-interference inspector," and is given the right to enter upon any premises at reasonable hours for the purpose of inspecting the installation and working of electrical apparatus. Interference with his inspection is made a violation of the ordinance.

Persons found using unprotected apparatus will be notified by the inspector to desist, or to make such additions as to comply with the law. If notice is not complied with in forty-eight hours the offender will be charged with a misdemeanor and be subject to a fine of not more than $300 or imprisonment in the City Jail for not more than three months, or by fine and imprisonment, at discretion of the judge.

What No Dance? Ask Up-to-Date Grandfathers

NORTH LOS ANGELES, March 17.—The Grandmothers' Club gave a party in the Woman's clubhouse at which all the grandfathers in this section were invited to be guests of honor. This party was given by the old-fashioned grandmothers' group of the club, for while there was a music program in which many old songs were sung, no card games or dancing was permitted.

The old-fashioned grandfathers had an enjoyable time. Some of the modern grandfathers present were not so sure but what a little spell of the Old Dan Tucker dancing could have helped out a bit. They will be the next guests of honor as a group. It is probable the program will be arranged to suit their up-to-date tendencies, it is stated.

Freesia Farm Will Be Filmed

SAN FERNANDO, March 17.—Motion pictures in color are to be taken of the forty-acre freesia farm here, according to plans of a Hollywood studio in conjunction with the local Chamber of Commerce.

The freesia farm, which is owned by Alois Frey, is the largest of its kind in the world and within a few days, will be a veritable mass of vari-colored blossoms. The fragrance of the blooms is noticeable in the vicinity of the farm and thousands of motorists visit the field during the season when the blossoms are at their best.

When the field is filmed by the motion-picture company, the girls' glee club and orchestra from the local high school will furnish music for the sound pictures. The freesia farm is located on Sayre avenue between San Fernando and the United States Veterans' Hospital northeast of this city.

NEAR-BY AREA SHOWS LARGE BEAN PROFIT

CLAREMONT, March 17.—According to reports just made, the Camarillo warehouse of the Southern Pacific Milling Company, of which John Cawelti is manager, handled a larger crop of lima beans than any other house of the company this year. The warehouse handled 113,829 100-pound sacks, valued at about $1,000,000. The crop at Somis was about the same, it is reported, making the total crop grown in the Camarillo-Somis area worth about $2,000,000. The Camarillo warehouse also handled 41,130 sacks of barley. During the heaviest part of the season fifty men and thirty women were employed.

TWO CRASHES MAR OUTINGS

Three Persons in San Antonio Hospital, One Seriously Injured, as Aftermath of Accidents Near Upland

UPLAND, March 17.—Thrills of week-end outings abruptly halted two motoring parties here, one against a Pacific Electric freight train and the other upside down at the mouth of San Antonio Canyon.

Three persons went to San Antonio Community Hospital as result of the crashes. The more seriously injured is Miss Mildred Chenault, 18 years of age, of the Canyon Springs ranch, north of Etiwanda, who received a broken leg and, it is feared, fractures and severe wounds about the head. She was riding with Melvin Hobbs, 24, of Chino. Miss Ruth Neymire, 16, of Ontario; Irma Chenault, 17, and Floyd Foster, 23, of Canyon Springs ranch. Hobbs was driver of the car and evidently did not see the Pacific Electric freight train moving across the Euclid-avenue intersection. The automobile crashed into the side of a car.

Miss Chenault and Hobbs are confined to the hospital. The others received treatment and were discharged.

Miss Dolores Grace, 19, of Downey was in an automobile with Bert Coates, Clinton Douglas and A. R. Holton, all of Downey. Holton was driver of the car, according to police records. It is charged Holton drove his car at an excessive speed in the canyon in racing with another machine. Slipping from the highway, the car overturned and pinned all occupants under it. Miss Grace received injuries to her back which necessitated a trip to the hospital.

Holton was placed under arrest by Traffic Officer C. S. Lehman of this city and will appear before Judge George R. Crane Friday on a reckless-driving charge.

SAILOR FATALLY INJURED; ANOTHER AND GIRL HURT

VENTURA, March 17.—One person was killed, another is in a critical condition in a hospital, and six others sustained injuries in automobile accidents in and near this city over the week-end.

Dwight B. Wilmot, 22-year-old sailor attached to the U.S.S. Idaho, now anchored at Long Beach, was fatally injured Saturday night when the car he was driving skidded across the pavement and into a telephone pole near the Advance Service Station at the juncture of Telephone Road and Ventura Boulevard.

Wilmot was rushed to the County Hospital, where it was found that he was suffering from a fractured skull, broken legs and arm, and internal injuries. He died yesterday. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Wilmot of Long Beach.

Fred Row, 18-year-old sailor "buddy" of Wilmot's, and Rita Master, 22, of Long Beach, were injured in the crash. Row seriously. They were passengers in the Wilmot machine and both assert they were asleep when the crash occurred.

Row sustained a broken nose, broken collarbone, broken ribs, deep face wounds, and a wound on the left leg, and is in critical condition at St. Johns Hospital, Oxnard, where he and Miss Masters were taken. The girl sustained face wounds, but is reported out of danger.

Italian Order Organized in Ventura County

VENTURA, March 17.—The Ventura county lodge of the New Order of the Sons of Italy had its first public installation of officers in Oxnard yesterday afternoon, several hundred men and women of Italian blood and descent being present and the occasion being one of the most noted of the sort ever held in the county.

The new officers, with Augustine Peirano of Los Posas at their head as Venerable of the Lodge, were installed by Domenico Iannarone, chief of the order in California.

The ceremonies began with a parade which, forming at the G. Ferro Santa Clara Rancho on Vineyard avenue, consisted of more than a mile of decorated automobiles, with American and Italian flags and streamers flying. The parade moved down Vineyard avenue through El Rio and, at the outskirts of Oxnard, was met by a band and moved through the principal business street, around the plaza and to the lodge hall, where the installation ceremonies were impressively completed. A feature of the parade was the queen, Miss Gallio of Ojai, mounted on a beautifully decorated chariot.

Citizens Oppose Clay-Plant Site

ALHAMBRA, March 17.—Signatures of more than 700 local citizens were affixed to a petition presented today to the County Board of Supervisors requesting that county territory adjoining the southwestern portion of the city be zoned as a residential section. The petition was referred to Supervisor Henry W. Wright.

The petition is directed against the Gladding-McBean Company of Los Angeles, brick and clay-products firm, which holds an option on a proposed clay-pit site in the hills south of the Granada Park district here, near El Paseo street.

A large delegation of Granada Park citizens appeared at the Supervisors' meeting to file the petition.

A similar petition from the Alhambra City Planning Commission was also filed with the county.

City Charter's Revision Asked

ALHAMBRA, March 17.—Revision of the city charter was requested today in a petition signed by twenty citizens and filed with City Clerk R. Bruce Wallace for presentation to the City Commission tomorrow. The petition asks that the City Commission prepare an ordinance calling for nominations of fifteen freeholders to be elected in June.

The belief that the city has outgrown its present charter is the major reason for the effort, according to L. R. Hibbard, former candidate for president of the City Commission and one of the leaders of the attempt to secure a new charter.

CONSERVATION OF WATER IN VENTURA

VENTURA, March 17. — Water spreading operations to fill underground reservoirs were started at the Piru beds of the Santa Clara River today by the Santa Clara Valley water conservation district. V. M. Freeman, engineer for the district, announced.

The water is still too muddy from the recent storm to be turned into the lakes at Saticoy, Freeman asserted. It probably will be spread there in a few days, he said.

Before the storm, eighty acre feet a day had been poured underground at the Saticoy pond system, Freeman stated.

He described the rains that just ended as of great benefit to the valley, but not insuring the summer's water supply.

THREE PRIESTS TAKE PART IN LAST RITES

VENTURA, March 17.—The funeral chapel of Oliver Reardon was a mass of flowers today as friends and relatives from all over Ventura county and from various cities of the State came for the last rites of Charles B. McDonnell, former City Councilman who passed away at his home Friday. Father John Howard of the Ojai spoke briefly at the services in the funeral parlors, and Father Henry Mead said mass at the services in the old mission. Father P. J. Grogan conducted the services at Ivy Lawn Cemetery, and was followed by the funeral ritual of the local Order of Elks, who attended in a body.

NEBRASKAN, FORMER STATE SOLON, DIES

GARDENA, March 17.—John R. Van Boskirk, 80 years of age, a former State Senator of Nebraska, died at his home at 17201 Moore avenue here last night. Van Boskirk, who was elected to the Nebraska State Legislature in 1901, had made his home here for five years, where his daughter, Mrs. Fay Dwyer, resides. Services will be conducted tomorrow afternoon from the W. J. Whittington chapel and interment will be by cremation. The deceased was a member of the Masonic Lodge of Alliance, Neb.

Hundred and Third Birthday is Celebrated

RIVERSIDE, March 17.—Alfred Louis Maddox, Riverside county's oldest resident, today celebrated his 103rd birthday. Maddox, who until after his 100th birthday resided alone on his 130-acre ranch near Temecula, now lives in Riverside with a niece, Mrs. T. A. Barnett.

In giving his yearly birthday interview to newspaper men today, Maddox declared, as he always does on such occasions, that "Abraham Lincoln was the greatest man who ever lived." Admiration of Lincoln has become a sort of hero worship with him, and he loves to tell at great length of the Emancipator's virtues. Maddox is a native of Texas and was virtually ostracised by his southern friends because he insisted on serving in the Union Army throughout the war.

ROTARY HEAD HONORED

SAN FERNANDO, March 17.—With District Governor Harvey Lyon of Oakland present as the guest of honor, the local Rotary Club celebrated the first anniversary of receipt of its charter with a dinner-dance here Saturday night in the Porter Hotel. Other guests included officers of Rotary clubs in the San Fernando Valley and former District Governor Herbert Harris of Whittier.

TELEPHONE HEARINGS TO RESUME

Consulting Engineer for City of Redlands to Take Stand Today in Rate Case

REDLANDS, March 17.—Barry Dibble, consulting engineer for the city, goes back on the stand here tomorrow in the city's fight before the Railroad Commission for lower telephone rates.

Following the one-day hearing held more than a month ago in the Council chamber of the City Hall, it was stated by Thomas S. Louttit, president of the State commission, who presided, by Dibble and by A. N. Johns, vice-president and chief engineer of the Western Utilities Corporation, parent organization to the Southwestern Home Telephone Company, of Redlands, and others, that the March hearing would probably require three or four days. The sessions, it is expected, will be held in the same place as the previous hearing.

In its complaint to the commission, the city representatives contend that the present rates, established in 1921, are too high. It was also suggested that the Redlands exchange, the largest in the company's system, aid in the financing of smaller systems which are maintained in Beaumont, Banning, Hemet, San Jacinto, Perris, Elsinore and Temecula.

Since the first stage of the hearing, Railroad Commission engineers have gone through the company's records here, establishing the authenticity of the company's reports to the State, so that the hearing can continue without a hitch.

Having had ample opportunity to study the city's attitude, the telephone company is expected to give City Attorney Walter J. Hartzell and Dibble an active day or so defending the city's position.

Closing hours of the first hearing indicated the trend that the continued hearing will take.

The attorneys argued at length over every advantage gained by either side during the afternoon and evening. Johns participated in the questioning of Dibble until Commissioner Louttit insisted that only one person be allowed to speak for each side.

WORK ON NEW WALNUT PLANT TO START SOON

The site for the plant will be alongside the Southern Pacific tracks, near Reseda Boulevard. More than $1500 of the $1850 pledged to acquire the site has been raised.

MORE PLANETS MAY SHOW

Dr. John A. Anderson, Mt. Wilson Astronomer, Admits Possibility of Finding Others

PASADENA, March 17.—The possibility that discovery of Planet X by Lowell Observatory astronomers may be followed by discoveries of additional hitherto unknown planets rotating about the sun at even greater distances, was admitted today by Dr. John A. Anderson, Mt. Wilson Observatory astronomer in active charge of construction of California Institute of Technology's 200-inch telescope.

"It it is not at all certain that there are not additional planets beyond that discovered at Flagstaff, but it probably will take years of study to find them in the event they do exist," asserted Dr. Anderson in reply to questions.

The Mt. Wilson authority stated that it will be necessary to perform a vast amount of calculations of the motion of Planet X before possible irregularities caused by the influence of other wandering brothers of the earth could be ascertained.

Dr. Anderson asserted that the discovery of a ninth world will not affect the design of the 200-inch telescope and that no special equipment for studying the new planet will be required.

"I believe that the diameter of the new planet will have been measured with the 100-inch telescope on Mt. Wilson long before the 200-inch instrument is completed," he added.

Until information as to the location and path of Planet X is obtained Mt. Wilson astronomers will make no attempt to locate the new planet on their collection of photographic plates, according to Prof. Frederick H. Seares, assistant director of the Mt. Wilson Observatory.

A waste of time would result from an attempt to locate the planet on the plates until additional data are received, Prof. Seares asserted.

If the tiny light-dot representing Planet X can be found on plates sufficiently far apart in their exposure times, calculation of the distance, speed and path of the newcomer will be simplified considerably, according to Dr. Seth B. Nicholson, in charge of sunspot research at the Mt. Wilson institution.

STORM DAMAGE TO PORT PROJECT FIXED

Survey of the damage inflicted on the southerly end of Reservation Point by the week-end storm was completed yesterday by D. E. Hughes, United States resident engineer. Mr. Hughes said that in addition to loss of the rock revetment 8000 cubic yards of earth were washed away and that 4000 additional yards are expected to be lost.

Expense of replacement will be borne by the government, the project having been accepted from the contractor, the San Francisco Bridge Company, last August.

Maj. Robert F. Heterick, former chief of the port quarantine service here and now United States Public Health Service director of Southern California, was a visitor at the port yesterday. Maj. Heterick was here to serve with Maj. H. A. Spencer, local quarantine chief, on a medical board to examine Lieut. (j. g.) H. T. Jewell, executive officer of the local Coast Guard base, for promotion.

Java-Pacific Line's steamer Bengkalis was in from the Dutch East Indies yesterday with 1000 tons of manioc meal, rubber, spices and hemp for local discharge. The Batoe, sister ship in service of the Bangkalis, will arrive from the north tomorrow to load 1200 tons of canned goods and machinery for Java direct.

Dodwell & Co., agent for Java-Pacific, will also handle two Barber Line vessels this week; the Tai Yin tomorrow afternoon, from Manila, and the Raby Castle, from around-the-world via New York, to pick up passengers and cargo for the Orient.

The Norwegian whaling factory ships C. A. Larsen and Sir James Clarke Ross, previously scheduled to come here on their way home to Norway from the Ross Sea area in the Antarctic, have been ordered via Balboa direct from the Antarctic. News to this effect was received yesterday by KOK, Mackay radio station, in short-wave conversation with the C. A. Larsen.

Sixty thousand feet of sound films in colors, depicting cannibals, reptiles and bird life in New Guinea, were brought back by J. C. Cook, veteran film photographer, and three men, arriving yesterday on the Chinyo Maru. With him were his son, Junior, and two cowboys, William Jackson and Virgil Nixson. They told of a 200-mile trek up a river, chopping their way sometimes a mile a day; of seeing firefiles so big that on bushes they resembled Christmas trees. And they told of three being struck by the cannibals' poisoned arrows, blown through hollow reeds. A guide brewed a tea from a certain root and saved their lives, but the three still bear evidences of the wounds. N. Fujimura, new Japanese Vice-Consul to New York, also disembarked.

The Dollar globe-girdler President Garfield sailed for the Orient via San Francisco yesterday after disembarking forty-eight travelers and embarking a score. William Hamilton, collector of customs at San Francisco, passed through. Embarking here as a stopover passenger was Armand Emanuel, heavyweight fighter and lawyer, en route to his home in San Francisco. Charles M. Patterson, of the Chinese customs service, sailed for Shanghai, as did Leslie P. Mick, representative of American egg-drying machines used in China to dry thousands of tons for American consumption.

Donaldson Line's new steamer Sulairia, here from United Kingdom on her second voyage, sailed north last night after discharging 15,000 bunches of Panama bananas and European cargo, for Balfour-Guthrie & Co. In for the latter also was the Knutsen motorship John Bakke, to drop 2000 bunches of bananas from Puntarenas, and disembark several passengers.

BAKERY CHAIN PROFITS RISE

Van de Kamp's Earnings for 1929 Up 32 Per Cent

Income Equals $3.34 a Share on Common Stock

Expansion Program Calls for Twenty Stores Here

Net profits of Van de Kamp's Holland Dutch Bakers, Inc., for the year closed December 31, last, amounted to $188,086.16 after all charges, including Federal income-tax reserve, equal after preferred dividends to $3.34 a share on the average number of common shares outstanding during the period, according to a statement issued yesterday.

These profits compare with $119,391.15 earned after all charges in 1928, which were equivalent after preferred dividends to $2.50 a share on the 40,000 common shares then outstanding, and represent an increase of $68,695, or more than 32 per cent. There are at present 44,000 shares outstanding out of a total of 100,000 authorized.

Directors recently declared an extra dividend of 12½ cents a common share payable April 1, next, having declared a similar extra the previous quarter. The stock is on an annual dividend basis of $1.50 a share payable quarterly.

Sales for the year aggregated $2,642,845.66, against $2,112,752.86 in 1928, an increase of 25 per cent, and the net operating profits after sales, operating, general and administrative expenses totaled $262,508.29.

Plans to establish twenty new stores in the Los Angeles territory during the current year and to invade a number of Coast cities under a policy of aggressive expansion were recently announced. At the close of the year the company operated ninety-seven stores, seventy-four in this district, twenty-one in Seattle, one in Portland and one in Long Beach.

Last May the Chatterton bakeries of Seattle were acquired. Six of the Chatterton stores were kept and fifteen new locations added. A major portion of the development and remodeling expense in the Seattle district was written off 1929 earnings, it was stated.

The one store in Portland, now being supplied from Seattle, is said to be a start toward the establishment of a chain in Oregon. Negotiations are also in progress for additional stores at Long Beach.

Deposit of Aero Stock Exceeds Merger Terms

Officials of the Western Air Express Corporation announced yesterday the deposit of 87 per cent of the outstanding shares of the Aero Corporation of California in accordance with the merger agreement entered into by the two companies. The deposit of this amount of stock was reported by trustee, the Security-First National Bank, as of the 15th inst., the date on which 70 per cent of the Aero stock had to be deposited in order to make the merger effective.

Additional shares will be accepted for deposit up until the 22nd inst., it was announced, in order to make the consolidation as nearly unanimous as possible. Directors of the Western Air Express are expected to meet early next week to officially place the merger into effect.

Under the terms of the agreement, twelve shares of Aero Corporation were exchanged for one share of Western Air Express.

Schloessmann Turns New Lap in Bank Field

On the third anniversary of the German American Savings Bank of Los Angeles today, Carl L. Schloessmann, president and founder of the bank, will complete the twenty-fifth year of his career which began in 1905 with the Wells Fargo Bank and Union Trust Company in San Francisco.

In 1906 Mr. Schloessmann became manager of the foreign-exchange department of the American National Bank of Denver, Colo., and also representative of the Banco Di Napoli of Naples, Italy. Later he was appointed representative of American periodicals in Paris.

In 1914 Mr. Schloessmann was an officer of the Kaspare Cohn Bank which is now the Union Bank and Trust Company of Los Angeles, which office he held until 1918 when he became cashier of the Guggenheim Company in San Francisco. Realizing the need of a bank strictly for savings or special savings with checking privileges, he devoted his efforts to organizing three years ago the institution he now heads.

It is indicated that the start of the second quarter will develop heavier releases in tonnage for automotive part forgers in this district who have been enjoying a larger volume of business than the general trend of the automotive situation would seem to warrant.

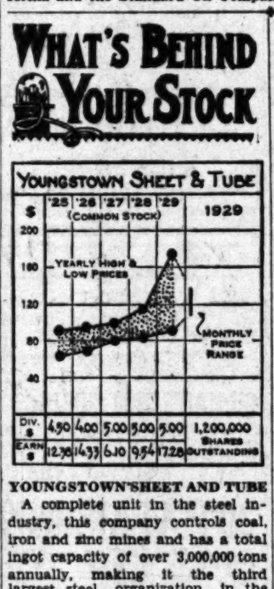
STANDARD OIL UNITS READY

California and Jersey Companies Expected to Combine if Vacuum Decision Favorable

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Should the government approve the proposed combination of the Standard Oil Company of New York with the Vacuum Oil Company, next on the program will probably be the Standard Oil Company of California and the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey.



Despite the denials of this report when circulated a few months ago, it is well understood in the oil business that only the possibility of government disapproval has deterred Messrs. Kingsbury and Teagle from joining forces. It is generally believed that such a combination has been frequently discussed and tentatively agreed upon, and now hinges entirely on the government's attitude in the Standard of New York-Vacuum Oil merger.

IS FIRST TEST

What the government decides on the proposition now up for its consideration will be the first official test of the antitrust laws on the legality of combining former members of the old Standard Oil Company. The New York Standard and the Vacuum companies have contended, in announcing their determination to test the law, that the two units are not competitive, but are complementary.

Reasons are not hard to find for the reported efforts of Messrs. Kingsbury and Teagle to consolidate the California and Jersey companies. Unquestionably the freedom of action enjoyed in this country by the Shell Union Oil Corporation, Royal Dutch-Shell subsidiary, is a constant irritant to the Standard Oil group. Not only do the Standard Oil people resent personally the victorious march of their chief competitor, but their companies reputedly are at a competitive disadvantage.

While the Jersey and California Standard companies are apparently obstructed by law from setting up a nation-wide combination to compete on equal grounds in their own country with the Royal Dutch, the latter goes steadily ahead with the building of a powerful coast-to-coast business. Starting from California, the Shell Union refining and marketing system has been extended straight across the country, and now competes directly with virtually all the former Standard units in their own territories.

BENEFITS CITED

Competitive advantages of a nation-wide oil company were set forth by the Standard Oil Company of New York in its letter to stockholders announcing its proposed merger with Vacuum Oil:

"In this automobile age, each large oil company handling gasoline primarily, although formerly marketing its products in only a portion of the country, now seeks to extend its activities generally throughout the United States so as to get the most complete use of its overhead organization, of its standing with its customers, and of its national advertising."

Competitively, the Standard Oil companies are also overshadowed by the Texas Corporation, which operates from coast-to-coast as a result of combinations and general expansion. More mergers of independents with the same objective in view may follow a favorable decision in the Standard of New York proposal, to include such companies as Union Oil, Richfield, Sinclair, Barnsdall, and others.

YOUNGSTOWN SHEET AND TUBE

A complete unit in the steel industry, this company controls coal, iron and zinc mines and has a total ingot capacity of over 3,000,000 tons annually, making it the third largest steel organization in the United States. The principal products are pipe and sheets, although about 100 other products are made in the company's plant at Youngstown, O., about midway between the principal consuming centers of the country and the coal-producing areas. Other plants are located in the Chicago district, in Wisconsin and in Michigan. The iron-ore properties are in the Lake Superior region, coal properties are in Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia.

Reflecting a four-year program of increased plant efficiency during which large sums have been spent on new plants and machinery, net income for 1929 amounted to $21,564,174, or $17.28 per share on the common stock, or more than double the 1928 net of $10,446,336, or $7.95 on the common stock, figured on the present capitalization. The company is now constructing a new sheet mill to cost about $10,000,000 and to be constructed immediately at the Brier Hill plant at Youngstown.

CAPITALIZATION

Funded debt	$73,500,000
Common stock (no par shares)	1,200,000

Current data: A dispatch dated February 10, 1930, states that the company has increased plant operations to 75 per cent, or to the highest level in three months.

Strong Loser in Receiver Fight

SAN FRANCISCO, March 17. (Exclusive)—Federal Judge Louderback today denied the petition of Addison G. Strong, two-day receiver for Russell-Colvin Co., brokers, for vacation of an order removing him.

Judge Louderback's ruling says the removal was within the discretion and judgment of the court, and the Strong petition was filed after a new receiver, H. B. Hunter, had been appointed. Strong was appointed receiver last Tuesday for the brokerage firm, which has debts of $1,300,000 and assets of $1,700,000, according to a receivership petition of Gardner M. Olmsted. Thursday Judge Louderback removed him and appointed Hunter. Strong filed a petition asserting the court had attempted to "dictate" to the receiver whom he should employ as legal counsel.

American States Public Service Company in a report issued yesterday for the year ended December 31, last, showed net income before charges of $830,082 as against $733,675 for 1928, an increase of $96,407.

Gross revenues totaled $1,637,651, an increase of $77,601 over the preceding year. Operating expenses, exclusive of depreciation, for 1929 were $807,569 or $18,805 less than in 1928.

HUGE DEAL IN UTILITY FIELD DUE

Seagraves and Group Expected to Exercise Magnolia Gas Option

NEW YORK, March 17. (Exclusive)—Announcement is expected shortly on the consummation of the deal for the purchase of the Magnolia Gas Company from the Magnolio Petroleum Company, a Standard Oil Company of New York subsidiary. Action on the option obtained last year by Otis Seagraves, president of the United Gas Company, for a purchase price of $50,000,000 is expected to be made some time before the end of this month by the United Gas Company and the Electric Bond and Share Company. The option expires on the 31st inst.

It is understood that officials of the three companies met and discussed final details of the transaction today, and it is also reported that the Lone Star Gas Company and Henry L. Doherty & Co. interests have become associated with Electric Bond and Share and United Gas in the deal.

According to the original plan, the United Gas Company was to be the only purchaser of Magnolia Gas which will be taken into a combination, the largest in the natural gas industry of the world. It is now understood, although not officially announced, that Electric Bond and Share will be the principal party in the deal, with the other three companies associated with it.

The transaction will be made by payment in cash which will give a reported profit of about $28,000,000 to the Magnolia Petroleum Company. As Magnolia is a subsidiary of Standard of New York more than $1.50 a share will accrue to Standard of New York's outstanding stock.

Forces Line Up in Steel Fight

YOUNGSTOWN, March 17. (Exclusive)—Keen rivalry in the attempt to influence shareholders in this district for and against the proposed Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company-Bethlehem Steel Corporation merger is expected to be intensified early this week with the scheduled arrival of E. G. Grace, president of Bethlehem, who will co-operate with J. A. Campbell, chairman of the sheet and tube company, in a drive for proxies to swing the merger.

Opposed to this group is Cyrus S. Eaton, leader of the antimerger forces, who has been here for several days conducting a drive against the proposal. Youngstown Sheet and Tube stockholders of record the 22nd inst. will have the privilege of voting on the plan at the special shareholders' meeting to be held April 8.

Tractor Sues to Protect Patent

SAN FRANCISCO, March 17. (Exclusive)—Caterpillar Tractor Company and Pliny E. Holt filed suit in the United States District Court here today against W. H. Worden Company, local dealer for Foote Brothers Gear and Machine Company, charging infringement of basic tractor patents. Complaint alleges that Worden Company is using devices representing infringement on Holt patents obtained in 1914-1918.

Foote Brothers Gear and Machine Company recently acquired by merger the business formerly owned by Bates Manufacturing Company which for some years had manufactured track-type tractors in a small way, R. C. Force, president of Caterpillar, stated. At the time of the merger the Caterpillar Company was discussing a license with the Bates Company.

DEMAND FOR GOLD GROWS

Annual Increase in World's Stocks to Meet Call of Expanding Trade Placed at 3 Per Cent

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

NEW YORK, March 17.—Central bank leaders of the world are already at work developing a program to avoid a possible shortage of gold, tration in a few central banks of the world's monetary gold supply.

Why is more gold needed? Because world trade expansion demands roughly a 3 per cent increase each year in the total gold stock. Present gold-production figures will not produce the required amount. Rationalizing the present gold supply may be the next step.

The year 1891, with production totaling $468,504,000, was the record year for world gold output. Then gold production declined rapidly until 1922, when it reached $319,000,000. Since that time there has been a gradual increase each year until 1929, when $417,500,000 worth of the precious metal was lifted from the ground.

Slightly more than half of the annual production is available for monetary supply, upon which banking credits and reserves are built. The rest is used in industry or hoarded in China and India.

"An even distribution of the existing gold supply would not only be an economy in itself, but should—if properly insured—enable many countries to lower their individual reserve requirements," says Dominick & Dominick, New York bankers. "The past year offered striking examples of uneconomical gold hoarding, both in the United States and France, with resultant depression in England and Germany."

A further suggestion is made that gold saving might be affected by a development of the "exchange standard" system and by a concen-

How much does it cost a student to go to college? Twenty years ago a student could get through reasonably well on $500 a year, with tuition included—that is, in publicly owned universities.

But today the annual cost is probably more than twice this amount.

At Cornell, one of the largest universities, the Alumni News says that the average student must spend $1000 a year for tuition, room, board and laundry alone. But if clothing, books, fees, travel to and from Ithaca, and many other legitimate items are included, the cost is about $1400 a year.

At several western and middle-western State universities the annual cost is figured at from $750 up.

But $1000 annually is probably a close average in the 700 colleges and universities throughout the land.

Henry W. Hosford, Cleveland financier, thinks that the recent sharp cuts in the discount rates of the world's central banks show that the money market will be more capably managed during the next bull market than it was during the last one.

"The bulls now have the co-operation of the governments of the world," is the way Mr. Hosford explains this.

Renewal of Buying in List Features Session

NEW YORK, March 17. (AP)—A bull crowd rallied to the support of pivotal shares in today's stock market and succeeded in moving the general list moderately higher during a period of mixed prices. The early trading was fairly active, particularly in some of the petroleum issues, which aggregated 2,600,000 shares.

Firmer commodity markets sustained ease in credit helped forward movement. The stock market was aided by the ease in credits through the open market, government overdraft in connection with the Treasury financing, the surplus funds at the banks against income tax payments not yet reported. Call money renewed at 3½ per cent, declined to 3 during the afternoon, and was offered in the outside market at 2½. Prime commercial paper was quoted at 4 per cent to 4½ per cent for 4 to 6 months names, with some business as low as 3 3-4.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, March 17. (AP)—Although the demand for listed bonds slackened considerably today, the market retained a strong undertone and investment issues ruled firm. Advances on the averages for the industrials and rails sent the composite price of thirty bonds across par to the highest in more than a year.

Large liquidation of frozen loans held by the so-called country banks has released substantial sums for investment in this market during the past fortnight. In addition to the inquiry for the commercial banks there has been a steadily increasing demand from individuals, dealers report, and both listed and unlisted securities have been prompt to respond.

Buying of foreign bonds, which made another spurt today, is coming largely from foreign sources and has lifted this group to its highest point in some time.

Money segred again. Time loans were available at 3¾ to 4 per cent for the shorter maturities, the lowest in a long interval. Commercial paper also eased. Call loans, after renewing at 3½, dropped to 3, but funds were offered in the outside market at 2½ per cent.

Domestic securities in general did little but hold their recent gains, although buying orders for issues that had been quiet found a much stronger market. Several high-grade rails moved up a point or more, among them Union Pacific 4¼s and first 4s, and New York Central (Lake Shore) collateral 3½s.

Utilities held up well. American Telephone 5s of 1965, International Telephone 5s, Postal Telegraph 5s and North American Edison 5s attracted most of the attention.

Convertibles made a strong finish. American Telephone 4½s gained 1½ net. Atchison 4½s rose 1¼ and American I. G. Chemical 5½s closed at 105½, up 1.

A few of the United States governments went to new tops. Buying centered in the Fourth Liberties, the Treasury 4s and the Treasury 3¾s.

German and South American bonds were again strong, and many gains of 1 to 3 points developed. New highs were too numerous to mention.

New bond offerings appearing tomorrow include a $14,000,000 issue of Pere Marquette Railway first mortgage 50-year 4½s at 97.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices in order given. To expedite transmission, the close is omitted when the same as the low, and both low and close when same as high.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Strong Demand Forces Oil Shares to Higher Levels as Other Stocks Trade Lightly

Petroleum issues bounded upward on the week's opening session of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday with a demand that brought the entire list to within a fraction of the year's peak levels, completely wiping out the losses which occurred in the slight reaction at the close of last week. Practically the entire session was devoted to the oils, other sections of the list closing irregularly on a small turnover.

Richfield, on sales of more than 4000 shares, headed the activity and jumped a point to 27 1-2, 1-8 below the top for the year. The final sale crossed the board at 27. Rio Grande also spurted to within 1-8 of its top price, with a gain of 3-4 to 24 1-8, and ended the session at 23 3-4, up 3-8 net. Standard of California, despite a small turnover, jumped 1 1-2 points to 64, also 1-8 below the peak.

Macmillan Petroleum which recorded a consistent advance last week for a number of sessions, moved up 7-8 to score another new high at 26 5-8 and closed at 26, up 1-4 net. Union of California traded rapidly to advance 1 1-4 points to 46 1-4 and closed at 46. Union Associates hit 45 and ended at 44 7-8, up 3-4 net. Pacific Western firmed up 1-4 to 16 1-4, and Bolsa Chica marked a new high for the year at 1.50, and closed at 1.45, up 5 cents net.

Mixed prices were hung up at the close for issues in other sections of the board where the trading was light. Southern California Edison added 3-8 to end at 61 3-8, and three of the preferred issues of the company which moved steadily forward last week again touched new highs on a fractional advance.

Pacific Finance dropped a point to 37 1-2, and Pacific Mutual slumped 2 1-2 points to 85. Security-First National Bank yielded 1-4 to 117 1-4, while Transamerica gained a similar amount to 44 1-2.

Sales totaled 20,491 shares, valued at $532,906; previous day, 11,588 shares, valued at $234,756. Bond sales reached a new 1929-1930 peak at $80,000.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, March 17. (AP)—Stock prices on the curb exchange moved irregularly higher today, with the oils again in the forefront. Curb bonds also continued to respond to the general relaxation in credit conditions, gains of 1 to 2 points being quite common.

Brokers reported increasing public participation in curb securities, particularly in the oils which are responding to improved trade developments, and the natural gas stocks, which have been under heavy accumulation as a result of merger rumors. At least a score of specialties which show prospects of increased earnings or higher dividends were lifted to new high levels for the year.

Electric Bond and Share, which has been included in the public portfolios of several investment trusts, closed 5 points higher at 98½. American and Foreign Power warrants, American Gas and Electric, Consolidated Gas of Baltimore and several others climbed 1 to 2½ points. Arkansas and United Gas issues sold close to the year's peaks.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low and both low and close when same as the high.

Wheat Market Tone Firmer at Higher Levels

CHICAGO, March 17. (AP)—Wheat moved sharply upward in price today and held stubbornly to gains despite downspouts over Kansas and other States where moisture had been needed. Advances were associated largely with reduction of Liverpool stocks of wheat and curtailment of arrival at all British ports, as well as withdrawal of Argentine offerings abroad and cleaning up of distress holdings at Winnipeg. Furthermore, the United States wheat visible supply total today showed 2,168,000 bushels decrease.

Closing quotations on wheat were unsettled, ¾@1¼ cents a bushel higher than Saturday's finish. Corn closed ¼@1¼ cents up, oats ½@1 cent advance, and provisions at a rise of 15@25 cents.

Jumps of 3½ pence per cwt. shown at the close in the Liverpool wheat market did much to put backbone into wheat values here, and to stimulate commission house demand for Chicago future delivery.

Export purchases of North American wheat, 600,000 bushels today, were yet too small to be of much effect, especially as practically all of the wheat taken for Europe was Canadian grown.

Corn and oats advanced independently of wheat. Weather conditions unfavorable for corn movement were a feature.

"TIMES" THEATER GUIDE

MOTION PICTURES

Carthay Circle, Carthay Center—"Happy Days," Fox Grandeur film, amazes the public and shows the great possibilities of the future. The subject matter is a talented cast by other stars.

Loew's State, Broadway at Seventh—"Such Men are Dangerous." Elinor Glyn's romance imagined from Loewenstein's disappearance. A picture with appeal to women.

Million Dollar, Broadway at Third—"The Cohens and Kellys in Scotland." George Sidney and Charlie Murray get in out on Scotch places in Scotland.

Palace, Broadway between Sixth and Seventh—"New York Nights." Norma Talmadge gives the atmosphere but Gilda Gray, Ann Alley, should be entertaining to the majority.

Rita, 3300 Wilshire—"Sonny Side Up."

R.K.O., Hill at Eighth—"Playing Around." Amusing comedy full of the old stuff. Theme is the best place after all." Starring Alice White and Chester Morris.

Tower, Edwy. at 8th—"Men of Chance." Walter Huston stars get together in songs and dance and could be better.

United Artists, Edwy. nr. 9th—"Puttin' on the Ritz." Nice music by Irving Berlin. Harry Richman plays and sings.

Warners' Downtown, Hill at 7th—"Song of the West." The old horse opera is fixed to music, sung now and then by John Boles and Vivienne Segal.

Westlake, 628 Alvarado — "Sunnyside Up."

STAGE

Belasco, 1910 at 11th—"East of Suez." Reviewed in today's Times.

Hollywood Playhouse, 1735 Vine—"Emma's Boys." May Robson again attempts the problem of carrying youth and age together in a lively farce play about a new thought in the ways of love.

Majestic, Edwy. at 9th—"New Moon." Operetta is well but not quite carrying the song hit, "Lover Come Back to Me." Perry Askam and Josephine Houston.

Mission Play, San Gabriel—The beautiful Mission Play, San Gabriel, southern California, up to its usual standard. With E. D. MacLean.

President, Edwy. at 8th—"Your Uncle Dudley." Taylor Holmes plays a small-town character and indulges in some of his popular humor.

BURKE CHOSEN POLICE EXPERT

Private Detective Named to Reorganize Department

To Submit Plan Providing for Sharp Changes

Inchal Appears Puzzled by Commission's Action

Charles W. Burke, former railroad detective, Federal dry officer and more recently a private detective in Los Angeles, who was mentioned for Chief of Police of Los Angeles before Roy E. Steckel was appointed, yesterday was employed for an indefinite period by the Police Commission at $500 a month as "an expert for the reorganization of the police department." Burke's plan was submitted, but action was deferred.

CHARLES W. BURKE

The action was taken following a conference in the office of the Mayor during the day the Mayor had stated that he wanted Chief Steckel to have a free hand in the reorganization, when it became known that the commissioners were apprehensive over the action of Commissioners Thorpe and Wehn in turning up Steckel's order transferring a number of captains and lieutenants.

OPPOSED BY COE

Commissioner Coe opposed the employment of Burke on the ground that he had nothing against Burke personally he had not qualified as an expert to work on reorganization of the department. Commissioner Wehn made the motion for employment of Burke and was seconded by Drake, who stated that he did so with the understanding that he was not committed to any specific plan.

Burke, accompanied by Chief Steckel, then sat in at the meeting and Thorpe asked them if they had reached an agreement on the reorganization plan. Steckel appeared reluctant and advised Thorpe that such a matter should be the subject of careful study for several months and could not be settled in an hour or so.

Thorpe said he thought the two had reached an agreement. He had now seen a more comprehensive and complete plan than that of which he had spoken, Steckel explained to the reason he was present was that Burke had told him the commissioners desired his presence. Chief Steckel was plainly perturbed over the situation, while Burke said he thought he and the Chief could reach an agreement on the reorganization plan by next Tuesday.

STECKEL "UP IN AIR"

Chief Steckel, who afterward stated he did not know what it was all about in view of the fact that he had presented a plan some weeks ago which had not been acted on, held out for more time, as the matter went over for the present.

Commissioners Thorpe and Wehn appeared anxious to have the plan adopted as soon as possible, while Coe was noncommittal. Coe was reported to be rushing matters.

Burke's reorganization plan, in general form, provides for radical changes, including a superintendent of police over the Chief and an intelligence division of 100 men, license bureau of thirty men, intelligence bureau of sixty men, 100 special undercover men, thirty special agents for purchasing, railroad yards and harbor, with thirty-one men to guard docks and piers, and riots. There would be a superintendent of the detective division.

In other words, the department would have two branches, one for uniform work and the other for plain clothes service division, so that Chief Thorpe, each could keep an eye on the work of the other. By this method it would be impossible, it is said, for any corruption in the police to be hidden.

PROPOSED CAR DIVISION

Other phases of the plan include a motorcycle division with armored cars and men for four large districts of the city. The cars would be equipped with tear gas, machine guns and rifles, the latter to be used in quelling the fifteen present armed holdups and bandit murders. The plan provides for 111 men in each of the fifteen divisions, which, according to Burke, could be done with the present personnel of 2668 men.

WE MUST HAVE THIS WATER

There are many reasons why the bond issue of $38,800,000 for the completion of the Los Angeles city water system so far as it relates to Inyo and Mono counties should be approved by the city voters at the election to be held next May 20. Chief among them is the fact that the city must have this additional water supply, without which it will face a shortage in the near future. Another is that the properties and rights which are to be acquired are worth the money. A third is that the construction work which will result from the passage of this bond issue will aid in relieving unemployment. A fourth is that the bonds, principal and interest, will be paid for out of water revenues and will constitute no burden whatever on the taxpayers.

The phenomenal rate of increase of Los Angeles population has so far outstripped its facilities that we must have more water immediately if the city's growth is not to be braked down by an actual shortage of this prime essential. Such a shortage can only be prevented by the immediate purchase of additional lands and water rights in Owens Valley.

Two additional requirements are more storage reservoirs at the Los Angeles end of the aqueduct and the purchase of land and water rights in Mono Basin. This water will be required within two years unless the dry cycle through which Southern California is now passing should end suddenly and there should be great increases in the amounts of both rain and snow. Of the ending of this cycle there is no present indication. The precipitation of the present season is below normal, as it has been for several seasons past. So far as anyone knows, the dry cycle may continue for several more seasons or perhaps indefinitely; the future in this respect is unpredictable. The cause of weather cycles is not known; all that is known is that they occur. In any case, the Mono Basin water will be needed long before Colorado River water is available.

With work starting immediately, it will require three years for enlargement of the aqueduct, construction of dams and diversion works in Mono Basin, enlargement of reservoirs, construction of at least one new one here, construction of a reservoir in Long Valley, and enlargement and betterment of the local distribution system. Even then, the race against the shortage will be a race against time, and delays cannot be tolerated.

There is no particular occasion for alarm in the situation, but it is necessary to face the facts. These facts have only one answer—that without the passage of this bond issue Los Angeles will find itself without sufficient water for its domestic needs, a condition under which growth, business, realty values, etc., would all suffer severely.

The allocation of the bond funds as worked out by the Water Board provides $7,060,000 for the purchase of properties and water rights of the Southern Sierras Power Company and of other private holdings in Mono Basin. Condemnation suits are already pending for part of these properties, as well as negotiations for purchase, and it will be necessary for the city to be ready to pay large sums of money into court as soon as the suits are concluded. This allocation is, of course, an approximate estimate; the exact amount needed is not known and cannot be known in advance; but unless the money is ready when the amount is determined the suits will have to begin all over again, with possibly a different result.

The second item is $1,450,000 for construction of a conduit from Leevining Creek to Silver Lake. This will tap the various tributaries of Mono Lake which flow in from the west. Water will not be taken from Mono Lake directly, as the lake water has a high alkaline content from thousands of years of accumulation. The next item is $500,000 for a dam at the outlet of Silver Lake, which will convert that body into a storage reservoir.

To bring the water from Silver Lake to Owens River in Long Valley, it is necessary to tunnel through a range. The construction of this tunnel accounts for Item 4, the amount being $5,500,000. Item 5 is the construction of a dam at the lower end of Long Valley to create another storage reservoir. This will cost $750,000.

Purchase of the remaining privately owned land in Long Valley and Owens Valley will require $6,660,000, which makes up Item 6. It is necessary to buy these lands for reservoir sites and water rights.

Purchase of the towns in Owens Valley is the seventh item, at $5,790,000. This is an agreed-upon price. Control of the towns is desirable for many reasons, one of which is that it will extinguish the claims for so-called reparations which have been such a sore spot in past relations between the city and Owens Valley. It is only justice that these town property owners should be compensated for the depreciation of their holdings. Another is that the city will acquire undisputed water rights. A third is that control of the sanitary systems of these towns may thus be had. Purchase of these towns has been the settled policy of the city for several years and it should now be consummated.

The next item, $600,000, is for the enlargement of the aqueduct at various points between Haiwee Reservoir and San Fernando Reservoir, so that it may carry 440 second feet of water, its present capacity being 400 second feet. This is necessary to carry the additional waters to be obtained in Mono and Owens basins.

Item 9 is the largest item of all, $7,500,000 for enlarging the Lower San Fernando Reservoir, enlarging the Chatsworth Reservoir and building a new reservoir, all necessary for storage to take care of the city's peak demands, which considerably exceed the capacity of even the enlarged aqueduct. Item 10 is the construction of a pipe line from the proposed Chatsworth Reservoir to Hollywood Reservoir. This will cost $1,445,000. The eleventh and last item is additions to the distributing system, made necessary by the continued growth of the city, which will cost $1,555,000.

The total is $38,800,000 and not an item can be struck from the list without seriously damaging the program, which is an interconnected whole.

As for the financial ability of the Water Department to carry the burden of these bonds without an increase in the tax rate, that is easily demonstrated. The surplus over expenses of the water operations for the current year will be in excess of $5,000,000 and for 1930-31 is estimated at $5,460,000, while the carrying charge of all bonded debt, including this issue, will be $3,970,000 the first year. It will increase slightly each year, but no more than the revenue. No water bonds have ever caused an increase in the tax rate in this city or have otherwise cost property-owners a penny. On the contrary, they have saved us large sums through making possible one of the lowest water rates of any city in the country.

The bonded debt for water supply per capita was, in 1905, when the aqueduct was begun, $160. At present it is but $33.71 and when this $38,800,000 is added it will be only about $63, or much less than half that of 1905. It

THEY PUT ON ST. PATRICK'S DAY SHOW

Children at General Hospital Join in Merry Affair

"ST. PATRICK'S Day in the Morning" was celebrated at 3 p.m. yesterday in the Orthopedic ward of the General Hospital when forty little patients, Mexican, Japanese, Chinese and other nationalities, forgot their race, color and physical condition and joined in singing "Wearing of the Green" and other melodies dear to the heart of Erin.

The entertainment, given by the Top O' the World Club, to which all the children belong, was in charge of Florence Mast. Flowers and evergreens were donated by the Los Angeles branch of the National Plant, Flower and Fruit Guild and the Shriners sent green hats, balloons and ice cream.

Most of the boys and girls could not get out of their cots, but all of them could and did smile and sing.

The program included harmonica numbers by Peter Valdez and Mores Delgado, Irish songs by Bobby McDallis, a reading by Jan Chung, secretary of the club, and a whistling solo by Isadore Segura who, although he could not rise from his bed, let the world know that there was "a rainbow on his shoulder." Henry Morin, garbed in green from head to toe, was master of ceremonies.

The Top O' the World Club was organized four years ago by Mrs. Charles Hamilton and its president is Mark W. Lillard.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY CLIMAXED BY BANQUET

St. Patrick's Day celebrations throughout Los Angeles concluded with a banquet and ball at the Elks' Club last night with almost 1000 guests attending. The principal speaker was Bishop James McGrath of Portland, Or. Bishop McGrath took the place of Bishop Cantwell of the Los Angeles and San Diego diocease, who was called to Washington last week.

Religious celebration of the day began at 10 a.m. when pontificial high mass was said at St. Vibiana's Cathedral by Bishop McGrath. The sermon was preached by Rev. O'Malley, pastor of the church.

STORM SHIFTING INLAND

Cloudy Weather Forecast for Los Angeles Today; Heavy Fall of Snow in Mountains

Southern California's two-day rainstorm began to taper off yesterday as the storm center moved inland, leaving light showers in Los Angeles and heavier precipitation over foothill communities and inland valleys.

The showers downtown brought the twenty-four-hour total to .43 of an inch, the storm to 3.38 inches, and the season's total to 10.29 inches, as compared with a normal total of 12.65. The total at this time last year was 10.51 inches.

The forecast called for partly cloudy weather today. A secondary storm center was hovering off the coast of San Diego, which weather observers were watching for developments.

SNOW IN MOUNTAINS

Mountain ranges throughout Southern California were capped with a heavy fall of snow, which means added water to the country's artificial and underground reservoirs later on. County Flood Control Engineer Eaton announced that the run-off is slow in Los Angeles county, some of the mountains streams already showing a falling-off from temporary flood conditions. The San Gabriel River was running about 500 second feet after being up to about 1800 second feet, indicating that the run-off will be gradual.

The high Sierras received a goodly fall of snow, the reports to the Edison company showing yesterday an additional twenty-seven inches at Florence Lake, fifty inches at Huntington Lake, nine inches at Shaver Lake and five inches at Big Creek power plant No. 1. The season's precipitation at these points now is about the same as that of last year.

Over in the San Fernando Valley the rain yesterday was considerably heavier than in Los Angeles proper, with occasional flashes of lightning and thunderclaps.

PAY RISE VOTED

The City Council yesterday adopted an ordinance which increases the pay of a clerk in the Department of Public Utilities and Transportation from the scale of $125-$130-$140 to the scale of $145-$150-$160. This was effected by abolishing one job and creating a new one.

CHURCH SUES CHEERFUL GIVER

Bread Cast on Waters Back for Butter from Donor; Monrovia Man, Stripped by Charities, Required to Pay Balance on Pledge Made

Bread cast upon the waters has returned in the form of a municipal court suit, according to friends of Charles W. Munger of Monrovia, who has made donations totaling considerably more than $500,000 in value to various activities of the local diocese of the Methodist Episcopal Church. The bitter comment quoted was made as the result of the filing of a suit against Mr. Munger for interest and principal on a note for $511 by the Garvanza M. E. Church, of which he was a member for twenty years and which was the recipient of numerous benefactions from him.

Mr. Munger was unwilling to talk of the case yesterday, saying that he does not wish the church of which he was so long a member to be the recipient of unfavorable notice because of the course forced upon it by some of its trustees, but he agreed that the assertions made in his behalf by a friend are correct.

It was said by this friend that the sum for which the church is suing Mr. Munger is the unpaid balance of a contribution of $5000 to the church's building fund. According to this story, Mr. Munger's benefactions have left him a poor man, even though he was given an annuity of more than $20,000 a year by the recipients of his largest gifts, the Methodist boards of home and foreign missions.

Despite this income he found himself committed to pay the Garvanza church, among others, more than he can afford, it is said, and after paying $4500 of his pledge to the building fund he was unable to pay the remainder. Then, it is said, he signed a promissory note for the balance and it is on this note that he is being sued.

While admitting that Mr. Munger had been liberal in support of the Garvanza church, C. J. Elsasser, its secretary, who signed the complaint in the suit, denied yesterday that the sum involved is in any way connected with any of Mr. Munger's benefactions. He said that the contributions to the building fund had been taken care of several years ago, and the note on which the suit is based was given in payment for dirt excavated from the church site in 1922, with which Mr. Munger filled in a lot he owned on Avenue 66.

He said the church is more than trustees feel it is incumbent on them trustees feel incumbent on them to to collect what they regarded as purely a business debt owed to the church. The trustees are unable to believe, he said, that Mr. Munger hasn't the money to pay the note, as they are aware of the large income he derives from his annuity.

No answer to the suit has been filed yet by Mr. Munger, but Wesley L. Nutten, Jr., attorney for the church, said the summons and complaint were served upon him Thursday or Friday of last week.

ENTIRE JULIAN QUIZ REOPENED

Girl's Revelations Result in Grand Jury Decision

New Indictments Expected to Follow Inquiry

Special Prosecutor Named to Aid Investigation

Revelations of Miss Leontine Johnson made yesterday in a conference in the office of Dist.-Atty. Fitts have brought to light new angles to the $300,000 extortion case, which grew out of asserted threats of publicity in connection with the Julian Petroleum debacle, and the entire case will be resubmitted to the grand jury today.

Announcement that the grand jury has asked that the indictment naming Miss Johnson and Morris Lavine, newspaper reporter, as principals in a scheme involving the payment of $75,000 under threat of exposure, be referred to that body, was made last night by Fitts.

Night sessions of the grand jury to conduct the new investigation are seen as a possibility with the announcement by Foreman Morris that the body is prepared to start immediate work on the disclosures and expects to devote extra hours to the task.

Today at 10 a.m. the District Attorney will appear in the court of Superior Judge Wood, and request that the present true bill, on which demurrer arguments were to be heard, be rescinded. Fitts will ask also that the two defendants be held on their present bond of $10,000 pending the outcome of the new grand jury inquiry.

NEW DEVELOPMENTS

Other developments yesterday in the extortion case, which is being made the basis for a grand jury inquiry into various angles of the Julian Petroleum Corporation collapse, were:

(1.) The appointment by Fitts of Attorney Frank Stafford as special prosecutor to aid the grand jury in delving into the mazes of the Julian debacle.

(2.) Announcement by Fitts that the Johnson and Lavine extortion indictments and investigation have opened new avenues heretofore closed in Julian case inquiries.

(3.) Request of Foreman Morris of the grand jury and members of a special committee that a special prosecutor be named to aid them, due to new developments.

(4.) Announcement by Fitts that his office and the grand jury, aided by Stafford, will ferret out every available bit of evidence possible that will disclose criminal activities in the Julian collapse.

(5.) A two-hour secret conference between Fitts, Morris, Moreland and Donaldson of the grand jury, and Stafford, at which Miss Johnson, her attorney, Allan P. Daily, Chief Investigator Blayney Matthews and Jacob Berman, also known as Jack Bennett, were present.

CLEMENCY DENIED

Intimations that Miss Johnson was revealing hitherto unknown ramifications of the Julian debacle in turn for clemency through the District Attorney's office and the grand jury, were denied by Fitts. Her attorneys also announced that his client had not given the grand-jury committee additional information in return for dismissal of the extortion charges.

Fitts in announcing that the indictments against the woman and Lavine in which they are charged with extorting $75,000 from Charles H. Crawford, Kent Parrott, Abraham Morris and Jacob Friedlander, will be resubmitted today, declined to discuss the new developments.

"The grand jurors have made a request that they be given more time to go further into the matter, and I shall appear before Judge Wood tomorrow morning and ask that the indictments be withdrawn," Fitts said.

This action, Fitts explained, will preclude arguments scheduled for 2 p.m. today on the defense demurrers, and will reopen the investigation of the case, which will be undertaken immediately by the grand jury.

WIDER FIELD

Fitts made it plain that this action does not mean that the charges against Miss Johnson and Lavine will be dismissed, but indicated that new indictments covering other asserted phases of the entire plot will be forthcoming.

The District Attorney would not indicate the trend of the new developments other than that the

JULIAN "CROWD" BERATED

Attorney in Recovery Suit Places Defendants in Four Scornful Classifications

Defendants in the recovery suit brought by Julian stockholders against Jacob Berman, S. C. Lewis, the Los Angeles Stock Exchange and a number of brokers, were placed in four classes by Attorney Joseph Lewinson, counsel for the plaintiffs, while presenting arguments yesterday before Superior Judge Tappaan on the demurrer to the action.

He classed the defendants as follows:

"First. Perfidious Berman and his crowd who concocted the scheme whereby the stock was fraudulently issued.

"Second. Faithless Lewis and his crowd because he assertedly, as president, had knowledge of Berman's activity.

"Third. Predatory brokers, because they participated in the issuance and sale of the stock and were beneficiaries in the fraudulent issuance and sale of the stock.

"Fourth. Corrupt brokers who aided and abetted with knowledge in the sale of fraudulent stock."

At this point Judge Tappaan asked how Attorney Lewinson classified the Los Angeles Stock Exchange.

"I will come to that later," he replied.

When he came to it, Attorney Lewinson declared the Los Angeles Stock Exchange acted as an intermediary, permitting Berman to dispose of the stock.

Arguments have been going on for more than a week on the demurrer, which asks that the complaint against the defendants be dismissed on the grounds there is no cause of action.

Attorney Lewinson was preceded by Attorney Guy Crump for the plaintiffs. Lewinson will be followed today by Attorneys Walter K. Tuller and Frank G. Finlayson for the defendants in rebuttal.

HIS MAJESTY, the King of Spain, has given the grandest boost to California yachting since Cabrillo came poking this way.

His trophy has resulted in the finest eastern boats coming in for this year's regatta. Another year there will be more.

When he decided to stimulate us to speed he was no piker. The trophy is a magnificent thing, as big as a house and a replica of Columbus's flagship, the Santa Maria.

The conditions under which the race is held shows that the King is a skillful booster. The race is always to be held in Southern California and the winning club is compelled to build a new defender for each annual race.

PREDICAMENT OF FRANCE

The best that can be said of France in this arms conference is that she has a violent attack of nervous hysteria. Her insistence upon an increased tonnage has made any real reduction agreement impossible.

At the same time her position is one that must excite sympathetic interest. The next time trouble starts it is quite likely to be in the Orient. And France has in Indo-China, valuable oriental possessions to protect. Another element that enters into her war situation is that a large part of the next big French army must be brought across the Mediterranean Sea from Africa. The man power of France is not alone sufficient for the enormous size of modern armies. She will have to look to her colonies.

At sea, however, France has always been a failure. Napoleon made every effort to build up a good navy and couldn't do it. The lack of a great fleet was his final undoing. Waterloo was made possible by the British navy.

WILD FLOWERS

This gorgeous rain will give to Southern California a glorious spectacle. The wild flowers will be at their best for several years.

The best place from which to see this show will be from the top of the Ridge Route, where, in about two weeks, the whole San Joaquin Valley will be a blaze of color—an endless carpet.

Another good vantage place is from the highlands that look down upon the Coachella Valley. Beaumont or Palm Springs.

CALL IT LAEMMLE

The discovery of the new major planet X is an indication of what we may expect to happen when the new telescope is installed on Mt. Wilson.

As to "Planet X." I dare say—in view of the way things go now—that it will be named either after a Los Angeles real estate subdivider or a movie magnate.

OLD AGE

A sarcastic pen writes me this letter:

"The L. A. Times this morning brings the astounding news that Gandhi, in spite of his sixty-one years, walked off the other day 'with a firm step.' Marvelous!

"My neighbor on one side—85—walks with a firm step around his premises most of his waking hours . . . cultivating the flower garden which is the pride of the neighborhood.

"The 80-year-old neighbor on the other side walks off with a perfectly firm step every morning—not at the head of an army—but just for pleasure and exercise. "'Aged Woman (or man) Meets

Bandit Victim, Probably Fatally Wounded, Battles Assailant

STORE CASHIER SHOT IN HOLD-UP

Fights Fiercely, Obtaining Assailant's Gun

Would-be Murderer Gets Only $65 in Cash

For $65 in cash a bandit shot and probably fatally wounded G. H. Van Boemel, cashier for Daley's, Inc. yesterday afternoon. He also obtained $7100 in checks, but these, police say, are worthless to him unless he cashed them by forging signatures.

Van Boemel was transferred to the Golden State Hospital from the the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital last evening. The bullet, according to Police Surgeon Larson, had penetrated the jaw, coursed down through the neck, and lodged in the back. his condition was reported critical.

BATTLES BANDIT

Van Boemel, carrying a hand bag containing the cash and checks, left the wholesale grocery company's office at 751 Terminal street to visit a branch bank. As he reached the foot of the stairs he observed a green coupe parked near his own machine in the Union Terminal Market Plaza. A young, well dressed youth stepped out from behind the stairs, holding a leveled revolver.

As the cashier started to cry for help a bullet crashed into his jaw. Van Boemel lunged at the bandit, and with the handbag struck him on the side of the head knocking his hat off. The bandit hit Van Boemel on his wounded jaw with the barrel of his revolver.

LEAVES HAT AND GUN

The cashier clinched with his assailant and succeeded in wresting the revolver from his hand. As he did so the bandit lunged against him and he fell on the stairs. Leaving his hat and revolver in the possession of his victim the bandit snatched the handbag, turned and fled to the waiting coupe and was driven off by his confederate.

Market employees rushed to Van Boemel's assistance and summoned a police ambulance.

Van Boemel is 64 years of age and lives at 561 West Stocker street, Glendale. He described his assailant as an American, about 30 years of age, well dressed in a dark suit, about five feet, ten inches in height, and about 145 pounds in weight. His hat which, with the revolver, is being held by police, is a soft gray felt.

FIFTEEN VICTIMS OF BANDITRY EPIDEMIC

Sheriff's office investigators yesterday were seeking the assailants of two men who were beaten and robbed, two pairs of bandits who robbed stores and a third pair who numbered as their victims eleven colored persons in a series of robberies in county territory during the week-end.

Found lying by the highway in Hynes, James H. Rogers, 21 years of age, 1112 East Walnut street, Bellflower, yesterday was in a serious condition in the General Hospital. With skin on his back and the rear portion of his head rubbed off and suffering from exposure, Rogers was barely able to tell officers that he had accepted a ride in Long Beach with a stranger some time before he was found early Sunday morning. He had been robbed of a wallet containing $3.

ANOTHER SLUGGED

His nose broken and cut about the head, Modesto Chavez, 626 South Indiana street, was found Sunday night lying in the street at Fifth and Gage streets. He was removed to the General Hospital. He told officers he had lost $30, though he was unable to give details of how he had lost it.

Two bandits in an old car forced the automobile driven by Thomas G. Walthall, manager of a Clarence Saunders store in Walnut Park, to the curb shortly after he had closed the store Saturday night and compelled him to return, open the safe and hand over $50, Walthall reported.

Another duo of young bandits held up and robbed C. L. Carroll, druggist, 7750 Santa Monica Boulevard, late Saturday night and escaped after rifling the cash register of between $50 and $75, according to a report.

Compelled to lie on the floor, eleven persons, all colored, were robbed of jewelry and cash valued at approximately $36.40 after which they were tied up with shoe strings by two men early Sunday morning. The robbery, according to Sheriff's office reports, occurred at the home of Arthur and May Ellis, 11642 Willowbrook avenue, while a party was in progress.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY FESTIVE

Other Catholic churches conducted services throughout the Los Angeles area also.

Men and women of varied religious beliefs, and nationalities, took part in the banquet and dance. Others besides Bishop McGrath who spoke were Postmaster O'Brien, Mgr. Cauley, of St. Vibiana's church; Superior Judge Aggeler, Frank Walsh, former Congressman of Illinois, who is a visitor to Los Angeles; Judge Desmond of Long Beach; Patrick Henry, editor of the Catholic publication, The Tidings; C. P. Horan, past-president of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, and Frank Barry and Leo Neeson, prominent in the affairs of the Knights of Columbus, and Thomas Flanagan, secretary of the organization.

At noon the Electric Club held a banquet at the Biltmore to celebrate the day. Maj. Mathison's Irish Pipers and Lewis Meehan, Irish tenor, provided the musical entertainment and Jerry Monahan acted as toastmaster.

The Salvation Army also celebrated the birthday of Ireland's patron saint at its own golden jubilee festival at the Citadel, 125 East Fourth street. All the members of the corps of Irish descent appeared garbed in costumes native to Ireland and the hall was decorated in green.

During the afternoon session the problems of the organization were discussed. The meeting was presided over by Brig.-Gen. Bell, commanding the Los Angeles and South Coast area.

At the various ball rooms and dance halls through the Los Angeles district green superseded all the other colors and souvenirs typifying Ireland were distributed in large quantities.

INDECENCY DENIED BY SHOW GIRLS

Hundred Men Spectators at Raided Performance Ordered Released

Denial that they participated in an indecent show was entered by twelve women before Municipal Judge Bullock yesterday. They were arrested by a police raiding squad under Sergt. Crane of the West Los Angeles division in a hall at 11632 San Vicente Boulevard. More than 100 spectators, arrested at the same time, were ordered released by Chief of Police Steckel yesterday after City Prosecutor Nix refused to issue complaints against them.

The performers, Misses Gertie Jacobs, Bubbles La Vail, Ruth McIntosh, Cynthia Hendryx, Elise Yerkes, Helen Brennan, Ruth Hayes, Jackie Shannon, Peggy Starr, Bertie O'Marr, Jean Ray and Cora Beeson and James Black, asserted manager of the show, all entered pleas of not guilty to a charge of participating in an indecent show, through their attorneys, William Hees, Phillip Cohen and Frank J. McCarthy. Judge Bullock set jury trial for April 9.

men. Each division would have as personnel, one captain, one lieutenant, three desk sergeants, three jailers, three matrons, six detectives, six call officers on motorcycles and six in motor cars, six motorcycle traffic officers, six civilian clerks, fifty-four patrolmen and nine field sergeants. School protection would be by regulars from each division.

The matrons and juvenile divisions, traffic division and police department maintenance would be directly under the Police Commission.

In the maintenance division the force would be divided up with sixty men in the detective bureau for major crime only, ten in the Bertillon Bureau, fifty in the transportation bureau, twenty in the record bureau, eight in the purchasing department, sixty for radio service, thirty for a relief division, and three other departments, to be filled by the Chief of Police.

MERIT SYSTEM

The Brown system of merit and demerit marks, providing that sixty demerits provide demotion or dismissal and sixty merit marks means promotion, is included.

Under his plan Burke contends there would be 1665 for patrol duty, compared to 613 as at present, without adding a single man to the force. Thousands of dollars can be saved, he said, by avoiding the need of asking more men, as planned for in the next budget.

Questioned as to whether Burke will be chosen superintendent of the whole police department, over the Chief of Police, or chief of the intelligence bureau, President Thorpe said that these positions will remain open for the present. The belief in the City Hall prevails, however, that Burke is slated for one or the other, if his plan is adopted.

In the morning there was an indication of a split between the Mayor and Commissioners Thorpe and Wehn over the order to Chief Steckel to hold up transfers of captains. This included transfer of Capt. James F. Bean, sent to the Venice division after the escape of W. L. Tallman, suspect in the Virginia Patty murder, back to his old job as head of the homicide squad. Thorpe held that the reason for holding the tranafer order up was to investigate further. The Mayor made the following statement on the subject:

"I told the Police Commission this morning that Chief Steckel is general manager of the police department. We are looking to him for results. I want him to have a free hand that he may have every opportunity to get what we expect from him."

ADOPTION FORECAST

This statement, shown to the commissioners, brought no comment except that Thorpe and Wehn wanted to investigate the proposed tranafer some more. Drake remarked that the commission is not going to hold the Chief down. Chief Steckel said: "I am not going to shirk any responsibilities."

The proceedings in the afternoon, however, indicated that Thorpe and Wehn are carrying out the Mayor's program and that Burke is strong with the administration, with indications that his reorganization plan, lauded principally by Thorpe and Wehn, will be adopted at an early date. These two used every argument with Commissioner Coe for the employment of Burke as an expert, without avail, and finally voted it, with Drake's vote making it three to one.

General Manager Amsden of the Los Angeles Civil Service Department, appeared before the Police Commission to get its view about holding a test for police captains on April 2 next. He said the eligible list had been exhausted and the bulletins twice had been issued fixing the date for the examination. The commission requested him to inform the Civil Service Commission that it desires the test be postponed indefinitely pending action on the reorganization plans, which he agreed to do.

DENTIST DENIES TAX DODGE

Charles G. Wiggins, a dentist, pleaded not guilty yesterday in the court of United States District Judge Killits to a charge of evading the payment of his income tax for 1925, 1926 and 1927. The case was continued a week with the understanding that Dr. Wiggins may be permitted to change his plea.

TRANSLATORS OF BIBLE SCORED BY CHURCHMAN

Criticism of the translators who gave the world the King James version of the Bible was voiced yesterday by Rt. Rev. S. Arthur Huston, Episcopal Bishop of Olympia, Wash., when, in a sermon at St. Paul's Cathedral, he declared that the translators did Christendom no good service by making St. Paul say that Jesus Christ "shall change this vile body to become like His glorious body."

"We have been reading that sentence for more than 300 years—and believing it—but it is not true and is opposed to the ideals of Paul and of Jesus," said Bishop Huston. "The idea that the human body is vile, a concept of paganism and unfortunately introduced into the King James version of Holy Scripture, has done great harm to the children of light who should know that the body is the temple of the Holy Spirit and is not to be condemned, but cherished and cared for.

"It is true that man, as a physical being, is not perfect, but he can and should make his body beautiful and strong that it may be used as a fitting medium for the manifestation of the soul which is essentially God-like."

RAIL HEAD SEES BRIGHT FUTURE

Confidence in Present Year Expressed by Storey

Agricultural Prospects Called Splendid

Expressing confidence in the 1930 business outlook W. B. Storey, president of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad, yesterday stated that the carrier's budget for this year totals $60,000,000—a generous increase over last year's total, besides $18,000,000 to be devoted to the purchase of equipment, a $3,000,000 jump over the 1929 figure.

Although the line's expansion may not be marked in any one State, the program will benefit all of the territory served by the Santa Fe, said Storey. In illustration he cited plans to complete the double-tracking of a forty-four-mile gap between Rio Grande and San Bernardino, stating that this improvement will measurably affect California. It is planned to complete one-half of this work in 1930.

Other construction activities outlined for this year include the building of extensions in Texas, Colorado and Oklahoma, connecting Amarillo, Tex., with the northern line. This program calls for the laying of 380 miles of tracks, contingent on the approval of the schedule by the Interstate Commerce Commission. It is planned to expend about $5,000,000 on this work this year.

FARM OUTLOOK GOOD

As to business conditions in general, Storey, measuring the prospects for 1930 against the conditions that obtained in the last five years, said he looks for a good year, a year as good as the average of the five years.

"I found a general feeling in the East that business will not be as good this year as it ought to be. I do not share that view," said Storey. "Those who express that opinion are comparing this year to a peak year when they compare it to 1929. We should not compare to peak years, but to average years."

The railroad chief commented that agricultural prospects in the territory served by the Santa Fe have never been better than they are at the present time. The winter wheat crop, he said, gives every indication of being large.

At Phoenix, said Storey, he found some concern over shyness of water in the reservoirr, a condition that, he hoped, was remedied by the present rains. The prospects, however, are fair, he went on, of getting a sufficient amount of water from wells in the event the reservoirs are not filled.

COAST'S ORANGE CROP

California's orange crop, he said, from data presented to him, appears to be less as to quantity, but, he added, better as to quality. The growers, undoubtedly, will find the year quite as good as though the crop were larger, profiting from the increased price that accompanies a short crop, although the railroad will not have as large a haul.

The Santa Fe president said that air-rail traffic showed a marked increase with the reduction of the rates on aerial transportation. As a whole, however, little change has been noted recently in connection with this development in the field of transportation, Storey said.

Storey passed yesterday inspecting Santa Fe properties in Los Angeles, following his return from an inspection trip to San Diego. He will leave tonight for San Francisco.

ORTIZ RUBIO FOE GOES TO GUATEMALA

Vasconcelos, Defeated for Mexican President Waits for Expected Revolution

Bound southward to seclude himself in Guatemala until the outbreak of another revolution he predicts in Mexico, Jose Vasconcelos, recently defeated in the Mexican Presidential contest, sailed from Los Angeles Harbor yesterday aboard the Panama-Pacific liner Pennsylvania.

Vasconcelos was accompanied only by his secretary. Mrs. Vasconcelos and a son and daughter have moved from a Hollywood home to a Westwood cottage, where they will remain in privacy during the absence of husband and father.

Before sailing Vasconcelos had little to say of his venture other than he expects another Mexican revolutionary outbreak soon and he will await it in Guatemala until such time he may return to Mexico as a figure in the uprising. He is due at Balboa, Canal Zone, on the 24th inst. and from there will go to his destination.

Vasconcelos was defeated for the Presidency of Mexico by Pascual Ortiz Rubio, and he asserts the election irregular so as to give Ortiz Rubio the advantage and the office.

Shortly after the election Vasconcelos left Mexico and came to Los Angeles with his wife and family. On leaving Mexico Vasconcelos declared an uprising was imminent and was intended to place him in the Presidential office of which he asserted he was "cheated" in the election.

BANK AIDE PLEADS GUILTY

After pleading guilty yesterday in United States District Judge Killits's court to a charge of making a false entry in a bank account, Robert M. Blodgett, former bookkeeper for the Long Beach branch of the Security-First National Bank of Los Angeles, made a plea for probation. Upon the statement of Asst. U. S. Atty. Layng that Blodgett had been charged with grand theft in the State courts and had been placed on probation, he also was awarded probation by Judge Killits. The amount involved was reported as $750.

MAYOR RUNS INTO VALLEY SNOWSTORM

Plea to Public to Vote Water Bonds Made After Trip to Mountains

After returning from an inspection trip of the Owens Valley where he found the mountain ranges blanketed by a heavy fall of snow, Mayor Porter yesterday issued a statement setting forth the seriousness of the water supply situation and urging the voters to support the water bonds at the coming election.

The Mayor was accompanied on the trip north by Chief Engineer Van Norman of the Bureau of Water Works and Supply and Commissioners Brooks and Prior of the Water and Power Board. The party ran into a snowstorm Friday evening through Mint Canyon and was forced to remain in Mojave overnight because of a snowstorm raging through the Red Rock Canyon country. In the valley they found the Sierras and the White Mountains to the east covered with snow.

In urging the passage of the water bonds, Mayor Porter said there is no other alternative to consider. "It is an inexorable situation that confronts the city," his statement read. "If we do not make this provision now we shall inevitably suffer. We must face the facts. There is not enough water available now to the city to take care of our needs upon a basis of reasonable supply for a growing population. Even with good winters, our present supply will fall short of requirements within not more than two or three years. Every item in the issue is justified and absolutely necessary. Our citizens are invited to investigate every element of this proposal."

CHAIRMAN McCLELLAN OF SUPERVISORS ILL

Owing to illness Chairman McClellan of the Board of Supervisors has been confined to his home at 314 Walden Drive, Beverly Hills, and was unable to take his post at the meeting of the Supervisors yesterday. It is said his condition is not regarded as serious and he is expected to return to his office before the end of the week.

DRUNK DRIVING CHARGED TO TEN

Police Arrest Half-Score Over Week-end

Four Previously Captured Held in Bail for Trial

Asserted Inebriate Allowed to Pilot Car to Jail

One of ten asserted drunken drivers arrested over the week-end was allowed to re-enter his car and drive alone to the Georgia-street Police Station after he had been arrested by Police Commissioner Thorpe and a police officer, it was disclosed yesterday. The driver is said to have fled from the scene of an accident which resulted in severe injuries to the occupants of another car and was captured after a chase.

Commissioner Thorpe last night told how he and Patrolman Farnum had captured Gregory Mendez, 33 years of age, of 1422 East Twenty-second street, after Mendez had crashed into a car driven by Leonard D. Gardner, 1510 South Berendo street, at Twelfth and Valencia streets late Saturday night.

LOGICAL THING

"We drove up just as Mendez had been overtaken by another driver and told him to drive to the Georgia-street Police Station," Commissioner Thorpe said last night. "It seemed the logical thing to do as we had no one to drive the car we were in and I could not drive the other car. The man was charged with driving while intoxicated after he had been examined by police surgeons and also with failing to stop and render aid."

Other defendants named in drunk-driving complaints are as follows:

Emilio Calba, 554 East Thirty-sixth street, hit a parked car at Twenty-second and San Pedro streets.

Byron W. Hall of 719 North Avenue 53, arrested in Culver City by Lester Hardy while driving in a reckless manner.

D. C. Miranda, 4027 Floral Drive, drove into another automobile at 511 North Soto street.

DOUBLE CHARGE

William H. Bowman, 834 Connecticut street, Hawthorne, charged with driving while intoxicated and hit-and-run, after he drove through a safety zone at Fourteenth street and Grand avenue, injuring three nurses.

Harry W. Cone, 160 East Sixty-seventh street, grazed a street car and several pedestrians at Sixty-sixth street and Broadway.

Ben Stoneman, 235 East Ninety-eighth street, taken into custody following an automobile accident at One Hundred and Sixth and Main streets.

WOMAN BOUND OVER

Mrs. Anna West, 3148 Madera avenue, according to testimony in Municipal Judge Turney's Court, crashed into a parked automobile near Santa Monica Boulevard and Western avenue at 11:30 p.m. on the 12th inst. She was bound over on $500 bail.

Municipal Judge Russell held William L. Ost, 3391 Alma street, Lynwood, on drunk driving and hit-and-run driving charges under $1500 bail after County Motorcycle Officer R. H. Galbraith testified that Ost crashed into his motorcycle at Florence avenue and Fishburn street and then fled. He was caught after a chase of more than a mile, the officer testified.

MARSHALL HELD

Juan C. Marshall, 125 Broad street, Wilmington, hit several cars near the intersection of Avalon Boulevard and Slauson avenue. He paid $2.50 to one driver whose automobile he struck, according to testimony, but failed to pay any of the others. He was held under $500 bail on drunk-driving charges.

Edward T. Newell, 729 Border street, Torrance, struck an automobile at Washington street and Union avenue, witnesses declared. He was held for trial under $500 bail. In each case police surgeons declared the defendants drunk when examined after their arrests.

F. R. Hawkins, 62, of 2620 Bellvue street, died in Georgia-street Receiving Hospital last night as the result of being struck down earlier in the evening by a mail truck reported by police to have been driven by L. P. Crippen, 924 Palm avenue, Beverly Hills. Crippen was not held. Hawkins's skull and fractured.

IN TWO CRASHES

Police were seeking two hit-and-run motorists responsible yesterday for accidents in which a woman suffered a broken spine and an ambulance surgeon was cut severely while transporting her to the hospital.

The injured woman is Mrs. Zimerut Micchalian, 45, of 3030 Ynez street. She was struck as she stepped from the curb at Whittier Boulevard and Euclid street. She was being taken to Georgia-street Receiving Hospital when a second hit-and-run driver crashed into the ambulance at Boyle avenue and Hollenbeck street. Mrs. Micchalian received no further injuries, but Dr. J. V. Ewert, the ambulance surgeon, was hurled through the glass side of the vehicle and received numerous gashes on the arms and body.

DIES OF INJURIES

Injuries received in a collision between two automobiles on the 9th inst. caused the death yesterday of Mrs. Daisy Davis, 33, of Calabasas. Mrs. Davis died at the General Hospital. An inquest will be held today at 2:30 p.m. Frank M. Miller of 1247 Peachgrove avenue, North Hollywood, was arrested on suspicion of driving while intoxicated and later was released on $500 bail with a hearing set for the 27th inst.

Today's Bible Text

For we are saved by hope: but hope that is seen is not hope: for what a man seeth, why doth he yet hope for? But if we hope for that we see not, then do we with patience wait for it.—Romans viii, 24, 25.

THE SWEET THING

"Senator Nye Plans to Change the Sugar Vote" runs a headline. Maybe somebody gave him a cigar.

NOR A RARITY

California is also interested in the parity of navel oranges in our packing-houses right now. They are sinking the biggest ones back in eastern tummies.

SOUNDS REASONABLE

Wonder if the antinoise commission had anything to do with the decision of automobile manufacturers to spend $15,000,000 in junking badly used cars.

THE DOG STAR

No, Celia, the dog star is not up among the constellations in the heavens at all and it cannot be caught by the 200-inch telescope. It is Rin Tin Tin in Hollywood.

PUTTING IT ON PAPER

The number of heart-balm suits filed recently, in which mushy letters play a prominent role, indicate that some one has found a serum to cure "writer's cramp."

COOKING THINGS UP

Dr. Frederick Cook, physician-explorer, left Leavenworth prison on parole recently. He will now discover a cure for the narcotic habit and put it along with his North Pole.

TIME WASTED

Life insurance expert spent many weary days and much money in research to learn the best temperature and humidity for men to work in. Why didn't he come to Southern California?

AS BAD AS CRACKERS

Cambridge (Mass.) man got sore and raised a row because his wife wore her galoshes to bed. If they were the open flapper type and it had been snowing he can hardly be blamed.

THE TALKIES

Far be it from us even to hint that Congress has been more loquacious since women took seats in that august body. Not all the English objectionable in Europe comes from our Hollywood studios.

NOT WHAT THEY WANTED

When Supervisor Rossi of San Francisco kept faith with Mayor Rolph and told a crowd of "unemployed" marchers that the county would market $5,000,000 worth of bonds immediately to provide work he was booed. Work and agitation don't mix.

PAY NO INDUCEMENT

Lieut. Alford J. Williams has resigned from the Navy so that he may continue research in air speed. Salaries paid to the Army and Navy are no inducement to zealous scientists among the personnel to give up scientific work for the ordinary humdrum of duty.

BUYING AT HOME

The suggestion of the Chamber of Commerce that city and county purchasing departments consider made-in-Los Angeles goods first should be heeded by all property owners. There is no better way to encourage immigration of the manufacturers of standard lines to this city.

LITTLEST LAMP

The General Electric Company has developed the smallest incandescent lamp in existence. It will burn for a year at a cost of but 5 cents. Yet it will be big enough for the shrinking citizen caught by his wife sneaking in from the "business conference" at two in the morning.

CASHING CURIOSITY

New Yorkers, evidently inspired by the "gate" at prize-fighters' training quarters, have leased the New Amsterdam Roof, former home of the Ziegfeld Follies, for a "radio theater." The audiences pay to see the radio artists perform before the "mike." What a harvest the Hollywood studios could rake in, if the spectators could be caged in soundproof galleries.

PROHIBITION OR CHAOS

That the alternative of the prohibition law is chaos is the most effective point made by Dr. Irving Fisher, Yale economics professor, in his twenty-one points submitted to the House Judiciary Committee. If the "home rule" advocates obtain the repeal of the Volstead law, he shows clearly, the States cannot regulate the liquor business and those which have no prohibition laws of their own will be overrun with bootleggers, hijackers, racketeers and murderers. Attempted regulation by States would at once come into conflict with the Eighteenth Amendment and courts could be forced to declare any such statutes void.

The result would be that the liquor business would go unregulated, with consequences which can readily be imagined. Dr. Fisher makes it plain that the Volstead law must be retained. He admits it has intensified official corruption, but points out that official corruption has always been connected with the dispensation of liquor, legal or illegal. Among unquestionable benefits of the prohibition law, he declares, are its reduction of the consumption of alcohol to one-fifth or less, an added productivity in industry of $3,000,000,000 to $10,000,000,000 a year, lifting of the crushing burden of liquor expenditures from the poor and wiping out of the open saloon.

"No one has shown," the economist continued, "how to repeal prohibition and yet prevent the return of the saloon except by putting our government into the liquor business. Such government sales have usually proved more of a failure than prohibition. This was true in South Carolina and seems now to be true in Canada."

Dr. Fisher seems to be unduly pessimistic in declaring that the liquor problem is unsolvable, but he is on sound ground, admitting that it has been solved by prohibition, in declaring: "We have before us only a choice of evils. It seems better to go on with the 'noble experiment,' bearing the ills we have rather than flying to evils we know not of and 'fighting it out on this line if it takes all summer.'"

The real difficulty, he points out, is that "crime now uses automobiles and soon will use airplanes—it utilizes modern methods and does an interstate business.

"The only way to meet this situation is not to repeal laws, but to compel our enforcement system to keep pace with the growing efficiency of crime."

To do anything else, Dr. Fisher might well have said but he did not, is to surrender, and to surrender is to admit that the American government cannot be carried on in accordance with the expressed popular will—that it has met something too big for it. The American people will prefer to fight a long while before conceding defeat.

Meanwhile prospects for shutting off a considerable proportion of the better liquor supply are brightening with the movement now on in Canada to refuse clearances to liquor exports from the Dominion. Canada is not under any obligation to do this; such exports are not, from a Canadian point of view, illegal; but the action is in the direction of promoting neighborly good feeling and should be accepted here as a gesture of generosity. If the Canadian source of supply is cut off, even in part, the bootleggers here will be driven to peddle moonshine, which is not readily salable to the discriminating, and liquor buyers here will soon tire of it. While smuggling over the border cannot be expected to be eliminated by any action Canada may take, it will be made more difficult and more expensive.

Anything that makes bootlegging harder, riskier and more costly moves straight toward its elimination. Bootleggers and smugglers are in business only for profit, and when taking chances no longer pays it will stop.

PRIMO DE RIVERA DEAD

The sudden death in Paris of Primo de Rivera, until seven weeks ago and for seven years dictator of Spain, should be the occasion for apologies from those who insisted, at the time of his retirement, that the retirement was forced by the King and was not voluntarily taken because of ill health. It is not conclusive, of course, since he may have felt no approaching enfeeblement, but at least it bears witness of a strong likelihood that the world was given the real reason for his stepping down.

No political consequences seem likely to flow from the death. The Spanish dictatorship has not ended, even though Gen. de Berenguer, Rivera's successor, has relaxed some of the restrictions and numerous refugees from the Rivera regime have returned to Spain. There is enough talk of a republic, not to make the deposition of King Alfonso probable, but to make the present dictator go slow in his plans to return to parliamentary government, if he ever had such plans.

It has been history that dictators and dictatorships customarily retire feet first, and Rivera's leaving seems to have been only an apparent exception. Power is seized for good ends and justifiable motives, in the case of many, if not most dictatorships, but abdication does not come about when the ends are achieved. Power is retained, and is abused, until the abuse becomes unbearable and then there is revolt. The retention and abuse of power, after the reason which justifies the usurpation has passed, seems to be the phase in which the Italian dictatorship now is.

Rivera was always more moderate, and more modest, than Mussolini, perhaps because the latter does not feel bound by "noblesse oblige." His death will be a shock to Spain, where he was respected even by his enemies.

THE DIGEST POLL

The Literary Digest is making a poll of the prohibition question. Ten States are reported in the first results as follows: For enforcement, 80,739; for modification, 91,915; for repeal, 118,934; total votes cast, 291,588.

New York, Illinois, Minnesota, Missouri and New Jersey are half of the listed voting States. Ohio seems to be about a tie between wet and dry. Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska and Indiana are decidedly dry. This alignment is not new. Several of these wet States polled the question several years ago. No dry States have ever polled the vote. The drys are not proponents of the poll. Those interested in modification or repeal are responsible for the continued hullabaloo.

Many also feel that the Digest should have waited to begin the vote until both sides had appeared before the Congressional committee. The canvass started almost immediately upon the close of the wet arguments. It probably was not the purpose of that magazine to capitalize the wet propaganda; but the results are the same.

What judge would poll a jury immediately after the plaintiff had summoned his witnesses? The flood of dry testimony and the fine character of it are not especially reassuring to the wets.

In most elections the wets celebrate prematurely. Their strongholds are usually in the centers of population of foreign extraction. Being central, the results are more quickly tabulated and counted. Later returns usually change the color of the election finals. This is likely to prove true in the Digest's poll.

As Will Rogers says, it may be wise to "wait till the returns from America begin coming in!"

THE WICKED PROPHET
By James J. Montague

Before the rabbit leaves his hole
In sunshine to invite his soul,

Before the bluebird comes along
To sing his little springtime song,

Before the violet's bright blue eye
Is cast upon the clearing sky,

Or maple branches are outspread
In new-grown robes of pink and red,

The fly comes forth with buzzing cheer
Announcing that the spring is here.

The rabbit's courage we acclaim;
We give the bluebird praise and fame;

The violet's pioneering ways
We greet with plenitude of praise.

And hail the maple on the lawn
For signaling that winter's gone.

But though the fly is first of all
To leave his cranny in the wall

And with his busy, buzzing wing
Announce the coming of the spring.

We either feed him poisoned water
Or smite him with a rubber swatter,

For it's the evil in his heart
That gives him his prophetic art.

LEE SIDE O'LA
By Lee Shippey

YOU gotta be careful what you write in a newspaper. Speaking of Mr. Coolidge the other day, we dropped into the familiar expression, "He seen his duty and done it noble." This is, we may say, a treasured line in newspaper offices.

It got by most of our careless readers all right. But at least one reader was both cultured and alert. She clipped the awful evidence of our ignorance from the paper and sent it to us. "Very bad grammar for The Times," she wrote. "What would Mr. Coolidge say?"

We've Noticed This, Too

A Glendale boy of 10 takes this week's prize for keen observation. His parents were trying to convince him that Lent was a season of sacrifice, in which one should not eat candies on week days. "Every day of the week is a fast day," they told him, "except Sunday."

"Say, that's right," agreed the boy. "And Sunday's a slow day."

Persistence Sometimes Wins

A Beverly Hills man, Rob Wagner, tells us, has hit upon an excellent and encouraging plan. On his personal checks he has the printed line: "If at first you don't succeed, try, try again."

Cut Down in Youth

The author of "How to Live to Be 100" died in San Diego the other day at the age of 69, which is an extremely early age for San Diegans. That shows that some health-fad teachers really do follow their own advice.

That Many Can't

Lee: "Fifty million Frenchmen can't be wrong" can't be right, can it? —Redmond.

Surely they can't be wrong—since there are only 40,000,000 Frenchmen.

Better by Note Than by Ear

Fries street, in Wilmington is pronounced "freeze." So a visitor there, asking directions, was a little startled when a native replied: "Go to L and Fries."

Signing Off

Lee: It's a woman's privilege to change her mind. At one downtown theater the sign announces, "The Girl Said No," and a block away another confides: "She Couldn't Say No." We're anxiously wondering which one she passed first.

In this age of rush and hurry it is comforting—sometimes—to read the sign on Vermont: "Blow Your Horn for One-Day Service."

And shouldn't all the hatless ladies of both sexes be interested in the sign on Western: "Combs Hair Shop"? —A. Echelle.

Loves Wild Things, Not Those Which Make Us Wild

The wild things of the hothouse brand,
Do they compare? Nay, brother, nay!
For the things that God's own hand
Has fashioned, not the prisoned ray.

What hunted looks from rheumy eyes
Cast wild beasts when a cage their lair;
They once roamed free 'neath starlit skies,
Now porters currycomb their hair.

For me the freedom of the plains
Where life's untrammeled, free from care,
For me the kiss of summer rains,
For from the cities' gaseous air.

But there's one species that we find
Too often wild, with tongue or tick,
And I prefer it tame and kind—
And that's the traffic cop, the kick?

Every-day Blunders

Probably nothing else touches every American as does the United States mail service. Yet it is surprising to learn how little many of us know about it. The postmaster of a Los Angeles substation tells us that people continually mail special delivery letters with special delivery stamps on them, but no others; continually mail air-mail letters with air-mail stamps plus other stamps, which are unnecessary, and frequently some flushed young person mails an air-mail letter to some near-by postoffice, such as Santa Ana or Watts, which has no air-mail service.

'Rah For the Home Team!

Recently, writing of the Orange County Masonic Club, which meets first in one town, then another, so that within a year every section of the county has been visited and all active members of the club have been brought into close touch with conditions throughout the county, we asked if any other organization is working on such a wise plan. A member of the Los Angeles County City Planning Association calls our attention to the fact that that association operates on the same plan, uniting the forward-looking citizens of every part of the county in co-operative plans for public improvements. We're glad to be reminded that some of us are as wise as those Orange countians.

WHAT OTHERS THINK ABOUT IT

EDUCATION AND THE UNDERWORLD
[Boston Transcript]

Suave and polished, speaking several languages, familiar with the resorts of the fashionable in the Old World and the New, appreciative of art and literature, such is the "gentleman" crook as he makes his way along the primrose path which leads through the pages of the magazines. But if he exists his wits keep him out of prison. "The educated crook, though often in the limelight, is decidedly in the minority among prison population," says John B. Hague, chief of the special schools bureau of the New York State Education Department.

The convicts who fill the prisons are, in the majority of cases, according to New York figures, lacking in education. Records of 434 Sing Sing prisoners showed that only 46 per cent had attended school beyond the sixth grade, and that 8 per cent had never been to school before attending prison classes. Mr. Hague says he is convinced that education within the prisons is often a means of changing the attitude of the convict toward society. He bases this conclusion on the results he has observed where prison schools have been able to offer a variety of courses.

There would seem to be reason in his attitude. If there is to be greater attention to education behind prison walls, it is gratifying to know that it will produce honest men instead of supercriminals. It would be deplorable if it merely meant graduating gentlemen crooks. How would the fiction writers get along if the highly educated master minds of the underworld were so common that the public lost interest in them?

THE STAGE CLEANS HOUSE
[Christian Science Monitor]

There is some justice in the complaint of a spokesman for the American theater that the people who last year were protesting loudly against the prevalence of objectionable plays are strangely quiet this season, when there has been a marked improvement in the type of drama offered. But the silence of those who demand decency in the theater is not due to loss of interest. There are probably two good reasons for it. One is that when the situation is as it ought to be, it is felt that there is no need to talk about it. The other is that, even if favorable comment is made, it is likely to receive less publicity and therefore attract less notice, than a protest.

Nevertheless, the theatrical man's point is well taken. A better class of plays is being presented this season, and it is right that attention should be called to the fact.

MATTER OF CONTRAST
[Brooklyn Eagle]

The prospects for converting Americans would be brighter but for one defect in the process. When we contrast the United States at its economic worst with soviet Russia at its economic best, we ought, in order to become converted, to see a great attraction in the Russian side of the contrast. But we do not. If the United States must spend ten years of terrorism, suppression, social wrecking and general convulsion in order to get where Russia is now, the thing will not appeal as a paying proposition, even to the jobless man.

LETTERS TO The Times

[Name and address of writer must accompany all letters for this column. Letters of a personal nature or involving contentious religious questions are not acceptable.]

Receivers of Graft

LOS ANGELES, March 14.—[To the Editor of The Times:] It seems to me to be morally right, if not legally, to recover embezzled money, or bribery graft, wherever found, though it may have been turned into automobiles, diamonds, furniture, or used to lift a mortgage by the criminal, for the benefit of his family. When it can be shown that such money was actually used, it should be turned back to the source from which he obtained the graft. Usually, a family knows very well where the money comes from, and are, therefore, the receivers of property illegally acquired. It seems hard to take such property from a family, when the grafter has been sent to prison, but it is very hard on the shareholders who lost the money, through "payoff" men and ex-bright young men. The holders should be made to disgorge the property acquired through bribery.

There is no justification in any possible, or probable, plea that the graft has passed into the possession of other persons, presumably innocent of the knowledge of its source. It is enough to know that they have it, and that it was obtained illegally. A burglar, caught while robbing a safe, is made to hand over the roll at the point of a revolver. Money thus obtained illegally should be recovered by a criminal prosecution of the person holding the property which was bought by that money. J. M. S.

"Catchy" Sermons

LONG BEACH, March 11.—[To the Editor of The Times:] For twenty-six years I have read the Los Angeles Times, but in all these years have never read anything to compare with an article this morning regarding an address by Dr. G. A. Coe, under the caption, "Ministers Hear Criticism." Dr. Coe says: "Opinionated preaching and 'catchy' sermons, even if sound from a biblical and ethical standpoint, which they usually are not, are nearly always false in psychological assumptions. Evangelistic attempts to point out to people a short cut to spirituality are futile because no such short cut exists."

I would suggest to Dr. Coe that he read some of the "catchy" sermons of Jesus Christ. For instance, "He that believeth on the Son of God hath everlasting life And he that believeth not the Son of God shall not see life, but the wrath of God abideth on him." Or of Paul to the Philippian jailer, in response to his question: "What must I do to be saved?" "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shalt be saved."

It doesn't take much intelligence to criticise and attack the men, churches and institutions which believe in the Bible as the infallible Word of God, but these "sigh-Coe-logical" speakers are always ready to take an offering from the church members whom they have bewildered by their sophistry.

It might be a great help to Dr. Coe if he could attend the Moody Bible Institute—of which he speaks so disparagingly.

Brake Testing Stations

LOS ANGELES, March 14.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Approximately 500 official brake-testing stations will be scattered over the surface of the State of California for the purpose of enforcing more adequately Section 94 of the Motor Vehicle Act, making it unlawful to operate a motor vehicle incapable of being brought to a standstill on a level paved road in a given number of feet at a given speed expressed in miles per hour.

The law does not state that new automobiles shall be capable of being brought to rest within the prescribed distances for named speed by (a) the service brakes of the cars being subjected to test; (b) the emergency brakes of the identical cars also being tested, either set of such brakes to be capable of effectively stopping such car being subjected to test, independent of the other.

What about stopping automobiles on hills—hills such as that between West Fourth and West Fifth streets, on South Grand avenue, Los Angeles, for instance? Has any official test been made to fix stopping distances for such places?

Will emergency brakes on new automobiles (before they are sold to nontechnical users) bring the cars sold in every instance to a dead stop on such hills within any distance or, a reasonable distance, and, if so what distance?

If new automobiles by any chance fail in tests of the character as above sketched, by what magic will such automobiles "make the grade" after they fall into the hands of ignorant operators?

Second-hand vehicles—what about them? Why not have them undergo the ordeal before title passes?

Electrical Term

The Bureau of Standards says that a lazy-man switch, also called a three-way switch, is electrically a single-pole double-throw switch. Using two of them, a light can be controlled from two places, such as upstairs and downstairs in the case of hall lights. A related switch, called a four-way switch, is electrically a double-pole reversing switch. Any number of four-way switches may be used with two three-way switches to control a light from any number of points.

And yet you never see a statue of a man who attended to his own business.

CHICKS GROW UP

BY ALMA WHITAKER

Britannia, like many a mother before her, is discovering that children just will grow up. And, like every other mother's son of them, the British Dominions have chosen an embarrassing moment to assert their adultship.

Right in the middle of the naval conference, when things are particularly delicate for Mother England, comes a pronuncio from Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, Canada and the colonies, that mamma will please understand that they are now self-supporting grown-ups with minds of their own, that henceforth they decline to be bossed, and that not only is what's theirs their own but what belongs to England is also theirs.

This being the usual fate of parents these days, Britannia should not take it to heart too seriously. Apron strings always do become irksome sometime and the idea that "mother knows best" weakens considerably. So that, where mother has shown herself anxious and willing to meet the wishes of the United States in naval limitations, sons and daughters have very different ideas on the subject. Her navy is their navy and they regard all her possessions as legally entailed for their benefit. Britannia has had a truly glorious time raising these cheeky bairns of hers, yes, even teaching them to be independent within certain bounds . . . just as all nice mothers endeavor to do. But now she must meet the fate that all parents must face sooner or later if their offspring have any backbone. Mother is losing her babies. They took to long trousers quite a while ago, but are getting over the self-conscious period nicely, since mother conceded them their own latchkeys.

Like other sons, too, they have gone to work and contributed their board money to the empire home . . . with a full knowledge that that was the best possible arrangement for them to date. Now, however, they feel it is time for mother to abdicate her supreme authority and let them run her affairs for her.

Britannia will struggle a bit, of course, and try all her maternal cajolery when she finds her bossy days are over . . . but in the end she will do what all the other nice mothers have to do . . . concede and concede and be as handsome about it as she possibly can. Times have changed seriously for all kinds of mothers and the younger generation knows all about its rights . . . and privileges.

The coming Empire Day on May 24 will be an emotional one for Mother Britannia. She will know that the carnations they send her will now come in a kindly patronizing spirit, rather than as the homage once offered with such fond deference.

All the same Britannia has been a marvelous old mother. She has earned a precious heritage of love which will endure, even if obedience is not conceded along with it. She has made mighty contributions to civilization, to justice, to honor She won for herself and her children a high prestige . . . which now makes it possible for those children to be the credit to the world that they are. She has long since shone in the realm of good sportsmanship and justice . . . which attributes will be her most treasured traits in the coming denouement. She will see to it that it is just a denouement—not a debacle.

WHERE CAN I LEARN Arithmetic?

BY LOUISE L. TEMPLE

[Prepared in co-operation with the Los Angeles evening high schools. Questions concerning free evening classes will be answered if stamped addressed envelope is inclosed. Address Louise L. Temple, care of The Times.]

To meet the needs of the average man and women who daily must make rapid calculations in shopping and in estimating costs of various household and automobile expenditures, the Van Nuys Evening High School, 6535 Cedros avenue, Van Nuys, is offering a free class in arithmetic. This class meets on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday evenings, 7 to 9. There is no charge of any kind and people of all ages are given a friendly welcome. If anyone wishes to borrow arithmetic books to take home he has the use of them free, but is asked to deposit the price of each book, usually $1, until he returns the book.

Several kinds of vocational mathematics, including that for plumbers and carpenters, is taught. There is also trigonometry for employees in airplane factories, and algebra and geometry, both beginning and advanced, are offered for those who wish high school credit in order to enter college.

Sexes Separate in Church

Dr. Thomas M. Strong, in 1842 pastor of the Old Dutch Reformed Church, which stands at the intersection of Church and Flatbush avenues in Brooklyn, N. Y., once wrote of the interior structure of the second church built on that historic site:

"The male part of the congregation was seated in a continuous pew all along the wall, divided into twenty apartments, with a sufficient number of doors for entrance, each person having one or more seats in one or the other of these apartments. The residue of the interior of the building was for the accommodation of the female part of the congregation, who were seated on chairs."

What Rain Did

Torrential December rains undermined and caused the collapse of an old Moorish castle at Lamego, Portugal. The building was said to have been once a mosque and was valuable as a testimony of Moorish domination in Portugal.

PRISON RIOTS

In the prisons men are howling, serving five to fifty years, making projects most unholy when they arise as mutineers. Then the loss of official orders they have smuggled in some gate, and they shoot some startled warden, shoot some turnkeys through the hats. Broken is the bath quiet of that peaceful place, there are scenes of woe and riot, and it's all a big disgrace. Then we wonder what the matter, as we read the ghastly news; and we take the same old patter while we rub our overshoes. "All the jails are overcrowded, which the prisoners resent; and they are in gloom enshrouded, while their labors bent. And they have to swallow duff; they have to swallow dough; exclude a decent roast, and it is no pie to follow, and they have no quail on toast. And the cells are dark and gloomy and the convicts have to sleep; their joints grow stiff and rheumy, it's no wonder that they weep." But the convicts' humors are not based on selfishness; they are always hoping for fare; they are always hearing rumors of the crime that's creeping stories of the bandits who reign, of the bandits who're waiting. Stories of the heroes feated, of the victories of the officials scorned, under the war to conquer gin, eyed convicts hear such cries by their grape-vine telegraphs, while outsiders harvest grapes they're in jail to stand the rap. When they lie on spring couches they can dream of days of doors, and their hearts are full of grouches, and their feet are full of sores. They are thinking of hi-jackers who are free, ply their trade, garner kinds of smackers, eating and marmalade. So they're the cops were bellicose they put them in such places they stir up fool rebellions in vain efforts to escape.

ORDER CURBING GAS EXPECTED

Judge Hazlett May Sign Injunction Today

Would Reduce Wastage in Santa Fe Springs

Curtailment of Oil Output at Field Involved

An emergency order establishing two gas-oil ratios in the Santa Fe Springs field, according to zones, based on oil production, one allowing 10,000 and the other 8500 cubic feet of natural gas to escape with each barrel of petroleum produced, may be signed by Superior Judge Hazlett by noon today.

This was indicated by the judge when court adjourned at 5 p.m. yesterday until 10 a.m. today, after arguments and statements of attorneys had been made all day on the form of an injunction order which was presented by Attorney James S. Bennett, counsel for the State, seeking to stop the waste of natural gas under the new Gas and Oil Conservation Act.

Judge Hazlett will hear more arguments today.

Practically all of the argument yesterday was based on the question whether to use oil production as a basis of fixing a gas-oil ratio in the field, or use gas production. The order Attorney Bennett asks the court to sign is based on oil production. Should his injunction become effective it would cut the daily production of oil in the field down to 108,000 barrels a day, a reduction of about 45,000 barrels. It is estimated that at least 63 per cent of the gas is being wasted.

The proposed preliminary order reads in part as follows:

"That the defendants be restrained after 12 o'clock noon on the 18th day of March, 1930, until the further order of the court as follows:

"From blowing, releasing or permitting any natural gas to escape into the air from any well, or wells, in the Santa Fe Springs field before the removal of the gasoline from such natural gas.

"From keeping on production any well producing from the Lower Clarke and Hathaway zones of the field which produces gas and oil at a gas-oil ratio in excess of 8500 cubic feet of gas to each barrel of oil produced.

"From keeping on production any well in the field which produces gas and oil at a gas-oil ratio in excess of 10,000 cubic feet of gas to each barrel of oil produced in any zone other than the Lower Clarke and Hathaway zones."

The order also carries a provision that each operator, beginning Thursday, shall file a report of his production with the State Gas and Oil Supervisor each forty-eight hours.

Each defendant operator also will be required to use measuring devices.

The order concludes with:

"It is further ordered that without further notice cause may be shown in Department 43 of this court at 10 o'clock a.m. on April 14, 1930, why this preliminary injunction should not be modified, or vacated, or discharged, or a new and further preliminary injunction made therein."

Bandit Wears Officer's Guise

Dressed in a police officer's uniform and presenting a Los Angeles police badge a bandit struck and robbed Salvadore Famtenella, 30-year-old pianist of 6306 Lindenhurst Drive, at the rear of the Beverly-Wilshire Hotel last night.

Famtenella reported to Detective Lieutenants Parker and Slaughter that the uniformed man stopped him, searched his automobile, struck him across the hand with a blackjack and then wrenched a $3000 diamond ring from his finger.

Police said that the badge number reported by Famtenella was issued to a local officer, but the officer could not be located last night.

GRAUMAN'S BIRTHDAY CELEBRATED

Theater Man Honor Guest at Stag Dinner Given by Hollywood Friends

Yesterday was St. Patrick's Day to most of Los Angeles, but to Hollywood it was the birthday of Sid Grauman, wavy-haired motion-picture impresario, and the anniversary was celebrated with a stag dinner at the Roosevelt Hotel attended by many of the celebrities of the motion-picture capital.

In honor to his famous coiffure, the guest of honor was seated in a barber's chair at the banquet. Thus enthroned Grauman was the object of a rapid-fire of congratulatory and sometimes caustic speeches and the recipient of an odd assortment of birthday gifts which included a duck, poker chips, clap pipes, as well as a large number of more formal presents.

His birthday remembrances included a terra cotta bust of Moliere, made by the French government from the original in the Comedie Francaise in Paris. This gift, representing the father of the modern theater, was presented by a group of Mr. Grauman's friends in the Breakfast Club.

Mrs. Ware Wins Property Share With Alimony

A decree giving Mrs. Carolyn Ware the victory in her separate-maintenance suit against her husband, Harry L. Ware, former merchandising manager of a large downtown department store, is on file in the court of Superior Judge Enge, who signed it. The trial lasted several weeks.

Mrs. Ware asked separate maintenance. Her husband retaliated with a petition for divorce.

The wife under the decree is given $25 a month until her husband, who now is ill, is able to go back to work again. She also is allowed $2500, the balance due on $3000 attorney fees; $2000 in cash, household furniture and one of the two family automobiles.

Mrs. Ware won out on five charges in her complaint, desertion, extreme cruelty and three separate charges of infidelity, according to Attorney Clyde Murphy, her counsel.

ORATORY EVENT JUDGES AIDED

Uniform Standards Devised by Oral Arts Body

Task of Selecting Winners to be Less Difficult

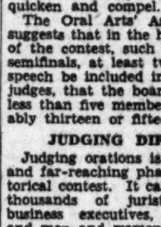
Suggestion Also Made on Number of Arbiters

In response to a request from sponsors of the National Oratorical Contest, the Oral Arts Association of Southern California is co-operating with the contest management in an effort to formulate a more satisfactory system of judging.

MRS. ANNICE C. MOORE.

The difficulty the managers have experienced in getting satisfactory decisions at contests, due to a lack of uniformity of standards among judges, was placed before a large gathering of teachers at a luncheon given in their honor during the Teachers' Institute, December 17, last, and their co-operation was invited.

As a result, the Oral Arts Association of Southern California, comprising the teachers of oral expression in high schools, appointed a committee to formulate instructions and suggestions for the use of judges to be supplementary to the rules for judges laid down by the national contest director at Washington, D. C. The president of the association is Mrs. Annice Campbell Moore of Roosevelt High School; first vice-president, Merle McGinnis, Huntington Park High; second vice-president, C. R. Houstman, Edison Junior High, Long Beach; financial secretary, Frances Kallstedt, Washington High; secretary, Rose Tital, speech correction department; member at large, Grace Barnes, Beverly Hills High.



MERLE McGINNIS.

The committee members are:

Merle McGinnis, chairman, Huntington Park High; Mrs. Annice Campbell Moore, Roosevelt High; C. R. Houstman, Edison Junior High; Ray Feenan, Hollywood High; Katherine Lockett, San Pedro High; Mrs. Ora Johnson, University High. This committee submitted the following as "criteria for effective speech:"

Does the speaker converse with his listeners and is he alert to audience reaction?

Can he be heard and understood with ease?

Does his voice effectively interpret thought and feeling?

Is he sincere, straightforward and interesting?

Does his body expression emphasize the meaning of what he says?

Does he reveal a sound working knowledge of the subject?

Are the purpose, central idea and structure of the speech effectively developed?

Is his language adequate, appropriate and comprehensible?

SUGGESTIONS ADOPTED

These suggestions have been adopted by the contest director and will be sent out with instructions furnished by the national director for use and guidance of judges. These latter instructions state that judges are to consider three points in making selections:

(1.) The fitness of the contestant to make a worthy showing in the highest stages of the contest—character, poise and personality to be the criterions.

(2.) The composition of the oration, with particular emphasis on historical accuracy, logic and general literary effectiveness.

(3.) Moving power—the extent to which the speaker can thrill, quicken and compel.

The Oral Arts' Association also suggests that in the higher brackets of the contest, such as The Times semifinals, at least two teachers of speech be included in the board of judges, that the board number not less than five members and preferably thirteen or fifteen, if possible.

JUDGING DIFFICULT

Judging orations is an important and far-reaching phase of the oratorical contest. It calls into service thousands of jurists, educators, business executives, civic leaders and men and women prominent in various walks of intellectual life. The participation of these judges becomes a duty of patriotic service. It is not always a pleasant duty, for as conscientious and intelligent as the judges may be in their work, there are disappointments among contestants that are often echoed by groups. Judges often differ vastly in their evaluation of oratorical performances, but this is because there has been an absence of uniformity of standards of judging, each judge using a different criterion. With the help of the suggestions offered by the Oral Arts Department, it is expected that the duties of judges will be made more pleasant and their decisions more certain and satisfactory.

Inspired by the enthusiasm of Miss Ella Ludwig, teacher of civics, who has the contest in charge and who supervised and corrected all the orations submitted, Roosevelt High School has caught the spirit and motive of the founder and sponsor of the National Oratorical Contest on the Constitution and is going into the contest in a wholehearted way. Miss Ludwig got the whole school to working last semester and spent her entire vacation on the orations submitted. All told, 375 students have written orations for the contest. The contestants were divided into two groups. One group has already held its preliminary tryout and six students chosen to represent the group. The other division will hold its contest shortly and choose six. The twelve will then have a final school contest to pick the orator to represent the school in the semifinals with other schools of the zone.

The six who survived the first divisional contest are Leo Epstein, Harry Geller, Louis Kesner, Israel Kronsberg, Leslie Steckel and Harriet Schonfield.

COUNTY TO BUY BEACHES

Supervisors Take Action Looking to Purchase of Frontage at Manhattan and Redondo

Steps to acquire more than two miles of beach frontage for public recreational purposes were taken yesterday by the Board of Supervisors when that body, on motion of Supervisor Shaw, adopted informal resolutions declaring the county's intention to acquire the beach land.

The land sought under the resolutions is roughly divided into two strips, one 3765 feet long at Redondo Beach and the other, 8147 feet in length at Manhattan Beach.

The Redondo Beach parcel is owned by the Pacific Electric Railway, varies in depth from 50 to 150 feet and was offered to the county at a price of $55 a front foot, making the total price of the parcel approximately $200,000. It was stated that yesterday was the last day on which the county could take steps to obtain the land at this price.

The Manhattan Beach strip is mostly owned by the George A. Peck estate and the price quoted on it is approximately $75 a front foot. This price places a total approximate valuation on the Manhattan Beach property at slightly more than $600,000.

According to figures submitted to the Board of Supervisors, the two parcels represent the most advantageous beach land available to the county at prices that are considered extraordinarily favorable. It was pointed out that due to rapid growth, the amount of desirable available beach land is diminishing at an alarming rate, and prices ranging from $100 to $600 a front foot have been asked for beach strips in other localities.

Whether the recent offer of the State to join the county in the purchase of beach lands can be employed in the proposed purchase of the Redondo Beach and Manhattan Beach parcels is a question that remains undetermined.

Under the State's offer, State and county would match each other "dollar for dollar" in the purchase of beach lands in unincorporated areas, the State to take title to the lands so purchased and operate them as public parks.

It was pointed out that, under the State's regulations, the land sought at Redondo and Manhattan beaches must be disincorporated before the State can join in its purchase. Steps already have been taken to disincorporate the desired beach land at Manhattan Beach and it was suggested similar proposals may be adopted at Redondo Beach to permit the State to participate in the proposed purchases.

Supervisor Wright suggested, however, that if the State deems it inadvisable to join in the proposed purchases at the two beach cities, an arrangement may be made whereby the State will purchase property in other localities in the county to match the county's intended acquisitions at Redondo Beach and Manhattan Beach.

In view of the numerous legal questions presenting themselves incidental to the proposed purchases by either county or State, or by both, the entire matter was referred to County Counsel Mattoon for preparation of the proper legal procedure.

CLUB NOTES

BY MYRA NYE

"The National Trend in Motor Vehicle Legislation" is the subject to be presented today by Ivan Kelso before the Soroptimists meeting in the music room of the Biltmore at 12 o'clock noon. Mr. Kelso is general counsel for the Automobile Club of Southern California, and it is expected that he will help solve some of the questions for women drivers. The attendance prize will be given this week by the president, Dr. Lillian M.Grandmason, who will preside. Dr. Grandmason herself was the winner of the prize last week, a handsome fur.

Hostesses for today include Frances Putnam, Ada Watson, Phoebe Ara White, Mattie M. Wallace, Margaret Quinn and Dr. Minnie Proctor.

At the last meeting Amelia F. Johnson was elected delegate to attend the national Soroptimist convention in Philadelphia in May. Dr. Grandmason also will attend.

The Presidents' Association

"Have We Too Many Commissions" will be one of the subjects discussed at the next meeting of the Presidents' Association Saturday, beginning at 10:30 a.m. at the Hotel Clark. Mrs. Charles F. Gray, junior past president, will take up questions relating to changes in the city charter necessary to a more efficient and economical administration of affairs, the election of a city manager rather than a Mayor, and the work of the local immigration service, relative to the smuggling of aliens over the Mexican border, and the deportation of alien radicals. The questions also will be discussed with Mrs. Gray leading.

Miss Maude Butler will repeat her address, "Famous Trees I Have Known," which has awakened widespread and favorable comment among club women. Luncheon will be served in the grill room at 12:30 p.m., when discussion will be continued. Mrs. Edna Grace Cooke is president.

Women's University Club

The recent graduate group of the Women's University Club will give a bridge dinner tomorrow at 6:30 p.m. in the clubhouse, 943 South Hoover street, and the club members themselves will entertain with a bridge-luncheon Saturday at 12:30 p.m. Mrs. Coey Dunkelberger and Miss Margaret T. Tritt will be in charge.

Mischa Gegna, Russian 'cellist, will appear at a musical and tea to be given by this academic group of women Sunday at 4:30 p.m. Mischa Gegna is a graduate of Leipzig Royal Conservatory, and has toured with Tetrazzini, Caruso and Mary Garden, making his American debut in 1914. Sunday he will play for the first time in this city the "Habanera" (Josef Pasternack.) His other selections are "Dance of the Elves" (Popper,) and "Prayer From Jewish Life" (Ernest Bloch.)

Sorority Initiation

Alpha Omicron Pi Sorority at the University of California at Los Angeles announces the iniation Friday of Misses Blythe Ringquist, Henrietta Blank, Dorothy Piper, Florence Summerbell, Bijou Brinkop, Margaret Christon and Grace Crenshaw.

Miss Audrey Buratti, president of Kappa Theta chapter of Alpha Omicron Pi, officiated at the initiation ceremony and presided at the ensuing formal banquet held at the chapter house, 894 Hilgard avenue, Westwood, in honor of the new members.

With Miss Marche Agens acting as toastmistress, responses were made by various members of the sorority. A welcome to the new members was the theme of Miss Virginia Clay's toast and Miss Mary Poulton spoke on "The History of Alpha Omicron Pi and Kappa Theta Chapter." Mrs. Verne W. McKinney, alumnae adviser, explained "Symbolism in the Fraternity."

Red Jacqueminot roses, the fraternity flower, marked each cover at the banquet table, and attractive parchment menu-programs in the sorority colors were given as favors.

Women's Democratic League

Mrs. William H. Anderson is president of the Women's Democratic League and she will preside the meeting Thursday 2:30 p.m. in the Biltmore. Prof. Frank H. Carver will deliver a lecture in the series on "American Political Parties," a feature of each program of the league.

Mrs. Willoughby Rodman has recently been added to the board of directors, whose members will convene prior to the regular session. Plans will be completed to celebrate the birthday anniversary of Thomas Jefferson April 13 with a brilliant luncheon when a speaker of national fame will address the members and their guests.

Garfield Study Club

Miss Maude Butler was re-elected president of the Garfield Study Club at the last meeting Thursday and Mrs. S. P. Chase was chosen secretary.

"A Fan Symposium," will be conducted at the session Thursday at 5200 Oakland street, when other speakers will be Dr. James Mussati and Miss Eleanor Smart. Hostesses are Miss Butler, Miss Mildred Roberts, and Mrs. Charles Baker for the special club affair which marks the sixth anniversary of the founding.

Women's Press Club

For its "shop talk" program today in the Friday Morning clubhouse, the Southern California Women's Press Club is planning a pretentious program.

Mina Sloan Snell, chairman, will present H. Clark Getts, student and translator of Oriental poetry, in a talk on Chinese poetry. Mr. Getts passed many years in China, and possesses an extensive library of Celestial works, including several priceless manuscripts.

Mrs. Guy Bush, pianist, will give a program of her own compositions, and several members of the club's poetry section are to read original verses.

Among the guests of honor will be John Steven McGroarty, who is also to give a brief talk; Mrs. McGroarty, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Field, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy McLeod and Snow Longly Housh.

YOUR BABY and MINE

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope, forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, styes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

HOW CAN THE MOTHER REGAIN THAT GIRLISH FIGURE?

Loss of the mother's girlish figure is always a great trial to her. We cannot truthfully say that a mother looks exactly the same before and after maternity, but one need not be as "dreadful" looking as the following letter would lead one to think.

Mrs. L. C. B. says in part: "I have two nice children, a boy of 3 and a girl of 7 months. Since the birth of the girl I have a figure like a barrel and it is not from lack of proper care or from a failure to ware a properly fitted corset. In spite of that I am terribly fat and getting fatter all the time. How can I help myself and lose this dreadful figure?"

In addition to the naturally somewhat enlarged figure that succeeds maternity, your chief ailment is overweight. If, despite plenty of exercise, you are still gaining weight, blame overeating. Obviously you won't help your figure in any way until you remedy that condition.

The first suggestion, then, would be to diet properly. Consult your physician about this, as we have no help for adult ailments in this department.

EXERCISES HELP, TOO

There are exercises which will help to tighten up the abdominal muscles and to keep them taut. Having been stretched out of place for long months it takes some time for them to return to their previous tautness. Exercises will help.

Bending exercises, standing with knees stiff and touching the floor with finger tips, touching the right foot with the left hand and vice versa, twisting from right and left and back again holding the body straight and twisting just at the waist as if one were a mechanical doll, are all exercises which will affect the abdominal muscles.

The "Mosher" exercises for the mother before and after birth are excellent. Lie flat on the back in bed. Pull in the abdomen forcibly. Relax. Push it out forcibly. Relax. Do this for ten or more times the first day and increase the number. You'll find this leaves a soreness the first day or so until the muscles get used to the exercise.

Some up-to-the-minute obstetricians begin to give the mother exercises while she is still in bed. This should only be done under expert guidance and in consideration of each individual. But after the first six weeks one can safely exercise to reduce the overlarge and prominent abdomen without the least harm.

Do get after that overweight. It is so easy to accept as an aftermath of child birth, instead of realizing that it is the appetite that now has the upper hand. Overeating is such an easy habit to acquire.

CHEF WYMAN'S RECIPES

Every Tuesday and Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

GRAPEFRUIT SALAD

Two tablespoonfuls of gelatine, one-half a cupful of cold water, one-half a cupful of boiling water, one cupful of grapefruit juice, one-half a cupful of orange, two tablespoonfuls of lemon juice, one and one-half cupfuls of flaked salmon, three-fourths of a cupful of diced celery, two tablespoonfuls of chopped sour pickles, three tablespoonfuls of chopped pimientos, soak the gelatine in the cold water five minutes. Add the boiling water, and stir until dissolved, then add the fruit juices, and a seasoning of salt. Stir and chill until beginning to harden, then add the fish, celery, pickles and pimientos, pour into molds, chill, and serve in lettuce cups with mayonnaise.

CRUMB PIE

Cover two cupfuls of fine bread crumbs with three cupfuls of rich milk, and allow to stand for ten minutes, then add one teaspoonful of salt, two-thirds of a cupful of sugar, and four eggs slightly beaten, one cupful of seedless raisins, one-fourth of a teaspoonful of mace, mix thoroughly and pour into an unbaked pie shell. Sprinkle the top with cinnamon and dot with bits of butter, place in a hot oven for the first ten minutes, then reduce the heat and finish the baking.

ITALIAN SPAGHETTI

Soak half a cupful of dried mushrooms in two cupfuls of boiling water for forty-five minutes, drain and keep the water. Chop the mushrooms fine, place in a saute pan one-half a cupful of oil, two finely chopped onions, one finely chopped clove of garlic, one tablespoonful of chopped parsley and the mushrooms. Cook until the onion is clear, add four tablespoonfuls of tomato conserve and two cupfuls of beef stock, or one-half a cupful of tomato sauce and one cupful of beef stock, add a seasoning of salt, paprika, and the mushroom water, let simmer at least forty-five minutes, and even longer is better. Place cooked spaghetti on a hot platter and pour the sauce over it, sprinkle with grated Parmesan cheese.

IMITATION BOILED CHOCOLATE FROSTING

Mix three tablespoonfuls of cocoa with one cupful of XXXX sugar, and beat it together well, take three tablespoonfuls of strong black coffee and heat it, add to it two tablespoonfuls of butter, and stir until the butter is melted, then pour all at once into the mixture of sugar and cocoa. Stir it quickly and spread at once on the cake.

Mrs. Wyman does not reply to letters, but requests for recipes are answered in the department. PRACTICAL RECIPES, published every Friday.—(All rights to reproduce reserved by A. L. Wyman.)

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

JUICY PIES

One housewife sticks two or three pieces of uncooked macaroni in her juicy berry pies. The juice bubbles up in these and then returns to the pie when it cools and there is none spilled in the oven.

HOLD ON TO THE KEY

After opening the vacuum-packed coffee can, unwind the key and put it in the dresser drawer. One of these times when a can of coffee comes minus the key you will be very grateful that you have an extra one.

BRIGHT AND SHINING

There is nothing prettier than the kitchen pantry thoroughly equipped with all the necessary kitchen articles in bright, shiny aluminum. However, it is not much credit to the woman who has aluminum vessels and allows them to become tarnished and blackened.

SO YOU KNOW THEIR DIET

Impress upon your children to keep their own school luncheon and not swap with other children. You have carefully planned the lunch and know the nourishment they will receive and if they start to change about you will never known just what they have had to eat.

A KITCHEN BRIGHTENER

If the top of your kitchen table is of wood, cover it with white oilcloth, stretch tightly and tack on the underneath side. You will be surprised how much cleaner and brighter the kitchen will seem.

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

by THORNTON W. BURGESS

WHEN WINGS GAVE OUT

Your limitations are defined,
So always keep the fact in mind.
—Dipper the Grebe.

Dipper the Grebe had spent the winter as far north as he could find open water all the time. Grebes are birds who spend their whole lives on and in the water. They are wonderful divers. In this respect they are like Dippy the Loon. Their legs are very short and are at the very ends of their bodies, so that when they stand up they stand almost straight. Their feet are not webbed like the feet of the ducks and the geese and the swans. However, along the inside of each toe are lobes or flaps of skin which act as webs. So they are wonderful swimmers.

Now the wings of Dipper the Grebe are narrow. He can move them very swiftly, which means that he can fly very fast. But it takes him some time to get up in the air. That is, he has to get going before he can rise. So, of course, he cannot rise from the land. You see, he cannot run with those little short legs. In order to get up in the air he must rise from the water and get up speed. It is like a fast aeroplane. You know the fastest aeroplanes have narrow wings and have to get going very fast indeed on the ground before they can rise. It is just so with Dipper the Grebe.

The approach of spring had made Dipper impatient to get going. So one day he took it into his head to fly north. He was heading for the Big River, where it flows near Farmer Brown's. To reach it from the place where he had started he must fly a very long distance. Now, he thought there would be one or two ponds of open water that he could drop down into for a rest if he felt tired. He was mistaken. It happened that the ice had not yet left those ponds. By the time he reached the last one he was getting very tired. However, there was nothing to do but to keep on.

With every swift stroke of those wings Dipper felt more and more tired. He began to worry. Would he be able to reach the Big River before his wings gave out? If he didn't reach it what would become of him? Anxiously he strained his eyes for a glimpse of the Big River. At last he saw it. It was just a silver line far away in the distance, but he knew what it was. The sight of it gave him new courage.

Dipper is not one to give up easily. His wings ached so that it seemed as if he could not take another stroke with them. Still he kept on. Now he could see the Big River clearly. With every stroke of his wings it drew nearer. At last he had reached the edge of the Green Meadows. If he could just get across the Green Meadows, it would be enough. But he couldn't.

You see, he cannot run with those little short legs

His wings refused to beat any longer. Down, down, down he came and landed with a thump on the Green Meadows. And never in all his life had Dipper felt quite so helpless as he felt then.

And it's economical, condensed—a little goes a long way. Sold by grocers everywhere. Is it on your list for today?

TUESDAY MORNING.

RADIO SERVING AS INSTRUCTOR

Shorthand Practice Helped by News Broadcasts

Students of Music Follow Entertainers' Work

School of Air Will Feature Washington Incident

The Times Forum, KHJ, 1:30 p.m.: Jennie Durkee, instrumentalist, and Dr. Frank McCoy, health authority. World-wide news, 12:30, 4:45 and 10 p.m.

BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

There is a phase of radio in the use that is seldom spoken of and little known. Radio, the unseen instructor, is doing good work. Communications indicate that students of shorthand are using the daily broadcast periods of world-wide news to test their abilities. Students of the violin, 'cello, flute, banjo, ukulele and other string instruments are tuning up and attempting to follow renditions over the air. There are requests from fans for more solo renditions. Singing in many cases, are crooning lullabies and semiclassical numbers and even in some cases are endeavoring to following the classical compositions as broadcast.

The art has many friends because they appreciate the fact that tests and experiments can be made in reception, without any one to pass judgment.

POEMS POPULAR

Another interesting fact is that the public does enjoy poems, when properly presented. Any doubts on this score may be answered by the fact that Peggy Hamilton received literally hundreds of requests for copies of one of the poems which she read during a Saturday forum period. This may not seem a great number to the average broadcast-in, but when it is realized that thirty-two of these letters were written in longhand, the time and effort taken does show a definite interest.

In other ways also radio is serving as an instructor in the home. Properly studied, this friend can be utilized to a far greater degree. The best results it is necessary to study the radio dial instead of using it as a haphazard fashion. Through such study it is not difficult to tabulate a definite line of reception. If one proposes to listen in to the educational talks by Edward A. Salisbury regarding the people of the South Seas it is quite essential that the notes of his talks should be missed. It is a fact, however, that the public has not been schooled to the point of really knowing what may be had in the field of radio and how to get it. It is still too much a haphazard proposition.

HIGH SPOTS ON DIAL

KHJ at 11:30 a.m. will take you to the School of the Air, using as the subject a dramatic incident from the life of George Washington. This will be found both entertaining and instructive. At 12:45 the Los Angeles Advertising Club's program is for "men only." Which means the femininity of radioland will be at the loud. At 9 p.m. tonight Paul Whiteman and his orchestra will have as guest artist none other than Dorothy Parker. This is a national network program and the inclusion of Dorothy Parker, of the KHJ staff, is a compliment to the station and an indication of the kind of artists the program directors turns out. John Boles is the star, Lloyd Hughes will be there.

Policewoman Says Rooster Attacked Her

"Say, sergeant, if every dog is entitled to one bite under the law, how many pecks has a rooster got?" demanded Policewoman Ghipa Vaughan of the Venice police division, as she limped into the station house last night.

"How many pecks of what?" demanded Desk Sergeant Brunty as he removed his glasses and peered at Mrs. Vaughan.

"Of my a-er-oh-of-a woman's leg?" Mrs. Vaughan replied.

"Well, I don't think the law says anything about a rooster's peck," the sergeant informed her, "but how come and why?"

"Well, I was inspecting a back yard awhile ago and a big Shanghai rooster leaped at me and pecked me on the knee," she explained. "I just had it dressed at the Venice Emergency Hospital."

"What did you do when the rooster attacked you?" Brunty asked.

"Why, I climbed over a fence and tore my dress," she explained, ruefully, "and when I landed on the other side, darned if that blasted rooster didn't throw out his chest and crow."

Police Board Finds It Can't Impound Cars

Upon the advice of Deputy City Attorney Kitzmiller, the Police Commission yesterday canceled its request to the City Council for passage of the ordinance desired by the police department for the impounding of automobiles parked on city streets between the hours of 2 a.m. and 4 a.m.

In the ordinance it was sought to obtain authority for the expense of towage of locked cars and storage of them pending court action. Kitzmiller doubted the legality of such a plan.

It was pointed out, however, that it still is against the law to use the streets for parking between the hours named and that auto owners may be cited as heretofore.

Los Angeles Income Taxes Show Increase

Los Angeles still is the "white spot" of the United States, it was indicated yesterday by unofficial figures regarding the Federal income tax for this district for 1929.

While about 225,000 returns were made, 25,000 more than for 1928, it is indicated that $5,000,000 more than the collections for 1928 will have been made when the figures are complete. A total of $70,000,000 was collected for 1928.

A heavy mail was received yesterday bearing returns of many who mailed at the last minute. The force of Collector of Internal Revenue Welch still is busy tabulating the returns.

Health and Diet

ADVICE

by DR. FRANK McCOY

Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

When the bowel has become twisted on itself it forms a kind of kink known as volvulus, which comes from the Latin term, volvere, to roll. These cases often occur in the sigmoid flexure above the rectum. Long-standing constipation is the most frequent cause of volvulus.

Another serious form of intestinal kinking is called intussusception, which refers to the slipping of one part of the intestine into another, a kind of swallowing of the intestine by itself. When this condition occurs, it is easy to see that there are three thicknesses of bowel in one place. The intussusception may be from a half-inch in length to as much as a foot. Common sites are where the small and large intestine join together and in the descending colon.

In order that you may understand this article more clearly I suggest that you find an anatomical drawing of the intestines in some medical book and have it beside you when you are reading this article.

Should there be any interference with the nerves or muscles of the intestines, a kink forms, as one section of the intestines does not move as rapidly as its neighboring sections. This may be caused by blows to the abdomen, operations, inflammation, or excessive quantities of gas.

The symptoms of an acute obstruction will be a sort of colicky pain drawing through the abdomen, which later becomes severe and persistent. The patient has an exhausted appearance and may vomit his last meal, which is often followed by the vomiting of greenish bile and sometimes even the vomiting of fecal matter which has been carried back from the intestines to the mouth by a reverse movement. Sometimes the bowel can throw off the substance below the point of obstruction, but often no movements at all occur. As a rule, the higher the obstruction in the intestine, the more pain. The abdominal region is sore and tender and may be greatly distended from gas. The amount of urine is lessened, since the patient may vomit up most of his fluids. The skin becomes clammy and the tongue greatly coated. Sometimes the obstruction can be felt with the fingers as a tumor-like enlargement.

Where there is a very stubborn constipation, one should have a very careful X-ray examination in the standing position to see if an obstruction has been formed.

Chronic obstruction is not as severe as acute obstruction, but the full contents may become greatly packed, accompanied with some pain in the colon, and, sometimes vomiting. Often peritonitis is noticed with the colitis which always exists.

In old people it is not unusual for the bowels to be stopped up as long as two weeks without producing any severe symptoms. Sometimes the contents of the small intestine may succeed in worming or tunneling their way through the hardened feces lining the kinks in the colon and in this way a partial elimination may be carried on and the patient be totally unaware of the obstruction.

Thirteen candidates will be initiated tomorrow afternoon into Lambda chapter of Pi Sigma Alpha, national political science fraternity, at the University of Southern California. The initiation in the president's suit, Bovard Hall, will be followed by a banquet at the Mary Louise. Judge Charles E. Students to be initiated are Louis Brown, Amy Austernall, Ross Cody, Lillian Copeland, Armond Fitzer, Lenore V. Giddings, Robert Goldman, Don Harwood, Orlo Rojo, Paul Shreibman and Lorraine Young. Officers are Harold Hurley, president; Joseph S. Dubin, vice-president, and Edwin Jefferson, secretary-treasurer. WONDER BREAD
IT'S SLO-BAKED

Time after Time after Time

Result of test-by-toasting is always the same

The very latest convincing proof comes from America's finest cooking schools

WOMEN in 2732 cities and towns in almost every state of the Union have proved with the test-by-toasting that slo-baked Wonder Bread is a true quality loaf . . . the best for all-round, every-day use.

And now in a rigid scientific test, one of America's finest cooking schools returns it the winner!

187 students of the Albany School of Cookery also used the test by toasting because it reveals more about baking and ingredients used in a bread than any other practical test.

How test was made

Using automatic toasters for exact timing, these cooking experts toasted Wonder Bread. Then they toasted the other breads and holding them side by side compared the results.

At every table the Wonder Bread was more evenly toasted, more golden, without traces of scorching. The other breads were disappointing. They suffered in comparison.

Why does the fact that Wonder Bread makes better toast prove that it is a fine bread for table use and every household need? Because Wonder Bread is a scientifically perfect loaf. Only perfect bread makes perfect toast.

$6,000,000 Bread

Six million dollars was spent to perfect and produce it before it was offered to you.

Every year two million dollars extra is spent to get the super-quality ingredients required by the Wonder Bread recipe—the flour that is milled from the nutritious heart of the wheat berry—the twice-pasteurized milk with its high butter-fat content—and the salt, sugar and yeast.

Slo-baked Wonder Bread is at your grocer's. Fresh twice a day. White or whole-wheat as you prefer.

DAM CEMENT BIDS REDUCED

County Will Save $11,000 Under New Price

Hansen Project Offer Cut Eleven Cents a Barrel

Supervisors Take Advantage of Break in Market

Through its action a week ago in rejecting bids for cement to be used in the construction of the Hansen dam in Big Tujunga Canyon, the Board of Supervisors saved the county approximately $11,000, it was revealed yesterday when new bids on the cement were opened.

The previous low bid had been $1.96 a barrel at Roscoe, near the dam site, but in spite of the fact that this bid was the lowest on cement received in years, Supervisor Wright pointed out there had been a break in the cement market which might result in an even lower bid.

ELEVEN CENTS LOWER

When the new bids were opened yesterday, it was disclosed that the Riverside Cement Company quoted a price of $1.85 a barrel f.o.b. Roscoe, 11 cents per barrel lower than the previous low bid.

Other bids received were Monolith Portland Cement Company, $1.86 a barrel; California Portland Cement Company, $1.94 a barrel, and Southwest Portland Cement Company, $1.94 a barrel.

BIDS TO BE CHECKED

The bids were referred to County Flood Control Engineer Eaton for checking. Inasmuch as 102,000 barrels of cement are to be used in the construction of the Hansen dam, acceptance of the Riverside Cement Company's bid of yesterday will mean an approximate saving of $11,000 over the previous bid.

The Hansen dam, which will cost approximately $1,909,000, will be one of four to be built in Big Tujunga Canyon in conformity with county flood-control plans. Edwards, Wildey & Dixon hold the contract for construction of the dam, for which the county is to furnish the materials.

SILENCER MADE FOR SENATE

"Filibuster Buster" on Way to Curtis

This Jumbo Gavel Should be Effective

Margaret Schelfeffer exhibits ordinary "weapon" of presiding officers and slightly larger one made for presentation to Vice-President.

MARGARET SCHELFEFFER, the young woman in the accompanying picture, is not holding a glorified bungstarter in her right hand, but the jumbo gavel that has been sent to Vice-President Curtis by George Curtis Peck, Federal commercial attaché at Panama, who is sojourning in Los Angeles. An inscribed plate on the gavel describes it as a "filibuster buster." It is made of Panama balsa wood and mahogany and despite its bulk weighs only a few pounds.

The huge gavel is a replica of one recently presented to James H. Smiley, manager of the Los Angeles Federal Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, on the occasion of his assuming the presidency of the Foreign Trade Club of Southern California. Mr. Smiley points out that the two gavels shown in the picture illustrate the growth in the foreign trade of Los Angeles, the small one representing the $750,000 foreign export trade done through the port in 1915, and the larger one the $181,000,000 business in 1929.

Miss Schelfeffer is secretary to Mr. Smiley. Both jumbo gavels were made by the Hammond Lumber Company.

Baer to Collect Fund for China Welfare Group

Appointment of John Willis Baer of Pasadena as treasurer of the California Committee for China Child Welfare, Inc., was announced yesterday by headquarters, 150 Fifth avenue, New York. Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, Secretary of the Interior, is a member of the national committee. The announcement is made that many local committees in California are agreeing to take the responsibility of caring for a designated number of Chinese children during the year, $30 being required for each child.

Chinese of San Francisco are raising funds for building and equipping one of the model cottages at the proposed national child welfare demonstration center in Nanking.

PASTOR'S WIFE WINS LOVE SUIT

Jury Grants Mrs. Sadie Wing $10,000 Damages

Former Secretary of Church Guilty of Alienation

Verdict Returned in Less Than Two Hours

A verdict of $10,000 was awarded Mrs. Sadie Wing against Mrs. Ethel Klingerman by a jury yesterday in the court of Superior Judge Archbald at the close of her suit in which she asked $25,000 for the asserted stealing of the love of her husband, Rev. J. Orye Wing, former pastor of the El Monte Christian Church. The jury, composed of eight men and four women, deliberated one hour and a half. The trial had lasted one week.

Attorney James D. Randles, representing Mrs. Wing, made an impassioned plea for his client during the closing arguments in the trial.

The attorney pictured the minister as a pastor who did not practice what he preached. He ridiculed the testimony that the love quotations sent to him by Mrs. Klingerman were to be used as material in talks before the young people of his church.

Attorney Randles recalled the case of Clara Phillips, who killed Alberta Meadows because she believed she had stolen the love of her husband. He called upon the jury in the Wing case to uphold the rights of a good woman who did not attempt to take the law into her own hands.

Attorney J. H. De La Monte, counsel for the defendant, characterized the suit of Mrs. Wing as a "revenge move" on the part of a wife who had already lost the love of her husband by her own acts.

DEMANDS OF TRUNK LINES UNDER FIRE

Robinson of Union Pacific Heard Before Examiner of Interstate Board

Western trunk lines seeking an increased share of trans-Missouri freight divisions are receiving a liberal amount of such divisions at the present time, F. W. Robinson, vice-president in charge of traffic of the Union Pacific System, testified yesterday before Examiner Disque of the Interstate Commerce Commission, at the Alexandria.

Granting of the demands of the western trunk lines, Robinson said, would work a hardship on the trans-Missouri lines, depriving them of revenues that if recoverable at all could be recovered only by increased operating efficiency. Possibility of a rate increase, he said, is remote.

At the same time, the witness declared the trans-Missouri revenues are vital to his road. He also made the point that any scheme of mileage pro-rata, such as is favored by the western trunk lines, does not apply itself properly to the territory as a whole, inasmuch as conditions in the trans-Missouri territory are widely dissimilar.

CHEF WYMAN'S MENU "LIKE MOTHER MADE"

The program at the Los Angeles Times' Free Cooking School today is different from the menu of unusual dishes usually demonstrated. Chef Wyman has selected a group of old-fashioned recipes on the order of those that "mother used to make," and will demonstrate the making of a boiled apple pudding, gingerbread, red-cabbage salad, lebkuchen—a German honey cookie—transparent icing and one of the popular Spanish dishes, Spanish steak and risotto. The class begins promptly at 2 p.m. in the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway, every Tuesday and Friday.

HELP FOR NEEDY MAPPED

Community Chest Manager Gives Directions in Order to Co-ordinate Assistance

In the hope of reducing the number of door-to-door mendicants in Los Angeles by providing the proper care where it is needed, General Manager D. C. MacWatters of the Community Chest yesterday made the following recommendations:

If a woman or a family asks for aid, financial or otherwise, before 5 p.m., refer applicants to the Information Service Bureau of the Community Chest, 410 Bradbury Building, 304 South Broadway, phone TUcker 1688. This office will direct them to the proper agency.

If a homeless or single man asks for help, however, he should be sent to the Municipal Service Bureau of the City Social Service Department, 337 San Fernando Building, 405 South Main street, phone TUcker 1520.

LIST OF PLACES

After 5 p.m. or on Sundays, all requests for aid should be referred to one of the following agencies, according to the nature of the case.

Women and girls alone: Salvation Army Evangeline Home, 1005 West Sixth street, phone TRinity 5121; Young Women's Boarding Home of the Christian Mission and Industrial Association, 116 South Hope street, phone MAin 3897; Young Women's Christian Association Lodge, 201 Bimini Place, phone WAshington 7712; Volunteers of America, 436 Crocker street and 119 East Fourth street (on personal application;) Frances E. Willard Home (girls 15-20 years of age,) 301 North Broadway, phone VAn Dyke 0061.

Man and wife: Volunteers of America, 436 Crocker street or 119 East Fourth street (on personal application;) Christian Mission and Industrial Association, 112 Weller street, phone MUtual 6890; Salvation Army, 129 Weller street, phone MUtual 3213; Travelers' Aid Society, Union Station, Central avenue and Fifth street, phone FAber 6161.

OTHER AGENCIES

Women with children under 15: Volunteers of America, 436 Crocker street or 119 East Fourth street (on personal application;) Barton Training Home, 2116-18 Trinity street, phone RIchmond 2759; Salvation Army, 124 East Fourth street, phone Main 4826.

Boys under 21: Community Boys' Lodge, 610½ Temple street, phone MUtual 6844; for negro boys consult the Eastside Christian Home, 3009 Hooper street.

Man alone: Salvation Army Hotel, 129 Weller street, phone MUtual 3213; Christian Mission and Industrial Association, 112 Weller street, phone MUtual 6890; Volunteers of America, 436 Crocker street or 119 East Fourth street (on personal application.) Midnight Mission, 396 South Los Angeles street, phone MUtual 4427.

The Community Chest, through its 134 agencies, is prepared to provide for homeless, destitute and handicapped men, women and children. The practice of panhandling defeats this purpose and diverts funds which are sorely needed by the Chest agencies. In directing solicitors and mendicants to the Community Chest agencies or the City Municipal Service Bureau, which works in collaboration with them, the citizens of Los Angeles are helping both the needy and the Community Chest, officials of the latter say.

FILM PRODUCERS RECEIVE GIFTS FROM SPANISH KING

In appreciation of their participation and assistance in the recent International Exposition at Barcelona, leading film producers of Hollywood yesterday were presented with personally dedicated portraits of King Alfonso of Spain by Marcelo M. B. Ventura, good-will messenger from that country.

The portraits represent personal tributes from the Spanish King to producers who contributed to the "Barcelona Trailer," a film which introduced talking pictures to Spain and nineteen other Spanish-speaking nations, and which also served as the American film industry's official contribution to the exposition.

The trailer was assembled a year ago in Hollywood by Ventura who came to this country as a special representative of the exposition. He presented the film before the King and Queen on his return to Spain.

Among the producers who have or will receive the autographed portraits are Carl Laemmle, Adolph Zukor, Joseph M. Shenck, Harold Lloyd, Joseph Schnitzer, William Le Baron, Louis B. Mayer, Irving Thalberg and Will H. Hays, president of the producers' association. All the picture stars who participated in the picture received gold-medal awards.

Indoor Track Season Closes Tonight With Big Meet at New York; Brix and Sturdy Compete

NEW YORK, March 17. (AP)—Picked athletes from all parts of the United States invaded New York today in preparation for the grand climax of the winter track-and-field season, the national A.A.U. indoor championships at Madison Square Garden tomorrow night.

Plenty of intersectional rivalry is anticipated with the Illinois A.C. and the New York A.C., 1929 champion and runner - up, respectively, waging a hot duel for team honors. Rival standard bearers of these two clubs clash in the 1000-yard event when Ray Conger, the slender Iowan who now teaches school in New York but wears the colors of the Illinois A.C., defends his title against a crack field headed by Dr. Paul Martin, Swiss Olympic veteran, running for the New York A.C.

Martin, with a closing "kick" that rivals Conger's own, was only a stride behind Conger in the Columbian mile last week, and already has taken Conger's measure at 1000 yards.

Phil Edwards, lithe negro international, is favored to retain his 600-yard crown as Bernie McCafferty of Holy Cross was unable to enter because of college duties. Edwards will have with Charlie Niblock, Illinois A.C.; Eddie Roll, Newark A.C.; Fred Veit, New York A.C., and Johnny Gibson, Bloomfield (N. J.) Lyceum, among those arrayed against him.

Charley Engle, fleet anchor man of Yale's mile relay team, will defend his title in the 300-yard whirl. Nine individual champions, all told, will compete, others being Monty Wells, Boston A.A., in the 70-yard hurdles; Fred Sturdy, Los Angeles

Felix Caldera Shuts Out Westwood Baseballers in Opener of Series

California triumphed over the U.C.L.A. baseball nine, 4 to 0, yesterday in the first of a two-game series being played at Westwood. The game was featured by the airtight pitching of Felix Caldera and the brilliant fielding of Johnny Valianos, Harry Griffith chucked a nice game for the Bruins in allowing the visitors but six hits.

In the last half of the ninth inning the Bruins started a rally which was their only big threat of the afternoon. A double and a single had put two men on the bases when Valianos made a brilliant stop of a hard hit ball which he threw to Williams for a double play, ending what threatened to be a serious rally.

MARTIN SELECTION DUE

SAN FRANCISCO, March 17. (AP) Persistent reports were heard today in local boxing circles that appointment of Dr. Harry Martin of Hollywood as State Athletic Commissioner was imminent and might be announced this week by Gov. C. C. Young. If appointed, Dr. Martin would take the place of William Hanlon of Sacramento, whose term expired December 31, 1929, but who has held the commissionership pending appointment of a successor. Dr. Martin has been urged for the position by the American Legion, of which he is a member.

New York Quartet Breaks Relay Standard

MIAMI BEACH (Fla.) March 17. (AP)—Helene Madison, 16-year-old sensation of Seattle, Wash., sprinted through the waters of Roman pools here today for the fourth world record she has set in her first appearance in a national A. A. U. women's indoor swimming championship meet.

GEORGIA COLEMAN

The meet, a five-day affair, was won by the Women's Swimming Association of New York with 43½ points, part of them due to five of ten world's marks set during the contest.

The Pacific Coast star cut one-tenth of a second from the mark set by Ethel Lackie, Chicago, in Philadelphia, March 8, 1926, in the 100-yard free-style swim against time.

Georgia Coleman of the Los Angeles Athletic Club, successfully defended her title as high-board diving champion of the A.A.U. in the morning. She presented a varied display of difficult performances, featured by a running two and one-half somersault that carried her in ahead of other contestants.

Sharing last-day honors with Miss Madison was the New York Women's Swimming Association relay team, which established a new world mark of 4m. 19 2-5s. in the 400-yard relay event, cutting 4 2-5s. from the former record. The New York team was composed of Liza Lindstrom, Catherine Ames, Eleanor Holm and Adelaide Lambert, and shattered a five-year-old record held by a team composed of Miss Lambert, Gertrude Ederle, Aileen Riggin and Helen Wainwright.

The Illinois Women's Athletic Club relay team of Chicago was second in the event, while the Venetian Pools team of Coral Gables, Fla., placed third. Swimming with the Illinois Wom-

Schulte's Double Settles Contest in Eleventh

BY BOB RAY
"Times" Staff Representative

SAN DIEGO, March 17.—Rained out of their Saturday and Sunday games, Oscar Vitt's Hollywood Stars and Ray Schalk's Chicago Cubs were so anxious to play baseball this afternoon that they went eleven innings before reaching a verdict. The Cubs finally won out in the eleventh, 4 to 3, when John Schulte blasted a double to center to drive Ed Blair over the plate with the run needed to end the overtime activities of the athletes.

RAY SCHALK

The game was much better than the ordinary spring garden variety and brought out either a lot of flossy flinging by the pitchers involved or else brought to light the fact that the boys haven't yet polished up their batting eyes.

FIVE HITS

As it was, the Cubs got only five safeties off the combined mound efforts of Emil Yde, the good-looking southpaw; Jim Turner and George Hollerson, in the eleven rounds of effort. That proved enough for them to win, although the fact that two of those hits were home runs and two more doubles might have had something to do with the Cubs' success despite their paucity of base knocks.

George Bell, a lanky right-hander, and late of Mobile, hurled the first nine innings for the Cubs, and then gave way to Bill McAfee, whom the Cubs plucked off the University of Michigan campus. Bell was touched for all nine Hollywood hits and the three runs, while McAfee let the Sheiks down without a hit or a tally and exhibited a fair-to-midlin' high, hard one.

Skipper Vitt was more than pleased with the showing of Turner, the youthful right-hander from the Piedmont League, and believes that he has a chance of earning a regular turn on the Stars' mound staff. Turner struck out four men and allowed but two hits during his

LOS ANGELES WOMEN WIN

Fair Golfers of Los Angeles Country Club Capture Title by Taking All But Half a Point from Hillcrest in Yesterday's Team Matches

Capturing all but half a point in yesterday's match against Hillcrest, women golfers of the Los Angeles Country Club clinched the championship in play for the Southern California interclub title. There is one more week of play scheduled, but even if Los Angeles should lose all 9 points next week California, in second place in the standings, could not catch the new champions.

MRS. C. M. HIDDLEY

California won the title last year and seems assured of second place. Los Angeles has 79 points at this writing, California trailing with 67. Other teams stand as follows: Flintridge, 56; Wilshire, 54½; Riviera, 52½; Brentwood, 44½; Hillcrest, 41½; Lakeside, 33½; Oakmont, 31; Rancho, 27½; Hollywood, 27½, and San Gabriel, 25½.

Brentwood scored the most lopsided win yesterday, taking all 9 points from Rancho, the latter team playing with only three women, due to the absence of three others.

Members of the victorious Los Angeles team are: Mrs. George M. Lewis, Mrs. C. J. Woerner, Mrs. F. S. Hardin, Mrs. C. W. Cook, Mrs. H. B. Hammond and Mrs. George Midgley. Yesterday's results:

FOUR ANGEL ROOKS ARE FARMED OUT TO ARIZONA

From a crop of thirty rookies who started the spring training season with the Angels four have been found promising enough to farm out for future reference.

They are Tony Antista, outfielder; Leo Burns, third baseman; Luther Burbank, second baseman, and Roy Moore, southpaw pitcher.

These lads will be shipped to Bisbee in the Arizona League, it was announced yesterday by Boots Weber, secretary of the local club. The Angels have one other player out on option in Harry Childs, and under the rules are permitted to farm out but one other athlete. This choice probably lies between Green and Moncrief, youthful pitchers.

The Regulars and the Yannigans played a game at Wrigley Field yesterday afternoon, and the Regulars won by a score of 4 to 2. Walsh and Peters did the hurling for the Regulars and Glenn Gabler's young brother and Moore for the Yannigans.

It took the regulars five innings to overtake the Yannigans, but in the seventh Sigafoos's single and Jacobs's double against the left-field wall ran the count to four, and Manager Lelivelt called a halt to the practice.

Bill Skiff, the hold-out catcher from Newark, showed up at the park, but did not don a uniform. His luggage was late in arriving, but he is scheduled to turn out today.

Combined with his weight, Caldwell is 6 feet 4 inches tall, and was an outstanding cog in the Trojans' successful season.

PRIMO CARNERA STOPS WIGGINS

Italian Giant Knocks Out Foe in Second Round

ST. LOUIS, March 17. (AP)—Primo Carnera, Italian giant, scored a knockout over Chuck Wiggins of Indianapolis in the second round of their scheduled ten-round bout here tonight.

PRIMO CARNERA

Carnera knocked Wiggins out of the ring twice in the first minute of the second round. He was counted out as he lay beside the ropes outside the ring by Referee Walter Heisner, but a moment later was assisted back into his corner. He complained his back was injured. It was Carnera's tenth consecutive knockout victory in America. The fight was before a crowd estimated by Promoter Mique Malloy at 25,000, which paid approximately $70,000.

Wiggins, rated as the most experienced boxer and the most formidable foe Carnera had faced since his American invasion, was unable to land a telling blow during the fight and Carnera was unruffled when he left the ring.

The Indianapolis heavyweight, who has been in the boxing game sixteen years, appeared to be surprised by Carnera's speed and his defense. Wiggins rushed the Italian at the opening bell but was unable to get inside Carnera's defense.

EASTERN YACHT BEATS ANGELITA

Babe is Third in Race at Los Angeles Harbor

Marin Now Favorite to Win Handsome Trophy

BY FRANK ROCHE
"Times" Staff Representative

POINT FERMIN, March 17.—Dashing to the finish line like a whippet in pursuit of an electrical rabbit, Lewis Luckenbach's fleet eight-meter sloop Marin, flying the burgee of the Manhasset Bay Yacht Club of New York City, copped what appears to be a sure hold on the King of Spain trophy here this afternoon in the feature yachting event of the national mid-winter regatta.

AL CHRISTIE

With the veteran Frederick M. Hoyt of the New York Yacht Club at her stick, the Marin scored her second straight victory over the California Yacht Club's Santa Maria trophy defender, the Angelita, and the rest of the eight-meter field.

As in yesterday's series, light winds again prevailed, and this just suited the Marin. The Angelita, however, sailed by that able yachting citizen, Ted Conant, gave the eastern boat a terrific battle for the day's honors and the race itself was not decided until the last quarter-mile of the nine-mile course had been covered.

The Marin, very nicely handled by Hoyt, had held the lead from the first marker, but in the run for home the Angelita crept up on the eastern boat until it looked as though she was going to blanket her and win the race. The Marin, however, managed to get enough in the clear to dash for the tape and nose out the Angelita for the day's laurels.

BABE STILL THIRD

By virtue of the victory the Marin now has won two firsts and one second for a total of 11½ points, while the Angelita has won one first and two seconds for an aggregate of 10 1-4 points.

Owen Churchill's Babe which again finished third today remains in that position for the Santa Maria trophy which she won last

MECHANICS TRIP DEMOCRAT TEAM

Cooper Wins Both Sprints for Winners

Lott Beats Carmichael in Quarter Mile

Sexton Best Point Taker for Losing Team

BY IRVING ECKHOFF

Proving that it's hard to beat the Irish on St. Patrick's Day, Coach Eddie Leahy's Poly Mechanics threw a mild upset into the local prep dual track meet season by defeating the Jefferson Democrats, 58½ to 45½, yesterday afternoon on the Jefferson oval.

Leahy's crew won by virtue of its first-place men, who in several cases were doped to finish no better than third. Chief among the Poly Irish upsetters were Cooper, diminutive sprinter, who won both dash events, and George Lott, big quarter-miler, who nosed out Carmichael of Jefferson to win the one-lap race.

Cooper turned in two good performances, taking the century in 10 1-5s. and the furlong in 22 3-5s. The track was a bit soggy, but was in good condition, nevertheless.

The quarter was undoubtedly the best race of the day, Luvalle of Poly and Carmichael of Jefferson battling all the way around with Luvalle on the outside. Lott trailed them close behind and came up strong to nip the dusky Democrat galloper at the tape. The time of 52 3-5s. was good, considering the slow track.

Capt. Glenn Mack of the Mechanic squad won both barrier events, as expected, taking the lows in 25 4-5s., while the high sticks went at 16 2-5s.

Fernando Ramos, Southern California Junior Olympic champion last year in the senior division, took second in the broad jump, losing out for first place by half an inch. His team-mate, Shumaker, won with a leap of 20ft. 4in. Ramos also ran a nice lap on the relay team.

Bob Sexton, all-around Jefferson star, was the best point-grabber for Jim Pursell's team. Sexton won the high jump at 5ft. 5in. and tied Dick Lindsey of Poly for second place in the pole vault at 11ft.

The meet was run off in very fast time due to the good work of George Costello, head of the Jefferson athletic department. The relay was being run just as the first rain drops began to fall.

Len Morgan, also of the Bulldogs, were the only double winners of the day. Fitch took the century in 10.1s. and the furlong in 22.8s. Morgan put the shot 47ft. 6in. and heaved the discus 117ft. 5in.

TRAINING CAMP GOSSIP

AVALON (Catalina Island, Cal.) March 17.—For various reasons Chief McCarthy declared a holiday in the Cub camp today and there were no regrets among the boys who now are at the stage where the mere mention of trainins routine brings on a pain in the neck. All are thankful that the end is almost in sight. There even is a suspicion that McCarthy himself will cheer up when he can work his charges in daily exhibitions instead of in the uninspiring batting and fielding practice common to camp life.

McCarthy canceled the usual morning practice yesterday because he thought a rest was in order after the round trip to Los Angeles yesterday and partly because there were not enough men on hand to make a double drill necessary. Thirteen of the members are with the squad at San Diego. That left only eighteen men for the main squad and there was plenty of room for them to romp around the field for about two profitable hours this afternoon. A warm sun cheered them on in their labors.

OAK OUTFIT HARD AT WORK

FRESNO, March 17. (AP)—The Oaks renewed their efforts at preparedness for the opening of the Coast League season here today, with touch football taking a front place in the training camp program. Buzz Arlett and Fritz Reed headed the opposing teams, with Harlan Post, rookie catcher, winning the game for the Arletts with a long run on a forward pass from Arlett.

Batting practice today was an extensive affair with the Oaks' regulars continuing to steal the apple in the same fashion that they covered yesterday. That, however, would be when they faced Gould, Thomas and Keating of the Senators and pounded out the hits for the day.

The Oaks are to leave Fresno next Sunday night after their second clash with the Chicago Cubs here, and on Monday will open with the Pittsburgh Pirates at Oakland for a three-day stand.

FRITZ KNOTHE REPORTS AT CAMP

SAN CLEMENTE, March 17. (AP)—Fritz Knothe, third baseman, reported for his first workout with the Seattle club of the Pacific Coast League, in spring training here, today. Knothe has not yet inked, but has indicated he will do so shortly.

Bob Norton, left-handed first baseman who has just left the army, reported for his first workout, as did also Orison Turner, sophomore first sacker from the University of Florida.

Robert Norton, outfielder from Snohomish, Wash., has been farmed out with the Miami club of the Arizona circuit. Harry Klein, first baseman also scheduled to go to Miami this year, turned in his uniform today and announced he has quit the game.

CHUCK KLEIN SIGNS CONTRACT

WINTERHAVEN (Fla.) March 17. (AP)—Chuck Klein, 1929 home run king of the National League, joined the Phillies today and signed his contract after a conference with Manager Burt Shotton. No figures were announced.

Klein's arrival leaves Fresco Thompson, star second baseman, as the only Phil not in camp. It was said Thompson had no big salary difference to overcome, but some private matter has had much to do with his delay in reporting.

SEALS REWARDED WITH EASY TOIL

MONTEREY, March 17. (AP)—As a reward for their double victory over the Pittsburgh National League teams yesterday, Manager Nick Williams let his San Francisco Seal squad off with only a light workout today. The usual practice game was not played, activities being limited to light fielding and batting practice. The regular training cams grind will be resumed tomorrow.

McGRAW LOPS OFF TWO ROOKIES

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) March 17. (AP)—John McGraw, manager of the New York Giants, wielded his pruning knife on the Giant squad today and lopped off two young limbs for delivery to Bridgeport, Ct. Len Shires, an infielder, whom his brother, the great Art, sent in for a trial, and Art Veltman, who is learning to become a catcher after spending some time in the outfield, departed today for the Bridgeport trainings camp. The Bridgeport club is a Giant farm.

A heavy rain halted this morning's practice, but the Giants got in a snappy workout on the muddy field this afternoon.

ATHLETICS WIN OVER COLUMBUS

FORT MYERS (Fla.) March 17. (AP)—The champion Philadelphia Athletics today defeated the Columbus American Association team, 5 to 3.

Jack McNair knocked a home run with two on base in the seventh. Columbus made five errors and players on both sides stole bases at will.

Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Columbus	3	11	5
Philadelphia	5	11	1

P. Miller, F. Miller, Throop and Devine, Shellfoot; Earnshaw, Dietrich, Walberg, Shores and Cochrane, Schang.

DETROIT LOSES TO INDIANAPOLIS

SARASOTA (Fla.) March 17. (AP)—The Detroit Tigers were held to two hits and lost to the Indianapolis American Association team, 5 to 1, here today.

Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Detroit Tigers	1	2	0
Indianapolis	5	8	0

PITTSBURGH PIRATES BREAK CAMP

PASO ROBLES, March 17. (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates broke camp today to start on a long campaign of exhibition games that will end at New Orleans, April 13. Before the Buccaneers left Paso Robles they went through a long and hard batting practice. A three-game exhibition series is scheduled to start with the Missions at San Francisco tomorrow.

MARIN WINS THIRD LAP IN KING OF SPAIN RACE

March when sailed by Ted Conant. The Monidah of San Francisco, skippered by Claire Neuner, was fourth as she has been since the series opened.

It was really a great day for the east coast. Besides the victory of the Marin in the eight-meter class, the Alert IV, Charles Deer Wiman's trim sloop, defender of the Don Lee R class. The East was again well represented when C. L. Farrand's Larchmont Yacht Club sloop Robin, took second honors. trophy, topped the field in the Owen Churchill's Friendship of the California Yacht Club, was third. The Machree of San Francisco, the boat that lost her mast in the first day's series, was fourth. O. K. Hinsaker's Pirate was fifth and the Lady Gay of San Francisco was sixth.

On a point total it appears that Wiman's boat, the Alert IV, will win the trophy in the R class again unless something unforeseen happens. The Alert IV has 17 1-4 points to her total at the present time. The Pirate is second with 13 1-4. The Robin despite all thumbs down that have been turned on her from the opening day when she was unable to appear, has a total of 13 1-4 points. This sloop may surprise them all yet.

San Francisco bounced right into the center of things when that old seadog, Arthur Rousseau, sent his sloop May-be to another victory in the six-meter class. To make matters more promising the Bay City district registered another marker in its favor when Stuart Haldorn skippered the Ayayay to second place in this class. Al Rogers's Synnove took third place with Hook Beardslee in the pilot's seat.

MAYBE LEADS FOR WIN

The May-be has a total of 18 3-4 points in the six-meter class and it seems as though she is headed for sure victory and the Ben R. Meyer trophy. The Ayayay won it last year so it looks as if San Francisco has a toe hold on this class.

Tommy Lee's new sloop Caprice and the Ayayay are tied for second place honors in the total point score to date, with 13 digits apiece.

The regatta will be continued again tomorrow and Wednesday with events in the eight, R-sloop and six-meter classes.

Paul Hiller, general chairman and Chief Starter Jim Webster stated today that the Coast Guar dofficials are due a vote of thanks for their thoughtful co-operation in putting over the regatta, which has been handled better than ever in its history. Lieut. Jewell, B. S. M. Williams, B. S. M. Nolan, B. S. M. Thorpe and C. B. M. Brandanger are the men who the committee named representing the Coast Guard.

Trojan Pucks to Fly North

"Avenging angels," in the form of the Southern California hockey squad, will literally drop in on Oakland Friday to wreak—if they can—woe and havoc on the University of California speedsters. The team will set a precedent by traveling to the northern city by air, Arnold Eddie, assistant general manager, announced last night after a conference with Ad Leonard, district passenger agent for Western Air Express.

Dr. Charles Hartley, coach, announced the following men would make the jaunt:

MAHONEY KAYOED BY MICKEY WALKER

CHICAGO, March 17. (AP)—Mickey Walker, world middleweight champion, and Irish, tonight celebrated St. Patrick's Day by knocking out Jimmy Mahoney, Irish in name only, in the second round of their ten-round final bout at the White City arena. Walker weighed 167 3-4, for the non-title affair, and Mahoney scaled 173 1-4.

Walker's opponent, a Polish youngster who adopted "Mahoney" as a ring name, punched the champion about in the first round, but was completely outclassed from the time the bell opened the second, until he was out cold. Walker knocked him down twice for short counts, then nailed him with a left hook to the chin to finish the battle.

TOMMY LOUGHRAN OUTPOINTS RENAULT

PHILADELPHIA, March 17. (AP)—Tommy Loughran's rapier-like left hand jabbed out a victory for him tonight over Jack Renault, former Canadian policeman, in the ten-round main event at the arena. Loughran, fighting as a heavyweight since relinquishing his light heavyweight title, scaled 190 pounds, Renault 210.

It was Loughran's first appearance in the home town ring for nearly two years and the arena was packed.

Tonight the fans saw a bigger if not better Loughran. His added poundage slowed him up a bit, but he was still too fast and too clever for the Canadian veteran.

SEKYRA LOSES BOUT TO ROSALES ON FOUL

BUFFALO (N. Y.) March 17. (AP)—Joe Sekyra lost on a foul in the first round of a ten-round bout with Rosy Rosales of Cleveland here tonight. The men were in a furious mix when Rosales dropped in apparent great pain. The referee consulted Judge Jimmy Collins, who sat right where the men were fighting and on his declaration that he saw the low blow, Sekyra was disqualified. The blow was accidental.

GOUGH WILL COACH AT HUNTINGTON PARK

FORT DODGE (Iowa) March 17. (AP)—John B. Gough, football and athletic coach here for the last six years, resigned his position today to accept a coaching job at Union High School, Huntington Park, Cal.

Gough will finish the high school year here, going to the California school for post-graduate work this summer. He will take up his new duties in September.

CUBS VANQUISH HOLLYWOODERS

five-inning stay on the mound. The only run scored off him resulted when George Steward, the promising young Angel shortstop, who was loaned to the Cub second team for the games down here, smacked a homer into the left-field bleachers.

There were three home runs made during the fray, Slug Tolson and Mike Gazella joining Stewart in the circuit-clouting class. Tolson's homer was well-kissed, the ball landing high up in the deep center-field stands.

The Cubs got to Yde for their first two runs in the opening round when, after Jones walked and Heathcote and Taylor had been retired, Tolson belted one out into home-run territory.

Hollywood got one run back in its half of the round. A walk to Carlyle and hits by Rumler, Heath and McNeely being cashed in for a counter. Steward cut off another Sheik tally in this frame with a sensational stop of McNeely's single. Steward took the ball back of the grass and almost forced Rumler at third. It was a remarkable play.

Gazella pounded one into the bleachers in the third inning to tie the score. Carlyle followed with a single and Rumler walked. While Bell and Blair were retiring Heath at first, Carlyle legged it home from second to put Hollywood in front.

Turner started pitching for the Stars in the fifth and served one up to Steward that just suited the young shortstop. The ball wound-up its ride in the bleachers and the count was 3-all.

The Stars missed a golden opportunity to score in the sixth when Brannon, after doubling to center, over-ran McNeely at third in an effort to stretch the blow into a triple. There was but one out at the time. Again in the seventh the Sheiks threatened and had the bases filled with two away only to have Heath fly to Taylor for the third out.

Blair worked Hollerson for a walk with one away in the eleventh and scored when Schulte doubled to center.

Brannon reached first on Layne's error in the Hollywood half of the eleventh but McAfee struck out Severeid and Brannon was doubled trying to steal second to end the game.

The Cubs and Stars meet here again tomorrow in the final game of their San Diego series.

Oscar Vitt announced today that four Hollywood rookies were released. The four getting the ax were Stan Depaolo, catcher; Red Smith, outfielder; Frank Smith, pitcher, and Frank Jacoby, outfielder.

TRACKFEST CALLED OFF

The Oxy frosh track meet billed with the Glendale High School yesterday was called off due to a postponed meet between the Glendale and Pasadena preps. Coach Joe Pipal has scheduled a meet for his peagreen proteges next Friday afternoon on Patterson Field with Clarence Eber's Belmont High sprinters as a final workout before the Pomona conference meet next week.

OAKLAND PUCKS TRIUMPH

Sheiks Defeat Los Angeles Ice-Hockey Team in Fast Game at Garden by 5-to-2 Score

The Oakland Sheiks defeated the Richfield Oilers by a 5-to-2 margin last night in a fast hockey game staged at the Winter Garden Ice Palace. The northern team took the lead early and despite a terrific rally put on by the Oilers they were never headed.

Payne, King Hard at Work

Cecil Payne and Rickie King are hard at work getting in shape for the main event at the Hollywood American Legion Stadium Friday night. Payne is one of the best drawing cards Tom Gallery has grabbed off in months. He is a crowd pleaser and just the type that the stadium followers like. Payne dropped a decision to Johnny Lamar, but it didn't hurt him any because it was a fight that pleased. Revenge is what Payne seeks, but before getting it he is satisfied to meet King and let the winner of the fight Friday night get the Lamar shot.

There are some speed merchants on the stadium bill this week. A promising boy is Sammy Seaman who fights Sid Torres, the Filipino bantamweight in the semi-wind-up. Torres is good but Seaman rates better.

A Mexican boy named Vincent Martinez breaks into the Hollywood stadium and he is touted as a comer. He looks like Bert Colima when he was a youngster, according to boxing men. Bert Lamb fights Martinez and while Lamb may be favorite, Martinez is expected to cop the duke.

Carnera weighed 271 pounds and Wiggins 207.

The Italian's manager, Leon See, said Carriera showed improvement over his previous fights, and added Carnera now is ready to meet "Sharkey, Dempsey or anybody."

Promoter Malloy declared after the fight that the crowd established a new American record for attendance at an indoor sporting exhibition. The arena seats approximately 20,000 persons and several additional thousand stood.

Hec Fowler, Oakland goalie, withstood the attack of Richfield in the last period in splendid fashion. Guy Poole was the only Richfield player to slip the puck by him for a score in the final period.

Oakland ran wild in the second session to tally three goals. At the start of the period Fennell, Saundercook and Giroux started a drive down the ice, with Fennell finally scoring. Both Giroux and Saundercook got assists on the play. Five minutes later the same trio came down again with Giroux tallying this time, while Fennell got an assist.

With less than a minute to play and only three Oakland men left on the ice, there was a mix-up in front of the northerners' goal. Bond, the Oakland defense man, gave the puck a mighty heave to get it out of the way and it went straight down the ice and between Goal Keeper Vaughn's legs for the third score of the period.

The northerners jumped in to a 3-1 lead at the end of the first period. Los Angeles scored first when Guy Poole took a pass from Rube Brandow and slipped it into the Oakland net. However, the Oilers' lead didn't last long, for Bud Cook evened it for Oakland on a solo sprint down the ice. A few minutes later Vokes tallied again on a pass from Cook.

SHELL OIL SKATERS DEFEAT ARROWHEADS

The Shell Oil ice hockey team tripped the Arrowhead Valley Club last night at the Palais De Glace by a 3-to-1 score to take the lead in the Southern California Senior Amateur Ice Hockey League. Buster Smith was the star of the game. He scored two goals for the Oilers. Steve Krouch tallied the other goal. Johnny Curran scored for Arrowhead. The Oilers exhibited a very nice defensive and offensive game.

RELAY MARK SOUGHT BY H.A.C. MERMEN

A world's record in the 200-yard free-style relay will be in danger Thursday night when four swimmers from the Hollywood Athletic Club don their speed togs in one of the feature events of the invitational swimming meet at the H.A.C.

Yale University holds the present record of 1:35 3-5, but Coach Clyde Swendsen of the Movie City Club is confident that his team will write this mark right off the records Thursday. It is likely that the record-attempting team will consist of Billy Hoffman, Weston Kimball, McGowan Miller and Frank (Red) Walton.

As an added feature, Swendsen also is trying to arrange a match 220-yard race between Kimball, the H.A.C.'s crack sprint paddler, and "Buster" Crabbe of U.S.C.

SPORTS SKETCH BY FEG MURRAY

pretty fair for a boy who first learned his baseball in an orphan asylum, why you've been brought up on Horatio Alger and can't see that "Ruth is stranger than fiction!"

In spite of the risk of boring you with statistics, especially at this time of the year, when income-tax returns are driving everybody nutty anyway, here is a list of a few of George Herman the Great's records, listed numerically from 1 to 10.

(1.) Babe ranked first in earned run averaged among all the American League pitchers in 1916.

(2.) Ruth once hit two home runs with the bases full in two consecutive games.

(3.) He once hit three home runs in three consecutive times at bat, and he hit three homers in one world series game, twice.

(4.) The Bambino was once walked four times in one world series game, and hit fifty or more home runs in four different seasons.

(5.) He batted .300 or better in five world series, and once hit five homers in three consecutive games.

(6.) He led his league six years in batting in runs, and hit six homers in four consecutive games.

(7.) He led his league seven years in long hits, and socked seven homers in five consecutive games.

(8.) He led his league eight years in runs scored, and bases on balls, hit forty or more home runs in eight different years, and made two home runs in one game eight times in one season.

(9.) Played in nine world series and batted in 100 or more runs in nine different seasons.

(10.) Ruth led his league in home runs ten different years.

M'LARNIN DEMANDS HOLD UP FIELDS GO

Bruen made some progress with Pop Foster, manager of McLarnin, but finally was stopped for the day by the Irishman's demand for 37½ per cent of the gate receipts, the same percentage that must be guaranteed Fields, the champion. Another conference will be held this week.

THE WILLS "DETECTIVE"

THE next Pacific Southwest tennis tourney, one of the real classics of the West, is likely to see Helen Wills Moody as a contender.

Generally speaking, there appears to be no reason why the world's champion shouldn't compete in a tournament so near her home town of Berkeley.

The reason undoubtedly lies in the unfavorable publicity the queen of the courts received two years ago when she failed to appear because of an alleged blistered heel.

"You ought to come to Los Angeles for this tournament next fall," a friend told her during the invitation tournament at the Hotel Huntington over the week-end.

"Well, I might at that," returned the champion, "if they don't put a detective on my track."

It was the "detective" who tracked the Berkeley miss in the north and reported that though unable to play in the Pacific Southwest tourney Miss Wills was able to play tennis with her fiance.

Apparently the "detective" should have recalled that "all is fair in love and war," and that at the particular time Miss Wills was wanted in the south to knock off a few love sets of tennis she was much more interested in a game of real love in the north.

A GODFREY CAMPAIGN

JAMES DOUGHERTY, the Baron of Leiperville, is permitting no moss to grow under his feet these days.

He has enlisted the services of the New York Daily Mirror, which is running a series of articles calculated to drive Primo Carnera into the open and make him meet Mr. Dougherty's black charge, George Godfrey.

In addition, the articles are intended to prove that the black man has been discriminated against by the New York and Philadelphia commissions and others.

Some of the evidence is contained in these four points:

(1.) George Godfrey was signed to meet Billy Owens, the same mug whom Carnera flattened in two heats in Kansas City. Up stepped the Kansas City solons with a big "No," and "No" it was.

(2.) George Godfrey was matched to meet Big Boy Peterson, the same gazabo whom Carnera flattened in his debut at Canton, O. Up stepped the Ohio commissions with a big "No," and "No" it was.

(3.) George Godfrey was signed to fight Jack Renault in Philadelphia. Renault held a knockout victory over George, and "bested" the colored giant on another occasion. But up stepped Frank Wiener, chairman of the Pennsylvania commission with a big "No," and "No" it was.

(4.) George Godfrey was matched to fight Elzear Rioux, the same guy who went down six times in less than a round for Carnera at Pittsburgh. Once again Chairman Wiener took the floor with a big "No," and "No" it was.

"So you see," says Dougherty (quoting from the Mirror,) "Carnera can go around knocking off all the pushovers, but an honest pug who can't get work with the top-notchers and is willing to take on anyone to make a living, can't get a match sanctioned.

"Folks, if there's no color line shown here, there never was a color line in boxing. Not even when Harry Wills was the 'menace.'"

TRIPLE-THREAT STARS

THE triple-threat deeds of Harlow Rothert, former Los Angeles High School boy, are not to go unchallenged.

Mr. Kenneth Rowe, this city, offers a few words about other triple-threat stars, namely, Jesse Mortenson and Jess Hill:

"I just read an article in the Sunday Times about the Merriwell deeds of Harlow Rothert, Stanford athlete. Well, that doesn't cut any ice. What about these two home-town boys of University of Southern California—Jesse Morenson and Jess Hill.

"Mortenson, if I remember correctly, is not only a triple-threat man, he's a four-sport man. He has made a letter in all four of the major sports, starring in each. And what about this Jess Hill? He's national intercollegiate broad-jump champion, fastest football back on the Coast last year and holds down the third sack on Sam Barry's baseball varsity this year.

"Mortenson has just completed a very successful season on the basketball team, being all-coast center. In football Mortenson would have been a great half except for injuries. As a javelin tosser he certainly has shown up well, rising from a very mediocre thrower to one of the best in the dear old U.S.A. inside of one year. The last sport—baseball—has not held as much attention as the rest because of the fact that the season comes at the same time as that of track. However, he did make his letter in this sport.

"This letter is not written against Rothert, who certainly is a fine all-around athlete, but it is just a reminder that there are some great athletes right here in our own community as well as other places."

TENNIS CUPS

APROPOS of the midwinter tennis tourney at Pasadena Mr. William Mellors Henry, a husband, has a tip to offer a fellow-husband in the new Mr. Helen Wills Moody.

In the days of her competitive career Mrs. Henry won many cups. She was one of the Southland's best doubles players, and also starred in singles.

Engraving of the cups was left for other days. The day finally arrived, and now Mr. Henry finds it will cost him something like $350 to have these cups of assorted years engraved.

He suggests that Mr. Moody profit by his example.

BRUIN FROSH FACE JAYSEE TRACKMEN

The much-abused Bruin frosh track-and-field team is scheduled to meet the Santa Monica Junior College trackmen today on the Westwood oval. According to the U.C.L.A. mentor, Guy Harris, the beach team is in for a strenuous afternoon. Harris believes that he has found several sprinters who will be capable of showing their heels to the field tomorrow. The sprints have been the freshmen's weakest event, and if they are able to chalk up a few points in the sprints, they will probably score an overwhelming victory.

BRUIN TRACKSTERS TO MEET CALTECH

The U.C.L.A. track and field team will probably be a heavy favorite to down the Caltech tracksters when they meet at Pasadena this Saturday.

Chuck Smith, stellar Bruin sprinter, is expected to break the school record for the 220-yard dash of 22 3-5s., which is held jointly by Watson and Hill. Smith has already bettered the mark in practice. His best time being 21.9s.

Another school record which is in danger is the discus throw. The present mark of 134ft. 7in. was made by Drummond in 1927. Dick Cuthbert has come within eighteen inches of this throw several times. Cuthbert's steady improvement in this event has caused his coach have a great deal of faith in his ability.

LEWIS ACCEPTS DEFI

"Strangler" Agrees to Meet La Doux in Headlock Battle at Olympic Tomorrow

Ed (Strangler) Lewis has accepted "Gorilla" Gene La Doux's challenge and will meet the wild French-Canadian in a headlock battle when they meet in the Olympic ring tomorrow night in one of the two finish bouts scheduled by Promoter Lou Daro.

La Doux stated yesterday he would have Lewis ready to be carried out of the ring on a stretcher if the former champion would meet him in a headlock battle. He declared Lewis had seen his best days; his headlocks were weak, and Lewis himself was all "washed-up" as a wrestler.

Aside from that, and the fact that Lewis ran out of a match with him in Montreal last year, La Doux believes the former champion is due for the worst headlocking he has ever received in his wrestling career. The French-Canadian mat star hopes to make a good enough showing against Lewis tomorrow night to be in a position to ask for a title battle with Champion Gus Sonnenberg before he meets Everett Marshall. He was signed a few days ago to meet the airplane-spin exponent here in the near future.

Lewis lost no time in accepting La Doux's challenge when he heard of the latter's boasts. He stated that La Doux would be very fortunate if he still is in a standing position at the end of fifteen minutes of wrestling.

La Doux went through a whirlwind workout at the Main-street gym yesterday afternoon, and looked to be in very much better condition than he was the night he met Nick Lutze here. He is confident of a victory.

Lutze will clash with Dr. Karl Sarpolis in the other finish mat battle. It will be the first finish bout between this pair and a sensational battle is looked for. Steve Strelich will meet Jim Reynolds in the opener.

Campbell is a Volunteer for Charity Show

Frankie Campbell yesterday volunteered his services to box on the benefit entertainment show to be given at the Olympic the 27th inst., proceeds going to the tubercular patients of the World War in the government hospitals.

FRANKIE CAMPBELL

The show is sponsored by the American Legion Star Post No. 309. Frank Dewar of the Sheriff's office who is chairman of the program committee has secured splendid talent.

The benefit is being made possible through co-operation of Warner Brothers, M.-G.-M., R.-K.-O., Universal, Promoter Jack Doyle and others.

Plan Dinner in Honor of Loyola Coach

Tom Lieb, Loyola College football coach, will be given a testimonial dinner at the Ambassador Hotel a week from Thursday, it was announced yesterday. The meeting will also be a sort of reunion for all old St. Vincent students.

TOM LIEB

George L. Eastman of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce will be chairman of the evening and Frank Fay master of ceremonies. Lieut.-Gov. Carnahan will represent Gov. Charles Young and Mayor John Porter will extend the welcome for the city of Los Angeles.

It is expected that over 500 people will attend the dinner.

Fourteen-year-old Catherine Rawls of Hollywood, Fla., placed second with Ann Kuba of the Cleveland Athletic Club in third place.

Miss Madison made an attempt during the morning to set a new record in fifty meters, long course, trial against time, but the best the Seattle flash could accomplish was a tie with the former mark of 31s. The record was established by Ethle Lackie of the Illinois Women's Athletic Club, December 31, 1925, in Coral Gables.

Team standings at the end of the carnival follow:

WALT MAY FAVORED BY SPEEDWAY FANS

Walt May, the "Driving Fool" of the local auto-racing colony, has become one of the choice bets of fans to grab the pot of gold at the end of next Sunday afternoon's 100-lap race at the American Legion Speedway, it was indicated here yesterday. Fans have already started picking winners of Sunday's sweepstakes, which will attract fourteen of the fastest dirt-track stars in the country, and May appears to be the early favorite.

WINDSTORM FAILS TO HURT FISHING BARGE

HERMOSA BEACH, March 17.—The recent heavy wind and rain storm failed to do a particle of damage to the big Olympic fishing barge, anchored two miles offshore here, according to Capt. J. M. Anderson, skipper of the huge pleasure craft. With perfect fishing weather now prevailing, Anderson believes it won't be long before the heralded early run of barracuda starts. Daily catches on board the Olympic are still led by mackerel, with perch and sandabs also biting well.

JUNIOR COLLEGE TRACK ATHLETES IN TRY-OUTS

Tryouts for the squad that will represent the Southern California Junior College Conference against the University of California Bears in a track meet to be held Saturday at Berkeley will be held today on the Chaffey Jaysee oval. Originally the men were to be picked from the first and second-place winners in the all-conference meet which was to be held last Saturday.

Among the stars competing in today's event who are practically sure to take the trip to Berkeley Saturday are Jefferson, pole vaulter; Treharne, Barnes and Slocum, sprinters; Perrie, Minch and Abersold, long-distance men, and Henry Lasalette, high-jumper.

OCCIDENTAL NINE TO MEET JAYSEE TODAY

Coach Bill Anderson's Occidental nine crosses bats with the Pasadena Junior College team this afternoon on the Oxy diamond. Though a practice affair, the game should be very close as Pasadena boasts the strongest jaysee swatters in their league. The Tiger mentor has a potent team judging by the 11-1 drubbing they administered to the U.C.L.A. nine last week. De Hoog, star southpaw Bengal flipper, allowed the Bruins but one hit.

The Oxy infield has been revamped and improved by shifting Capt. Billy Adams to first base and Meb Schroeder to the hot corner, and Larry Dimter is now covering short in fine style. Ernie Johnson will chuck against the Pasadena crew with Eppinette behind the plate. Anderson is saving De Hoog and Stoney Johnston to work the California Bank game scheduled for tomorrow.

CHAMPIONS TO DEFEND TITLES

The 60-yard dash is anybody's race, with Jimmy Daley, present champion, busy with his studies at Holy Cross.

The East will get a peek at Lee Sentman, record-shattering hurdler from the University of Illinois, when he hooks up with Montey Wells, Sol Furth and other eastern aces.

Billy Townsend Here for Fight With Santiago

BILLY TOWNSEND

He is to meet Santiago in a rematch at the Olympic April 1. Himself on the verge of a knockout in the sixth round, Townsend won the bout when the Cuban fainted in his corner during the intermission and was unable to answer the bell for the seventh.

Both boys suffered terrific punishment in the sixth round, and Townsend barely was able to stagger to the center of the ring to have his hand hoisted.

Townsend was accompanied here by his father, Jack Townsend; his younger brother Joe, and his manager, Jack Allen. Townsend will train in the city while Santiago probably will do all his work at Soper's.

TROJANS MEET MERCURY TEAM

the javelin for Capt. Jess Mortensen of the Trojans is capable of bettering 200 feet. Should DeMers be missing, the same absent treatment will be accorded him as in the case of Brix.

Some of the best races on the program should be the hurdle events, featuring Dick Pomeroy and Bob Maxwell of the club against Jeddy Welsh, Ernie Payne and Bill Carls of the Trojans. Pomeroy has one decision over Welsh in the highs this season, scored at Long Beach.

The relay ought to be a corker for at Long Beach the Mercuries forced the Trojans to do 3m. 19 4-5s. At that the Mercury team was not the best the L.A.A.C. can place on the field.

If Comstock runs Ray Alf in the quarter, as he plans at present, this should be a great battle, what with Pearson and Williams doing their stuff for the Trojans.

Cromwell's men have had but one good workout in ten days, that held last Wednesday. They need work and ought to get it Saturday as neither coach will be limited in his entry of men in events.

Pipal did not plan to run his athletes at all this week-end as he is gunning for Pomona the following Saturday. It is unlikely therefore, that the Tigers will strain themselves unduly.

TROJAN NINE WINS

Coach Al Klein's Santa Monica High baseball nine dropped a 7-4 decision to the Southern California Trojan babes yesterday afternoon at Santa Monica. The Vikings blew up in the seventh inning, after holding a 4-1 lead at the end of the sixth.

They said the world was flat and that Columbus was crazy!

JAIL BEATINGS INVESTIGATED

Two Booked on Drunkenness Charges Complain

Eyes Blackened and One Has Ribs Broken

Inquiry Made on Order of Judge Wilson

Investigation into charges that two men were severely beaten in the City Jail following their arrest on a charge of drunkenness Saturday night, was ordered yesterday by William McKay, chief of Dist.-Atty. Fitts's complaint department.

The inquiry was requested by Frank Walker and Floyd H. Young, drivers for a Los Angeles cab company. They assert that shortly after they were brought to the jail, Young rattled his cell door and a jailer appeared, knocking him to the floor and kicking him in the ribs for causing a disturbance.

"At that time I interfered," Walker said, "explaining that my companion was intoxicated and that I would take care of him. The officer then said, 'Oh, you want it, too, do you?' and after beating me to the floor kicked me in the ribs, too."

RIBS FRACTURED

Walker then demanded the service of a physician, he said, and after two hours one was sent to his cell. The doctor applied adhesive tape, remarking that Walker had several fractured ribs.

Sunday morning the two men complained of their treatment when they were taken before Municipal Judge Wilson at Sunrise Court. Judge Wilson ordered the men examined at the General Hospital and urged that an investigation be made by the Sheriff's office. The matter was later referred to the District Attorney.

Walker and Young today will be asked to identify their assailant from a group of police officers.

Judge Wilson said yesterday that he had requested an investigation by the Sheriff's office after Walker and Young had appeared before him on drunk charges in the Municipal Court division at the Central Police Station Sunday morning. He said his attention was drawn to one of the men who was not standing erect and on questioning the man was told of the asserted beatings at the hands of police officers.

DEPUTIES' REPORT

Deputy Sheriffs Toohey and Kinsey yesterday morning were assigned to make an inquiry by Capt. Patton of the morning crew. The officers reported finding Young with his right eye blackened and badly swollen and Walker also with his right eye blackened and complaining of severe pains in the left side. The men, the officers reported, had been taken to Dr. L. W. Fish, jail physician, for examination and returned to the tank after a bandage had been placed around Walker's ribs.

Officers Hansel, Wheatley, Temple and McMillan, on duty at the time of the asserted attacks, had gone off duty at the time the deputies appeared at the jail and were not interviewed, according to the report. The Sheriff's investigators stated that they requested Sergt. Buchanan, in charge of the jail, to have the prisoners taken before the jail physician, who ordered them to Ward 110 of the General Hospital, as requested by Judge Wilson.

Three other prisoners in the jail tank at the time of the asserted beatings told the deputies they were too drunk to know what had taken place. Another man, the deputies reported, told of seeing a uniformed officer hit a man with what appeared to be a blackjack between midnight and 7 a.m.

Missing Girls of High School Sought in City

A city-wide search was launched by police yesterday for two 14-year-old girls, both students of John Muir High School, missing from their homes since Thursday.

They are Helen Miskovich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Miskovich of 709 East Washington street, and Esther Fairbanks, daughter of Mrs. Myra Baginski of 1711 West Fifty-fifth street.

Before leaving home, the Fairbanks girl packed her best dresses and other apparel and also took a box containing the family savings, the mother told police. The kidnaping theory was discredited by Mrs. Baginski, who said both girls are familiar with restaurant work and probably will be found waiting on table somewhere in Los Angeles.

The Miscovich girl is described as 5ft. 6in. in height and weighing about 119 pounds. The other is 5ft. 2in. tall and weighs about 110 pounds.

RELATIVES SEEK YOUTH

William L. Wilder, 17 years of age, of Colorado Springs, is being sought in Los Angeles, according to word received from relatives yesterday. He was seen last on the 4th inst. He is six feet tall, weighs 150 pounds, has light complexion, light hair and blue eyes which have a habit of squinting. He is believed to be wearing a gray suit and either a light trench coat or dark corduroy coat.

LINGUISTIC SKILL WINS HER FILM JOB

Barbara Leonard

A trip she made abroad as a child yesterday rewarded Barbara Leonard, former San Francisco girl, with a motion-picture contract. She won the contract because she is able to speak in five languages and the fact she can speak these different tongues proved the deciding factor when Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer executives signed her.

Miss Leonard has had success as a stage actress and has appeared in a number of pictures, notably, "Son of the Gods." She is to play the heroine in Willard Mack's new drama of the Northwest, "Monsieur Le Fox," in five different versions, English, Spanish, French, Italian and German.

As a child, Miss Leonard traveled extensively through Europe with her father, an importer, and she attended school in Switzerland, Paris, Rome and Berlin.

Poison Found to Be Responsible for Girl's Death

The death on the 12th inst. of Miss Voe Miles, 21 years of age, of 731 North St. Andrews Place, yesterday was ascribed to strychnine poisoning in the report of a chemical analysis ordered by County Autopsy Surgeon Wagner. As a result of the finding no inquest will be held, members of the family being satisfied now that the young woman committed suicide, according to Chief Deputy Coroner McDonald.

Miss Miles died in Dickey & Cass Emergency Hospital shortly after being taken there in an ambulance from her home, where she stated she had swallowed strychnine. A police investigation followed denials by the family that she had had any reason for wanting to end her life. Dr. Wagner, accordingly, performed an autopsy and then ordered the chemical analysis.

Taft Funeral Scenes Shown in 'Times' Film

Scenes at the funeral of William Howard Taft are shown in the latest Times-Universal News Reel to be exhibited at many local theaters. Various views show thousands standing in the rain to pay last respects as the cortege passed through Washington to Arlington Cemetery where the former President was buried with full military honors. Graham McNamee, favorite radio announcer and talking reporter of the Times-Universal News Reel, describes the event.

Ex-Rail Officer Dies in Park

Death suddenly took Henry C. Stevenson, retired railroad official, yesterday when he fell lifeless in Westlake Park. Papers on the body led to his identification, giving his address at 432 South Alarado street and his former business address as 1101 Frisco Building, St. Louis, Mo.

A son, Henry C. Stevenson, Jr., lives in Amory, Miss.

JAMES RENNIE WILL PLAY LEAD

Lew Cody Signs for Part Opposite Gloria Swanson; Universal Buys Foreign-Made Film; Raymond Hackett in "Let's Be Gay"

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Naturally everyone has been wondering who would play the two leading male roles in First National's talking picturization of "The Girl of the Golden West."

DOROTHY MACKAILL

And First National seems to have signed actors worthy of the parts they are to play. James Rennie and Harry Bannister are the two players who will have the roles, respectively, of John Rand and Johnson, the road agent. Dorothy Mackaill, as will be remembered, is to have the name part.

The picture is to be done almost entirely in color and, of course, with the original dialogue of the old Belasco play, which was so famous twenty years ago.

"The Girl of the Golden West" is indeed to be one of the big First National productions of the coming year.

James Rennie is the husband of Dorothy Gish. He is also a famous Broadway actor. Lately he and Miss Gish have appeared together on the New York stage in "Young Love." Since his debut in New York, Rennie has been kept busy there playing leads in many important productions, including "Shore Leave," "Spanish Love," "The Best People" and others.

Bannister is well known to both stage and screen, and is thought eminently suited to the role of Johnson, the road agent.

It is understood that Dorothy Gish is coming west with her husband, and while nothing is certain about her plans, there is a likelihood that she will appear both on the stage and screen while she is here.

Lew Cody to Play Lead With Gloria

Now that Lew Cody is well again, he is going back to his old profession of acting with renewed zeal.

LEW CODY

And his first role should be inspirational, inasmuch as he is, we hear, to play the lead opposite Gloria Swanson in her next United Artists picture, not yet titled, to be produced at Pathe studios.

Cody has long been a screen star, following an important career on the stage. He has been ill during the past year and a half, but is now quite recovered.

He has, in fact, been well for some time now, but during the illness of his late wife, Mabel Normand, he spent a great part of each day at her bedside.

Studio Signs Actress

A young New York actress, described as brilliant and charming, has just been signed by First National, and has already been given a leading role in a picture.

Laura Lee is her name, and she has been assigned the featured ingenue part in "Top Speed," in which Bernice Claire, Jack Whiting, Joe E. Brown and others will have featured roles.

Miss Lee has until recently been a bright particular light in Earl Carroll's Vanities.

"Top Speed" is an automobile story, but also a musical, written by Harry Ruby, Bert Kalmar and Guy Bolton.

Foreign Film Purchased

What is said to be the greatest picture ever made in Europe has just been purchased by Universal.

The picture is titled "The White Hell of Piz Palu," and probably will be released in this country under the name of "White Hell." It is synchronized with sound and music effects. Paul Kohner is supervising the editing of the English version.

The company filming "White Hell" spent eight months in the high Alps of Switzerland. Piz Palu is one of the greatest peaks of the Alps. Scenes of storm and avalanche, terrific in their sweep and intensity, were obtained through the most arduous and dangerous efforts of the company.

The story is concerned with the plight of three persons who are trapped while mountain climbing, and the human drama is played out in the shadow of the sublimely terrible mountain.

The three principal roles are taken by Leni Riefenstahl, Gustav Diessl and Ernst Peterson. Udet, aviator of Germany, also appears in some thrilling stunts. Story and direction are by Dr. Arnold Fank.

Rowland V. Lee Repeats

Rowland V. Lee, who is officially the oldest inhabitant of Directors' Row, out at Paramount studios, will remain with the Paramount organization for another term of years, we learned yesterday.

Lee first signed with the concern who yesterday took a new lease on his service seven years ago. He has made many of the outstanding successes of the organization.

Theodore Kosloff Returns

Even if Theodore Kosloff is head of what is probably the most famous and successful chain of ballet schools in this country, he was glad, he said yesterday, to return from Dallas, Tex., where he has organized a large school, in order to assist Cecil B. De Mille and M.-G.-M. with artistic detail of "Madam Satan."

Kosloff has ballet schools in Los Angeles, Hollywood, Chicago, San Francisco and Dallas. He recently gave a huge ballet and concert in Dallas, with the aid of the Dallas Symphony Orchestra, at which he himself danced, assisted by his premiere dancers, Miles. Flower and Predowa.

"Big Fight" in Spanish

Arrangements have been made by Samuel Zierler of the James Cruse Productions, to make a Spanish version of "The Big Fight."

Ralph Ince will lend his directorial experience in the producing of this Spanish version, and Andres de Segurola, well-known operatic and screen star, author and linguist, will adapt the story for the Spanish-speaking nations.

Raymond Hackett With M.-G.-M.

Raymond Hackett, who made his talkie debut with Norma Shearer in "The Trial of Mary Dugan," will again appear in her support in "Let Us Be Gay," which Robert Z. Leonard is directing for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

RAYMOND HACKETT

In the picturization of the Rachel Crothers play, Hackett will have the part of Bruce, the juvenile despair of the party.

Marshall and Kemp With Fox

Tully Marshall has just been signed by Fox, we learn, to play one of the three leading parts in "Common Clay." He will have the role of Yates, the attorney.

Matty Kemp has likewise been signed for an important part, that of Coakley.

COLLIE BEING SCOTCH GIVES LITTLE TROUBLE

Biting Mrs. Myra Rulon, 5757 Franklin avenue, once did not make Prince, the Scotch collie belonging to Charles D. Russell, a vicious dog, Superior Judge Hanby ruled yesterday, in the $5092.50 damage suit against the dog's owners.

Not only did Judge Hanby invoke the ancient legal principle that every dog is entitled to one bite, but his decision virtually made a "goat" of Mrs. Rulon's poodle, which, it was testified, provoked the usually docile Prince by yapping and snarling at the big collie.

Russell, a deafmute, testified through an interpreter that his dog was gentle and his trial was conducted by his wife, herself a codefendant in the suit.

Mrs. Rulon testified that she was walking along Franklin avenue near her home, when the collie sprang at her, knocked her down and tore her stockings and coat. She was rendered highly nervous through fear of blood poisoning and hydrophobia, she said.

Mrs. Lottie Poulin, manager of an apartment where Mrs. Rulon formerly lived, accused the poodle. She said Mrs. Rulon's pet had such a vile disposition that maids were afraid to sweep out the apartment. Charles E. Adams, the neighborhood ice man, swore that Prince was not ill-tempered, and habitually scampered about with children. Harold Cavanaugh, the Russell's laundry man, also gave Prince a good character.

LENORE ULRIC HOLDS STAGE

Star is Central Interest in "East of Suez"

Maughan Play is Presented at the Belasco

First-Nighters En Masse See Footlight Favorite

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

Would that she had come in a new play—one radiating the utmost of modernity! So qualified and interesting an actress as Lenore Ulric merits this sort of milieu for her return here on the stage, after a span of years!

Miss Ulric appeared in "East of Suez" last night at the Belasco Theater and drew an audience that would have done honor to a first-line, first-water Hollywood film premiere. There was tribute to her in the form of numerous curtain calls—the constant approach to the grand ovation, which was testimony of the friendly spirit of welcome. The star, too, was approved for the consistency, the earnestness of her performance. She evidenced color, warmth and great sympathy in her portrayal, all of which were distinctly inspiriting.

"East of Suez" is well and pictorially produced. The play is the sort that lends itself to elaborateness, what with the Chinese locale. There is the chance for musical embellishments, for atmosphere and romance.

But the plot of "East of Suez" was evolved a full eight years ago, and in that space of time even the oriental drama moves on. It runs an episodic course, with a triangle situation as its most spellbinding feature, and the influence of environment upon a half-caste woman as its principal fateful element.

"East of Suez" was written by Somerset Maugham, who has provided his share of events exciting in the theater. And, as often happens in the Maugham play, there is a motif of eroticism dealt with.

EURASIAN HEROINE

The chief feminine character of the play was born of an English father and a Chinese mother. She received her schooling in Europe. She had told her fellow-students that her mother was a Chinese princess. She returned to China to find her to be an unprepossessing Celestial of rather common origin. Disillusionment and other causes led to her falling in love unhappily with a man who found it more discreet for his personal advancement, because he was in the diplomatic service, to let the romance take the form of an affair than a marriage.

At the opening of the play she is wedding another. Her quondam betrayer is his best friend. She meets him, and the romance is reawakened and, once reawakened, it persists in varying moods during four succeeding episodes. It all eventually leads to the diplomatist's self-slaughter, and the final line allotted to the heroine, "China is closing in on me."

As a sketch the plot may sound possible—and, if you like the idea, go to see it. But don't lay the blame at my door if you don't like the play that emanates. The third episode and the fourth are the most interesting, I will say, and there is a touch of brisk melodrama in the menace, typically oriental, that hangs over the husband's life during the third scene. But the dialogue is devoid of the usual Maugham subtlety in this play. Indeed, at times it is even a bit crass. And the situations are conventional, and the characters not above stupidity.

EXOTIC ENVIRONMENT

However, there is Miss Ulric and the romance and atmosphere that almost inevitably pervade the play of oriental setting. It is an ideal atmosphere for the star, incidentally, because she can imbue with so much picturesqueness the exotic character. She looked especially fascinating in the opening scene. Her first entrance was even a bit breath-taking. With very slight exception she maintained an admirable poise in the portrayal, though it was not quite possible for her to survive some of the dull and even psychologically bad dialogue allotted her. She definitely appealed with the realism of her tearfulness in the final scene.

Others in the cast are Leyland Hodgson as the girlhood (and subsequent) lover, Elly Malyon as the Chinese mother, and Reginald Sharland as the husband. Both Mr. Hodgson's and Miss Malyon's portrayals are creditable. Kenneth Treseder in a role of some comedy inclinations held attention. John J. Ivancovich was the Chinese menace. Virginia Bradford appears briefly as an English girl visiting the Orient.

The pre-eminent interest in this case is Miss Ulric.

Familiar Name Takes Role in 'Perfect Alibi'

Theatergoers on the Pacific Coast need no introduction, it is said, to Alan Bunce, prominent in the cast supporting Madge Kennedy, star of the A. A. Milne mystery comedy, "The Perfect Alibi," to be presented Monday at the Biltmore Theater.

Bunce is said to be widely known in the West because of his association with dramatic stock organizations in Los Angeles and other California cities. He appeared in the opening of "The Perfect Alibi," when it was presented at the Charles Hopkins Theater in New York. Later, Bunce appeared in that play in Australia and New Zealand.

Besides Miss Kennedy and Bunce, others in the cast include Richie Ling, A. P. Kaye, Barbara Hastings, Horace Sinclair, Sydney Paxton, Leo G. Carroll, Lionel Hogarth, Carson Davenport and Ada Sinclair.

RENEE TORRES IN M.-G.-M. PICTURE

Renee Torres finds herself busy these days. She is now playing a featured role in Buster Keaton's new picture, "Free and Easy," at M.-G.-M. and studying French and Italian along with her Spanish and English for her next production at the Pan-American Studio.

Romberg Musical Ending Its Stay

Josephine Houston

Continues to capably fill the prima donna role in "The New Moon," which is now in its final two weeks at the Majestic Theater. Perry Askam sings the leading male part.

VARYING MOODS IN "AS YOU LIKE IT"

Gilmor Brown Presents Skilled Performance in Play of Shakespeare

BY KATHERINE T. VON BLON

The delightful sylvan adventuring of Shakespeare, "As You Like It," received nicely schooled attention at the hands of the Pasadena Community Playhouse cast in the series of classical matinees.

In this lightsome woodland comedy the immortal bard reveals himself as an enigmatic creature of varying moods, as he speaks from behind the diverse masks of his characters. If at times there seems a bit of incoherence, as in all great souls, there is always the impetuous vigor of the Rennaissance which intrigues through the very vehemence of its veracity, and there is the jest and bombast and naive repartee at times delicately and again boisterously flung.

The scenery as imagined by Janis Muncis held the warm radiance of nature at her best, and the forest scene was especially lovely with the splendor of its glittering fir trees and the shimmering chiaroscuro of sky and sunbeams.

The cast read their lines with considerable comedy, but a proper rhythm and a lack of a really fine sense of Shakespearean technique rather marred the performance.

Gilmor Brown as Jaques more than redeemed the somewhat slovenly performance of the supporting cast with his casual drollery and deft handling of situation and lines. As Orlando, Laddie Knudson was quite a dashing lover, but read his lines with too great gusto and not quite sufficient repression. Mary Duckett revealed herself as a roguish Rosalind. Onslow Stevenson managed the part of Oliver with considerable finesse and Catherine Tirney was a charming Celia.

Noted Baritone May Appear on Chinese Stage

Lawrence Tibbett, star of "The Rogue Song," now in its final four weeks at Grauman's Chinese Theater, is making every effort to complete his eastern concert tour in time to return to Los Angeles and make a personal appearance from the stage of the Chinese.

Tentative plans are already under way for a gala welcome-home night. Stage and screen stars as well as prominent political figures will be invited to participate.

"The Rogue Song," after breaking attendance records at the Chinese, is still playing to large audiences, many of which have seen the picture before. In conjunction with the showing of "The Rogue Song," Abe Lyman and his band continue to receive applause at each performance.

'Cameo Kirby' Scheduled for Fox Boulevard

"Cameo Kirby," noted stage play of the old South, written by Booth Tarkington and Harry Leon Wilson, and which at one time served as a vehicle for John Gilbert, comes to the Boulevard Theater Thursday.

J. Harold Murray, formerly of the New York "Rio Rita" company, sings the leading male role. He has such songs as "Romance," "After a Million Dreams" and "Home Is Heaven." A notable supporting cast of players includes Norma Terris, Robert Edeson, Myrna Loy, Douglas Gilmore, Charles Morton and Stepin Fetchit.

An added attraction for the week is a Harry Langdon comedy, and on the stage Lynn Cowan with his band appear in a specialty called "Rhapsody in Taps."

Oliver Wallace Now at Orpheum

The Orpheum Theater has announced the signing of Oliver Wallace, noted organist, who will start an engagement at the theater tomorrow as featured soloist.

Considered one of the leading organists of the country, Wallace has been featured in several of the largest motion-picture houses. As his opening feature he will present an original musical novelty, "My Radio Dream." "Rio Rita" is the current screen feature.

PARAMOUNT ANNOUNCES NEW FILM

"Sarah and Son" Starts Thursday, Starring Ruth Chatterton

Ruth Chatterton will be seen and heard in "Sarah and Son," which starts at the Paramount Theater Thursday, following the current attraction, "The Vagabond King." In conjunction with this picture, a film comedy featuring Eddie Cantor, called "Getting a Ticket," will be presented.

"Sarah and Son," from the novel by Timothy Shea, is a woman's picture, but one, it is said, that men will enjoy. It was adapted by a woman, Zoe Akins; directed by a woman, Dorothy Arzner; and stars one of the most successful woman dramatic actresses of the screen, Ruth Chatterton. The supporting cast includes Fredric March, the late Fuller Mellish, Jr., Gilbert Emery, Doris Lloyd, William Stack and Philippe de Lacy.

QUARTET PLAYS NEW RESPIGHI

BY ISABEL MORSE JONES

The Bartlett - Frankel Quartet played a new chamber-music work of Ottorini Respighi on Sunday evening which attracted interested attention for its modernistic melodiousness. It is worthy of more hearing because it is rich in musical ideas and well written.

Other numbers on this popular quartet program at the Beaux Arts Auditorium were Mozart's Hunting Quartet and two shorter numbers, the Rachmaninoff Serenade arranged for quartet by Arthur Hartmann and Percy Grainger's "Molly on the Shore." The Serenade contains a beautiful viola part which Emile Ferir distinguished. "Molly On the Shore" is rhythmically delightful.

The personnel of this quartet is typical of the melting-pot which the musical life of this nation has come to be. The leader, Josef Borisoff, is a restless, volatile Russian; Emile Ferir, the well-schooled deep-cultured Belgian, plays viola; Ochi-Albi, whose violoncello playing is outstanding, is from Rumania and judging by the name the second violinist, Anthony Briglio, is Italian.

The quartet series which is given to music lovers at a minimum fee by Mrs. Bessie Bartlett Frankel in remembrance of her father, Albert Griffith Bartlett, will be continued on Sunday evenings at the same place. Next Sunday the program includes a Beethoven quartet.

'Phantom' Will Open Run Soon at Criterion

"Men Without Women" enters its last week at the Criterion Theater tomorrow. On the 26th inst. the Lon Chaney starring film, "Phantom of the Opera," will be shown.

"The Phantom of the Opera" will be presented in the new sound version, in which all the characters talk with the exception of Lon Chaney. The Universal production has been refurbished partly in color, with sequences done in dialogue, and the addition of a 150-piece orchestra. Norman Kerry and Mary Philbin appear with Lon Chaney.

'Song of West' Closing Here

"Song of the West," the all-color musical romance of the days of the gold-seekers, with John Boles, Joe E. Brown and Vivienne Segal, will close its engagement at Warner Brothers' Downtown Theater within the next few days, because of the previous booking arrangements. This film of covered-wagon days has been enjoying popularity at the Downtown. "More Sinned Against Than Usual," the Vitaphone variety, burlesquing the old-time melodrama, will also be shown for the final times during the next few days.

Whispers in the Wings

BY MURIEL BABCOCK

SOL HUROK, the man who organized and brought the German grand opera troupe to America and recently to Los Angeles, says he is going to bring some more good things to this town. In fact, although heretofore New York has been his principal stamping ground, he is contemplating the opening of a Far West office here.

Hurok is planning now for an American tour of the German dancer, Mary Wigman, whom he says will come surely to Los Angeles. Another novel importation by him will be that of the Teatro del Piccolo, musical puppet show founded at La Scala in Milan. It is said to be a complete little theater with principals, chorus and orchestra.

Hurok also has film plans. He sees great possibilities in the production of spectacular screen opera. One of the first things he wants to do is a Russian subject with Chaliapin, the famous basso, as a central figure.

No, Not Noel Madison

While Noel Madison slipped into the star role of "Rope's End" at the Vine-street Theater as Noel Madison, it is now divulged that he isn't Noel Madison at all. He's Noel Muscovitch, son of the eminent actor, Maurice Muscovitch, who recently was seen in the East in the dramatization of Feuchtwanger's novel, "Power."

It seems that Noel has been acting sixteen years under the pseudonym of Madison. He took it from the name of the street on which he was born in New York City.

He just wasn't sure that he wanted to start out on the stage as the son of a famous actor, he explained. He preferred to make his own way. Despite this feeling, wherever he goes the name of Muscovitch follows him and sooner or later all is told.

Father Maurice Muscovitch, better known in England than in America, will be in Hollywood on the 22nd of this month to visit Noel, it was learned. It is said that he will appear in the film version of "Power" for Warner Brothers.

Biltmore to Pictures

Sothern Program Changed

A change in the Wednesday afternoon program of E. H. Sothern at the Philharmonic Auditorium was announced yesterday. Mr. Sothern, instead of talking on "Actors and Actresses of the Past," will give three character portrayals, the third act from "Othello," two scenes from "Hamlet" and will revive the character of Dundreary from that hilarious play of another century, "Our American Cousins." In the evening, as scheduled, he will give the trial scene from "The Merchant of Venice," the murder scene from "Macbeth" and several scenes from "If I Were King," romantic play based on the life of Francois Villon.

The Moores in St. Louis

Clippings mailed to this desk from St. Louis tell of a very jolly occasion there last week when Cleve Moore and Nancy Dover made their respective debuts in "June Moon," while Colleen Moore, her mother and George S. Kaufman, one of the coauthors of the play, sat in the audience and beamed approval. At least, it is hoped that Mr. Kaufman beamed. The accounts weren't specific on that point.

At any rate, H. H. Niemeyer in the St. Louis Post Dispatch, wrote as follows: "The stage and screen got together at the Shubert Theater last night to make the first performance here of Ring Lardner and George S. Kaufman's comedy a sparkling success . . . Moore got right down to business and played his part like an experienced and accomplished trouper . . . He gave a remarkably fine performance . . . Word quickly got around the theater that Miss Moore was in the house and the attention of the audience was pretty evenly divided after that between the play and search for the movie star. They never found her for with her mother she sat, unobtrusively in the center of a filled row and did not remove a sort of poke bonnet which shielded her face . . . Miss Dover as the girl does her part well and is sweet and charming."

"June Moon" is the comedy, as most local playgoers know by this time, which is coming to the Belasco after "East of Suez."

More Little Theater

Ralph Herman, who has done remarkable things in the past at the Cordova-street Playshop, has launched a new little theater. It's in Hollywood at the home of the sculptor, Prince Troubetzkoy, 1141 Gower street. The first dramatic production there under Herman's management and Ralph Matson's direction will be Ibsen's "Doll House," starting next Tuesday evening and running six nights.

United Artists Stage Contains Two Theaters

One of the large sound stages at the United Artists' studios contains two life-size theaters, both of which appear in "Puttin' on the Ritz," now playing at the United Artists' Theater. The larger theater represents a typical New York showhouse, with a more than typical New York revue, in which the hero makes his hit. The smaller one represents a dingy theater in a tough mining town—in which the hero does not make a hit.

"Puttin' on the Ritz" is a story of vaudeville and Broadway, and in it Richman sings a number of songs written for the picture by Irving Berlin. The supporting cast includes Joan Bennett, James Gleason, Lilyan Tashman, Aileen Pringle and George Irving.

TARZAN AND THE JEWELS OF OPAR

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

For a moment Werper gazed at his dead victim. Then he heard the excited shouts of the soldiers running toward him. Soon they would seize him, probably kill him. Terror tore at his heart. He had no desire to die. Never had he so yearned for life as now that he had forfeited his right to live. In despair he turned and fled madly across the compound.

At the gate a sentry halted him. Werper did not pause to parley; he merely raised his weapon and shot down the innocent black. Quickly the fugitive tore open the gates and vanished into the jungle, but not before he had transferred the rifle and ammunition of the dead sentry to his own person. All that night he fled farther and farther into the wilderness.

Dawn came at last, but still the man struggled on. All sense of hunger and fatigue was lost in the terrors of contemplated capture. He could think only of escape. He dared not pause to rest or eat until there was no further danger from pursuit. So he staggered on until at last he fell and could rise no more. How long he fled he did not know, nor where he was.

He fell exhausted and so Achmet Zek, the Arab, found him. Achmet's followers were for running a spear through the body, but the wily Arab would have it otherwise. First he would question this Belgian. It was easier to question a man first and kill him afterward, than kill him first and then question him. Achmet's followers laughed gleefully over their chief's little joke.

POOR OLD BIMBO — ANOTHER COLUMBUS — DREAMER — SHIP BUILDER — GOING TO EXPLORE THE SEA OF MATRIMONY IN SEARCH OF A NEW CONTINENT — THE LAND OF PERPETUAL HAPPINESS AND NO WORRIES — IN HIS LITTLE BOAT — THE GOOD SHIP — WEDDED BLISS.
WAIT TILL ONE OF THOSE BIG WAVES HIT THAT BOAT — OR THE WIDOW STARTS ROCKING HIS LITTLE CANOE WHEN HE GETS OUT IN THE MIDDLE OF THE OCEAN — OR HE GETS STUCK ON A REEF — OR LOSES AN OAR — WAIT TILL THOSE CROSS CURRENTS HIT HIM — WHAT A WRECK THAT LITTLE BOAT WILL MAKE — WHEN IT HITS THE FIRST ROCK
THE RIGHT KIND OF A WIFE IS A GREAT BLESSING TO A MAN ON THIS TURBULENT SEA OF LIFE — A HARBOR IN THE TEMPEST — BUT BOY — OH BOY! — IF YOU GET THE WRONG KIND — OLD KID — IT'S A TEMPEST IN THE HARBOR

I'M GLAD YOUR PILOT FOUND THE PLANE IN GOOD ORDER, COL. MAPLES!
FINE BOYS! AND NOW YOU BE MY GUESTS — AND GO WHERE YOU CALL UP AND DOWN THE COAST!
O'BOY! HOPE MY WHITE FLANNELS AIN'T WRINKLED!
GIVE A LOOK AT MINE, TOO!
SAY! YOU LAY OFF — THAT'S MY JOB — YOU WRITE YOUR LETTERS

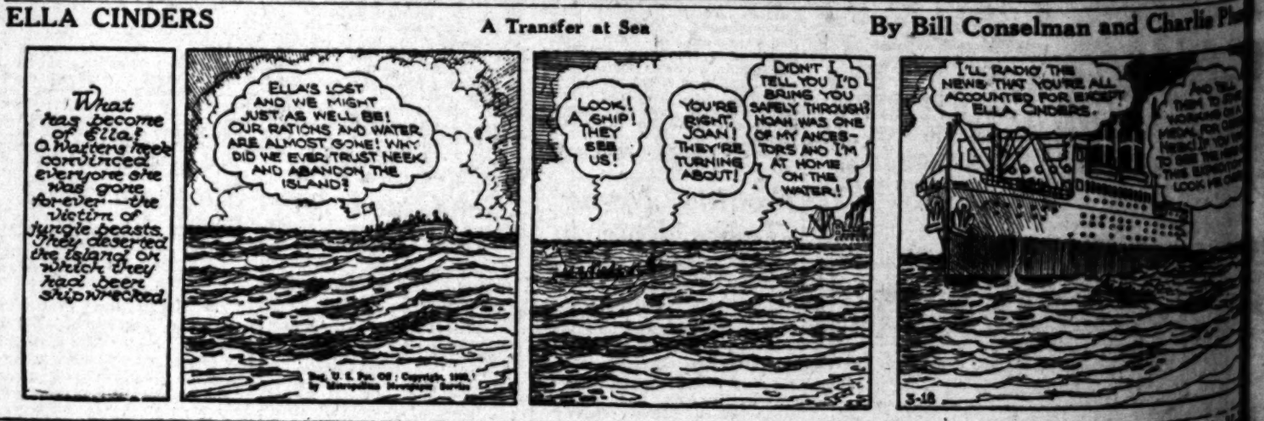
ELLA CINDERS

A Transfer at Sea

By Bill Conselman and Charlie P



What has become of Ella? O'Mallory feels convinced everyone else was gone forever—the victim of jungle beasts. They deserted the island on which they had been shipwrecked.
ELLA'S LOST AND WE MIGHT JUST AS WELL BE! OUR RATIONS AND WATER ARE ALMOST GONE! WHY DID WE EVER TRUST NEEK AND ABANDON THE ISLAND!
LOOK! A SHIP! THEY SEE US!
YOU'RE RIGHT, JOAN! THEY'RE TURNING ABOUT!
DIDN'T I TELL YOU I'D BRING YOU SAFELY THROUGH! NOAH WAS ONE OF MY ANCESTORS AND I'M AT HOME ON THE WATER!
AND TELL THEM TO STOP WORRYING ABOUT MEDAL FOR CONGRESS — THIS EXPEDITION DON'T LOOK ME OVER

COAST NARCOTIC WORK APPROVED

Methodist Ministers Indorse Research Association

Dr. Herwig Stresses Need of Educational Aid

Pastors Debate Question of Uniform Salaries

Indorsement of the work of the Narcotic Research Association of the Pacific Coast was voted by 200 Methodist ministers at First Methodist Church yesterday following an address by Dr. W. J. Herwig, general superintendent of the association, who emphasized the need for more uniform narcotic laws and for an educational campaign to teach parents and their children the evil effects of the use of drugs.

"No punishment could be too severe for the dope peddler,' said Dr. Herwig. "He is worse than a murderer, for he robs countless thousands of health and peace of mind, and is responsible for the majority of our criminals."

A proposition to the effect that the disparity in pastors' salaries should be readjusted by a system whereby churches paying their pastors in excess of $4000 should decrease that amount and distribute the difference among pastors receiving less than $2000 annually was argued by Rev. H. W. White and Rev. Russell E. Clay for the affirmative and Rev. Alfred Inwood and Rev. H. I. Rasmus, Jr., for the negative.

While Mr. White and Mr. Clay declared a true ministerial brotherhood should see to it that each member is supplied with "a living and a cultural wage," Mr. Inwood and Mr. Rasmus contended that a system based on equal salaries would have a tendency to kill initiative and ambition on the part of the ministers.

"Altruism is good, but we must not penalize ability and enterprise," said Mr. Inwood. "Communism has no rightful place today in our political, social, economic or religious life. Besides, few churches ever would raise the salaries of their pastors if they knew that the latter would be taken care of by other churches."

Rotary District Extension Into Mexico Sought

Steps to extend the second district of Rotary International to Tia Juana and Ensenada, Mex., were announced here yesterday on the arrival from the Mexican border in a T.A.T.-Maddux plane of Harvey Lyon, Rotarian district governor.

HARVEY LYON

Lyon, who heads the district that at present embraces 156 clubs in California, Nevada and Hawaii, made the flying trip to Mexico in the interests of the two proposed clubs and to extend an invitation to Southern California Rotarians to attend the district convention in Oakland on May 8 and 9.

He was met at Grand Central Air Terminal by Louis A. Julius, president of the San Fernando Rotary Club, and left last night by train for his Oakland home.

RELENTING PARENTS SEEK HONEYMOONER

Mrs. Arlene Quinn Brooks

FORGIVEN ELOPERS IN HIDING

Parents of Schoolgirl Call Off Police and Ask to Hear from Her

Promise of forgiveness yesterday failed to reveal the whereabouts of Lee Brooks, 20 years of age, and Mrs. Arlene Quinn Brooks, 17, a Glendale High School student, who eloped and were married over the protests of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Quinn of 1153 Green street, Glendale.

The girl went shopping last Friday and later in the day sent a note to her parents announcing her intention to be married. Quinn requested a police search with intentions of halting the wedding, but officers failed to find the pair. Quinn then relented, forgave his daughter and called off the police, but the newlyweds are still missing.

The parents of Brooks, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Brooks, of 432 South Columbus avenue, admitted that they knew of the marriage and were in favor of it. The young couple, they said, have been friendly for two years. The location they gave, however, of the newlyweds' apartment where Mr. and Mrs. Lee Brooks were supposed to be spending their honeymoon proved to be in a court where none of the neighbors know anything about the romance or its principals.

Quinn is reported to have declared that he would not interfere any further in his daughter's plans, but that he would like to hear from her. So far, however, Mrs. Brooks has not communicated with her parents.

LAND SHOW PLANS FOR DAY GIVEN

Los Angeles Will Share Honors With Yolo and San Luis Obispo Groups

With city officials forming a reception committee for visitors and delegates to the California Land Show, Los Angeles will share honors today with Yolo and San Luis Obispo counties at the educational exposition at Washington and Hill streets. At 4 o'clock Mayor Porter will deliver an address of welcome to the thousands of visitors expected from all sections of the State.

Yesterday was devoted to Riverside county and the program brought crowds from that section and its neighbors. Tomorrow will be Sacramento Valley day, under the auspices of the Sacramento Region Citizens' Council. A replica of a river steamer will be the center of attraction.

Tonight the chief feature on the program will be the Band of Nations, composed of forty musicians representing the various nations. A continuous program, beginning at 10 a.m. and closing at 11 p.m., is scheduled for every day this week and ending next Sunday night.

The uncertain weather conditions have not prevented crowds from flocking to the show, which has been open since the 8th inst., Edwin G. Hart, general chairman of the exposition, said last night.

MRS. DUNN'S BODY LAID IN FINAL REST

Pioneer of City and Widow of Lawyer Succumbed Saturday at Home Here

A host of former friends gathered to pay their last tribute yesterday afternoon to Mrs. Nellie M. Dunn, pioneer resident of Los Angeles, who died on Saturday at her home in the Talmadge Apartments following a stroke of apoplexy. Funeral services were conducted at Bresee Brothers funeral parlors, with burial taking place in Hollywood Cemetery.

Mrs. Dunn was 69 years of age and was the widow of William E. Dunn, City Attorney for four years and a member of the City Attorney's office for twelve years. He was for many years a member of the law firm of Gibson, Dunn and Crutcher, and died in 1925.

A native of Michigan, Mrs. Dunn came here in 1885 and was active in the early art and social life of Los Angeles. Since the death of her husband Mrs. Dunn had made her home at the Talmadge Apartments.

SUSPECT IN GIRL ATTACK CAPTURED

Youth and Companion Fall in Net at Own Home After Vain Attempt to Flee

Charged with having attacked a 14-year-old girl in her own home, Lee Cate, said by Hollywood police to be 21 years of age, but 18, according to his own statement, is in jail after assertedly hiding since the reported attack Sunday.

The victim's name is being withheld by the police juvenile bureau because of her mother's critical illness.

Cate was arrested late yesterday by Detective Lieutenants Johnson and Carter after they had lain in wait at his home for more than twenty-four hours watching for his return. He lives at 1054 North Kingsley Drive.

While the detectives were "staked out" at that address, John Connell, 18, was seen to enter the rear of the house. The officers were questioning him when Cate entered by the front door. Connell shouted a warning and Cate attempted to flee, while Connell darted out the rear door. Both were caught after short chases.

Before leaving the detectives decided to search the house. They report having found 16½ gallons of alcohol. Accordingly both were charged with possession of liquor in addition to the attack charge against Cate.

STORM TAKES INLAND COURSE

of lightning and an ensuing clap of thunder the belated hail storm struck the Hollywood district with particular intensity. Hail stones as large as peas fell for thirty minutes, covering roofs and ground with a white mantle. Lights at the Universal studio were put out of commission for a short time by lightning, but no serious damage was reported.

Ontario and Upland experienced a freak condition, when the former reported 1.38 inches of rainfall and the latter none, despite the fact that they are virtually adjacent.

Present rainfall is proving highly beneficial throughout the county as a whole, it was stated yesterday following a survey by the office of County Agricultural Commissioner Ryan.

With the exception of more or less damage to local strawberry crops and the possibility of some damage to other small fruits, no unfavorable reports of consequence were received by the office yesterday.

Orange trees were not blossomed sufficiently to be materially harmed by the rain and late cauliflower crops in the vicinity of Downey and Artesia are expected to be superior to early crops because of the precipitation. Citrus crops have been thoroughly irrigated and walnut growers benefited, according to agricultural investigators. The rain was declared to be ideal for grain and truck crops.

WINTER SPORTS

Blanketed with sixty inches of snow as a result of the week-end storm, Big Pines Camp, Los Angeles county's all-year playground in the San Gabriel Mountains, will provide winter sports to visitors for at least another month, officials announced yesterday in urging the public to "come up and frolic in the white mantle."

For forty-four consecutive hours the fleecy flakes fell, breaking all records of the past eight years. In many places the snowdrifts measure fifteen to twenty feet in depth.

Among the winter sports available at the park are skiing, tobogganing and ice skating, and competent instructors are on hand to help beginners.

The playground is reached by way of Palmdale, a distance of 110 miles, or by way of Foothill Boulevard to Cajon Pass, a distance of ninety-six miles. Both routes are in condition, it is reported, the snow having been cleared away by the county's two ten-ton tractors.

Practically all roads to San Gabriel and San Bernardino Mountain resorts were traversable last night, or will be opened today, Automobile Club of Southern California reports state.

Skid chains, however, are required for cars attempting to make their way to the deep snow. A blanket of white yesterday extended across both Southern California's major ranges to depths ranging from fifteen inches to four feet on the level, according to Auto Club observers.

The Los Angeles-to-Bishop road by way of Redland Canyon was reported open again. The Ridge Route and Mint Canyon highways also were reported passable.

The Mt. Wilson toll road was clear last night as far as Henninger Flats, with crews expecting to open it to the summit today. It is possible to get to Big Bear Lake from the desert side through Victorville. Roads were reported clear to Camp Baldy, Forest Home and Idyllwild, with the Lake Arrowhead road probably passable today.

IMPERIAL VALLEY RAIN BRINGS UP PRICES

CALEXICO, March 17. (Exclusive) Intermittent showers this morning brought the total rainfall for the present storm up to .67 of an inch and the season's record to 1.83 inches. Reports received from other points in Imperial Valley indicate that the downfall during the present storm has ranged from .30 of an inch at Imperial to 1.18 of inch at El Centro.

Ranchers residing in Lower California reported that a hailstorm near Hachicera yesterday afternoon piled hail on the ground to a depth of three inches.

Muddy fields around El Centro which caused a two-day recess in the harvesting of the lettuce crop and reduced yesterday's output to sixteen carloads, has reacted to the benefit of lettuce growers in the form of a sharp increase in price.

Daylight-Saving Proposal Loses

The suggestion of the Lincoln Heights Commercial and Industrial Association that the city adopt the daylight-saving plan was vigorously turned down by the City Council yesterday in adopting a report of the Legislative Committee opposing it.

COURT CITES USURY LAWS

Appellate Department Reverses Lower Tribunal Ruling Favorable to Loan Company

Every loan transaction must be measured entirely by the State Usury Act, and neither the Industrial Loan Company Act, nor any other, can be used to evade usury in loans, according to a ruling of the appellate department of the Superior Court.

The ruling was made in reversing a decision in the Municipal Court in favor of the Williams Plan Company against Jose Gaste on a $300 promissory note.

Gaste, according to evidence, was one of the guarantors of a loan made to H. W. Minier by the Williams Plan Company. In the lower court the loan company was given a favorable verdict.

In reversing the decision the appellate department of the Superior Court holds that a train of transactions, involving two loan notes and an investment certificate, on which Minier got a total loan of $271.50, was one integral agreement. The court also found that the sums Minier agreed to pay far exceeded the interest permitted under the State usury law. However, the defendant is not allowed to recover treble the amount involved in the transaction.

Minier, according to the evidence, agreed to purchase a $300 investment certificate in order to obtain a $300 loan. He signed two notes, one for the loan and one for the certificate. The certificate was held by the company to secure the loan. From the loan itself, the company deducted $29.50 for interest and expense, making $271.50 he actually received.

Of the amount deducted the loan concern listed $18 as interest at 6 per cent and the remainder as expenses. The court held that this expense is interest.

Payment of the loan was to be made in forty weeks. If at the end of forty weeks Minier had actually paid 12 per cent interest on the loan, the largest interest allowed by the usury law, the amount would have come to $25.06, the court pointed out. But since he would be paying all the while and the principal thus be steadily decreased, the amount of interest which could lawfully be charged would be much less even than that.

"If we consider that the other note, the loan note," says the opinion, "which calls for the payment of $300 in one year, with interest at 6 per cent, we find that it contains no provision for its payment before maturity and no interest has been credited upon it whatever the purpose of the deductions from the loan may have been. It, therefore, requires the payment of $18 more as interest, which would increase the amount of usury on the loan.

"We do not think the charge of usury is evaded by the device of taking two notes from the borrower, each equal to the amount of the loan applied for, issuing in his name a certificate of investment which is to be paid for by one note and held as security for the payment of the other," says the opinion.

The opinion was drawn by Superior Judge McLucas, presiding judge of the court and concurred in by his two associates, Superior Judges Shaw and Bishop.

CURB PUT ON DAM FUNDS

Supervisors Deny Eaton Request for Money to Carry on San Gabriel Canyon Inquiry

The Board of Supervisors yesterday decided that no more county money will be spent on the recently abandoned high dam site in San Gabriel Canyon except on specific approval of the board.

The action was taken on a request of County Flood Control Engineer Eaton for an appropriation of $500 to conduct a study to determine whether a substitute dam can be erected at the site in place of the abandoned high dam.

REQUEST DENIED

Supervisor Graves moved that the request be denied and that Eaton be instructed not to do any more work at the site except on direct order of the board. The motion was adopted.

Abandonment of the high-dam were abandoned following a landslide at the dam site last fall and since then Supervisor Graves has held steadfastly to the view that the county should not incur any additional expenses for work at that site.

Abandonment of the high dam project left a total of $21,000,000 bond money in the county coffers which, according to legal opinion, cannot be used except for the purpose of "conserving and controlling" the flood waters of the San Gabriel River.

SURVEY MADE

With a view toward building a number of lower dams in the upper stretches of the San Gabriel River system, Engineer Eaton is conducting a survey of the east and west forks to determine whether there are available sites.

The board approved a request of Eaton for $500 to cover expenses of a preliminary study of flood-control work to be done in the Big Tujunga and Little Tujunga canyons.

WE MUST HAVE THIS WATER

is evident that the water system can easily carry this additional burden.

As to how much water will be obtained, it is estimated the dependable supply from the Mono Basin creeks in dry years will be 130 to 138 second feet, the average flow over a twenty-year period having been 180 second feet, but having dropped during this dry cycle to 138. The remainder of the water needed to fill the aqueduct to 440 second feet is to come from Owens Valley, where underground water is being tapped at the present time to augment the surface supply. At present some 250 second feet (about half the flow into Haiwee Reservoir) is being pumped from wells, at considerable expense. The purchase of more surface water rights and the development of Mono Basin will greatly reduce or eliminate this pumping bill.

It must not be imagined that when the Colorado aqueduct is built, if it ever is, the present aqueduct will be a back number and the supply from Inyo and Mono counties no longer needed. Their supply will be required always for the higher levels of the city, which cannot be supplied from the Colorado except at great expense for pumping. But the Colorado aqueduct is not a certainty, and it may be delayed for years. Not a shovelful of earth has yet been removed to start its construction. The city cannot afford, in any case, to wait for it. And any water brought to this section of the State will always be salable.

All things considered, there can remain no doubt in the mind of any reasonable man that this water program is proper and necessary, that its expense is not too great for the benefits that will result, and that it should be put under way at once. The city not only can afford the expenditure, but cannot afford not to make it. Too much is at stake.

There was a time during the summer of 1929 when there was only a twenty-day supply between the city of Los Angeles and an uncomfortable shortage, a shortage which would have meant grave loss to the San Fernando Valley and curtailment of domestic water supply all over the city. In all probability the margin will be drawn as close this summer, and next year, if this program is not carried through, the margin will disappear. The improvements will mean that there will be a seventy-nine days' supply on hand at the peak of the city's demand, a safe and comfortable margin, but none too much for prudence.

These bonds should be voted.

ramifications of the asserted plot are believed to cover a wider field.

"It is highly possible," Fitts said, "that the new inquiry of the grand jury will disclose reasons for the asserted payment of the $75,000 in marked $1000 bills."

In regard to the appointment of Stafford, whose acceptance was tendered yesterday, Fitts said:

"I have appointed Attorney Frank Stafford as special prosecutor in the complete investigation of the Julian matter. The appointment was made at the request and after a conference with Foreman Morris of the grand jury.

"Avenues heretofore closed in the Julian investigation have been opened by the developments in the Lavine and Johnson case, and the use of a special prosecutor was decided upon at a conference with the grand jury committee."

CHOICE APPROVED

"We do not know how far the inquiry will lead. Both the grand jury and this office will follow developments as far as we can go, and as far as the evidence substantiates.

"I intend to recommend to the Board of Supervisors that it give us Mr. Stafford, a man of unimpeachable character, to devote his entire time to ferreting out every available bit of evidence that will assist us.

"Mr. Stafford will be remembered as special counsel for the 1928 'clean-up' grand jury."

The appointment of Stafford was approved later in the day by the Board of Supervisors and he began his new work at once.

KEYES'S LAWYERS DENY STORY OF DEFENSE FUND

Denial that Charles Crawford, real-estate man and politician, ever was approached for money for the defense fund of Asa Keyes, convicted former District Attorney, or that Morris Lavine, a former newspaper man, was authorized to collect $5000 with which to finance Keyes's proposed appeal to the United States Supreme Court, was made yesterday by attorneys for Keyes.

The denial followed revelations in the grand jury transcript of the investigation of the asserted Lavine-Johnson $75,000 extortion plot where Crawford testified that he contributed to a fund of $25,000 for Keyes's defense, and that Lavine attempted to obtain from Crawford $5000 for the proposed appeal.

The flat denial of Crawford's grand jury assertions was made by Milton M. Cohen and Paul W. Schenck, the latter of whom was Keyes's chief defense counsel.

"We have never received one penny or any other sum," the attorneys wrote in a formal denial, "from Charles Crawford, or in any way whatsoever contacted him with reference to receiving any money for or in behalf of Mr. Keyes; we have never authorized, directed or known of any effort made, or being made, by Morris Lavine to obtain any money from Charles Crawford, or any one else, for the purpose of carrying on Mr. Keyes's appeal, or for any other purpose in connection with Mr. Keyes's case.

"The truth of the matter is that the writers hereof—through a sheer desire to maintain the safeguards for human life and liberty, which are our cherished heritages from the founders of this Union—volunteered our services and paid the entire costs thereof, except in so far as two personal friends of Mr. Keyes saw fit to aid us, in a very small degree, in defraying the actual expenses thereof."

Veteran Deputy Gets Badge No. 1

In recognition of his thirty years of service as a deputy sheriff, Undersheriff Wright has issued badge No. 1 to Joseph Sepulveda, veteran investigator of the homicide detail. Sepulveda, who for a number of years carried badge No. 2, became entitled to the new number as the officer longest in the service of the county. Badge No. 1 was for years regarded as the sole prerogative of Martin Aguirre, who died about a year ago.

Sepulveda, who is credited with the solution of many major crimes, became a deputy sheriff at 29 years of age. He has seen service under four sheriffs. He was born in Los Angeles.

ACTRESS TELLS SECRET
Tells how to Darken Gray Hair with a Home-Made Mixture.

Joicey Williams, the well-known American actress, recently made the following statement about gray hair, and how to darken it, with a home-made mixture:

"Anyone can prepare a simple mixture at home that will gradually darken gray, streaked or faded hair, and make it soft and glossy. To a half pint of water add 1 ounce of bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound, and ½ ounce of glycerine.

These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. This will make a gray-haired person look twenty years younger. It will not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off."—(Advertisement)

"Intolerance" Charge Hurled at Smoot as Debate Grows Fiery
WASHINGTON, March 18. (AP)—Provisions for censorship of imports of foreign literature were restored to the tariff bill tonight by the Senate.
The action, on which no record vote was taken, ended two days of debate fraught with vigorous and picturesque attacks upon the principle and the application of censorship.
It came on adoption of a modified amendment sponsored by Senator Smoot, Republican, Utah, who was the center of a day-long debate amid cries of "intolerance" and calls for protection against influences termed "corrupting." This amendment restores that section of the tariff bill eliminated by an amendment by Senator Cutting, Republican, New Mexico, but with modifications accepted by Smoot in course of the debate.
TERMS OF AMENDMENT
As it now stands, the section would provide for seizure of literature held to be "obscene, immoral or treasonable." Destruction would be held up, however, until the matter was adjudged by a jury in a Federal District Court and until appeals from that decision had been taken
